4 Highway Patrolmen Are Killed By Gunmen

One Is Captured; Another Found Dead

SAUGUS, Calif. (AP)—One of two men accused of killing four highway patrolmen in a gun battle committed suicide today, authorities reported. His body was found by a force of officers in gas masks and wearing flack jackets who stormed a house where he had been besieged for six hours.

For five hours he had held a householder hostage before releasing him unharmed. The other gunman, wounded by officers, was captured earlier in a canyon.

The four highway patrolmen were killed after they stopped a car whose occupants were reported to have brandished guns at motorists on a freeway. After the shootout, the two fled separately on foot.

Jack Wright Twinning, 35, took refuge in the isolated house atop a hill in brushy country 35 miles north of Los Angeles about 4:15 a.m. and sporadically exchanged shots with a force of several score officers until his capture about 10:15 a.m.

Mrs. Glenn S. "Steve" Hoag and her son, Jeffery, 17, escaped but Hoag was held captive until released unharmed a ittle after 9 a.m.

When Hoag came out he said Twinning had a quantity of weapons but seemed running low on ammunition.

During the ensuring siege helicopters hovered over the three-bedroom home, atop a hill overlooking the freeway, and a sheriff's sniper specialist took up position atop a gas station until bullets drove him away.

Officers stormed the house with pistols and shotguns after warning Twinning to surrender.

During much of the siege they had negotiated with him by telephone, and he said at one point he was thinking of taking his life.

At one time Twinning shouted when told to surrender: "I'll be dead if I walk out."

While investigating reports that two men in an automobile had been pointing guns at motorists along the Golden State Freeway, two of the slain patrolmen spotted a car, answering the description, parked in front of J's Coffee Shop just off the freeway. They radioed for help and a second patrol car ar-

Resignations Hit Fairfax Festival

Five officers of the Fairfax Festival Committee, in a bitter letter, today announced their resignation in order to take the annual festival out of political controversy engendered by the race for city council.

The committee members declared they had been made "scapegoats in the rhetoric of the police-state mentalities" of some of those running for office.

The action may have killed any festival this year.

In their letter of resignation, signed "The Officers of the Fairfax Festival Committee," the five said that "we have chosen to remove ourself from the line of targets.

"Of course, some candidates may continue to beat on this dead horse simply because they are morally and emotionally so well-suited to such a pasttime.

"But the people should realize that the Festival, in all likelihood, is no longer a threat to be dealt with at the polls."

The letter was signed by E. Ross Parkerson, William Chapman Jr., Priscilla C. Gray, Charles Vergara and Edwin McGee.

Court Backs State Powers On Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, on a 5-3 vote, upheld today the power of states to set a maximum limit on the amount of welfare assistance that goes to one family.

Justice Potter Stewart, giving the decision in a Maryland case, said: "The Constitution does not empower this court to second-guess state officials charged with the difficult responsibility of allocating limited public welfare funds among the myriad of potential recipients."

The ruling is a setback for advocates of the poor, who have been uniformly victorious in the high court in recent years.

Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall, the court's liberal core, dissented from the majority decision.

Stewart said federal social Security law gives each state great latitude in dispensing its available funds.

"So long as some aid is provided to all eligible families and all eligible children, the statute itself is not violated," he said.

In other actions, the court:

—Agreed to decide whether a requirement for a 60 per cent vote of approval for a bond issue violates its one-man, one-vote ruling.

—Rejected a court action to prevent astronauts in space from broadcasting Bible readings.

—Sustained the power of police to arrest a street speaker who refuses to move on when crowds grow tense and hostile.

New Bolinas, Stinson Schools Chief Named

John A. O'Shea, principal of a Yuba City Elementary School, has been chosen new superintendent of the Bolinas-Stinson School District.

O'Shea, 39, was selected Saturday, the unanimous choice of district trustees. He was chosen from 64 applicants for the position, according to Edward Lewis, chairman of the school district board.

"He was the man we all wanted for the job," Lewis said. "The board feels he will do an excellent job and promises him every cooperation," he added.

The new superintendent, who will probably teach seventh and eighth grades in addition to his administrative duties, replaces Supt. Clarence B. Larison, who resigned under fire from the board in December. Larison had held the post since June of 1968.

O'Shea, who will take over his new duties July 1, is a native of Boston, He was reared in San Francisco and is a graduate of Lincoln High School and San Francisco City College. He received a bachelor's degree in business and his elementary teaching and administrative credentials from Chico State College.

He has 13 years teaching experience and for the last four years has served as principal of the Bridge Street Elementary School, a school with 700 students, in Yuba City.

O'Shea also was for three years superintendent of the Robbins Elementary school District and teaching principal of Wilson Elementary School, both in Sutter County.

He and his wife, Kathy, have three children: Lisa, 11, Kevin, 10, Shaun, 7.

Kopechne Jury Starts Probe

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (UPI) —A Duke County Grand Jury of 10 men and 10 women—reminded by the presiding judge it was "an accusing body but also a sword and shield of justice"—today began investigating the death of Mary Jo Kopechne in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car.

"We're ready to deliberate, your honor," District Attorney Edmund S. Dinis told Superior Court Judge Wilfred J. Paquet at 11:40 a.m. EST after an hour-long charge by the judge.

Giant Tieup By Truckers On Horizon

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The trucking industry appeared headed for a giant tieup today as local units rebelled against the Teamsters Union which negotiated a national contract for 450,000 drivers.

And, as Congress got set to tackle a union-White House wage agreement for all federal employes, there were some signs postal workers, who conducted their first strike in U. S. history March 18, were growing restive.

Air traffic controllers, who have plagued major airports the past 12 days with a "sick out," were returning to work in greater numbers today, according to Federal Aviation Administration spokesmen. Union officials denied this, however.

Congress was faced with another tough labor dispute—rails. A 36-day law prohibiting a rail strike expires April 11. Labor Secretary George P. Schultz, saying the talks with four rail unions were hopelessly deadlocked, urged Congress last week to impose a settlement.

Carswell Survives The Crucial Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge G. Harrold Carswell's nomination to the Supreme Court won its first crucial test Monday as the Senate rejected a motion to return the nomination to the Judiciary Committee. The vote was 52 to 44.

The recommittal motion by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader of the opposition, was designed to kill the nomination of the 50-year-old Tallahassee, Fla., jurist.

The Senate now will vote Wednesday on confirmation of Carswell, the second Southerner nominated by President Nixon for the Supreme Court vacancy created nearly a year ago by the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas.

Nixon's first choice, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., of Greenville, S.C., was rejected by the Senate last November by a 55-45 vote.

Senate leaders of both parties said they expected defeat of Bayh's recommittal motion to be followed by confirmation of Carswell, although perhaps by a narrower margin.

Some senators who voted against recommittal said they would vote against Carswell's confirmation. They contended that returning it to committee would just be ducking the issue.

On the other hand, some senators who announced they favored returning the nomination to committee for further hearings said they would disclose later how they would vote on confirmation if the recommittal motion failed.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Dr. Sam Sheppard, main figure in one of the nation's most controversial murder trials, died today at his home here after he had been ill for three days with what was believed to be influenza.

Sheppard, 46, freed from Ohio Penitentiary after serving 10 years following his conviction for the murder of his first wife, Marilyn, was found dead in his home by his wife.

His body was taken to University Hospital where an autopsy may be performed to determine the cause of death.

Mrs. Colleen Strickland Sheppard, his third wife, said the osteopath had been ill with what he believed was flu. Sheppard, who was in the midst of a professional wrestling Career when he died, married Colleen last Oct. 21.

Sheppard's second wife was the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns of West Germany. They were married in July, 1964, shortly after he was released from prison.

Sheppard was convicted in December 1954, of beating his pregnant wife to death July 4 at their Bay Village home near Cleveland.

During his trial, Sheppard said a "one-armed bushy-haired intruder" killed his wife and attacked him in their home on the shore of Lake Erie. Mrs. Sheppard had been beaten around the head with an estimated 25 blows.

Sheppard was released from prison July 16, 1964, insisting "I am innocent, I am innocent." He was freed by order of the

Reagan Nominates Traynor Successor

The appointment of the 63-year-old justice of the state Court of Appeal is Reagan's first to the state's highest tribunal, which has been dominated by appointees of former Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Nine Escape; One Reported Ready To Kill

Nine juveniles, including one who reportedly has threatened to kill three officers before he leaves the area, escaped from Marin County Juvenile Hall in two separate escapes Saturday night, juvenile officers reported today.

Erick F. Yarchin, superintendent of juvenile hall, said four boys pried a cover off a disused but still operative electronic door-opener, opened the outside door and escaped at 9 p.m. from the hall.

At 10:30 p.m., three boys and two girls in the pre-placement unit outside the juvenile hall fence walked out.

One of the pre-placement youths, Osborne Turner, 16, of Santa Venetia, returned yesterday afternoon but the others remain free, Yarchin said.

A Marin County juvenile officer, Inspector Dennis Shine, said one hall escaper, Mark Corbelli, 14, of Marinwood, had previously threatened to kill Shine, an unnamed deputy sheriff and Inspector Charles Prandi of the juvenile division.

Corbelli has a rifle with telescopic sight, taken in a burglary, hidden somewhere, Shine said.

Escapers from the hall with Corbelli were Scott R. Shepherd, 16, of Sleepy Hollow, Rick Fryderland, 15, of Woodacre, and Michael Watson, 17, of San Rafael.

Escaping from pre-placement with Turner were Michael Farmer, 16, of Novato, John Maloney, 16, of San Rafael, Kathy Benson, 15, of Fairfax, and Jean Canales, 16, of San Rafael.

Most were at the hall for being beyond parental control, Yarchin said. Corbelli and Shepherd, however, have extensive burglary and escape records, according to Shine.

Shine said he had recommended on Shepherd's last capture, last week, that he be taken to a maximum security facility in Sonoma County rather than the Marin Juvenile Hall.

Corbelli, Shine said, had promised to escape within five days and escaped in two and a half.

"We're trying to develop our own controls here" against escape, Yarchin said, "rather than indicate we can't do it. We're finding the loopholes. We haven't had to send anyone to Sonoma for some five months."

The electronic opener used by the escapers is no longer operative, he said. Its use was discontinued because it facilitated escape, he said, but the system

Victory March

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whatever other purpose it may have served, the March for Victory gave thousands of middle-aged and conservatively dressed Americans a chance to be heard.

"This is our day," said The Rev. Carl McIntire, the fundamentalist preacher and chief organizer of the event, who led the March Saturday down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Washington Monument. There, a loud speaker blared "at last, Americans have had their day in Washington."

Crowd estimates varied. Washington Police Chief Jerry V. Wilson set the number at 10,000 to 15,000. Federal Park Police estimated about 40,000, while McIntire said 50,000 persons marched. About 250,000 persons were estimated to have walked the same route in the November Moratorium Day protest against the Vietnam war.

Unlike last fall's youthful demonstrators with their long hair and unorthodox clothes, the weekend cowd was mostly over hairhuts, and more their Sunday-best outfits.

Some held Bibles, American and Confederate flags. They sang hymns, "America," "Dixie" and "God Bless America."

Students March

PHNOM PENH (AP) — Cambodian students in paramilitary uniforms marched through the streets of Phnom Penh today practicing a "march for liberty" next Saturday that may coincide with the declaration of a republic.

The leaders who toppled Prince Norodom Sihanouk have stepped up their campaign to end Cambodia's 1,500-year-old monarchy. Today they issued a declaration saying there had been calls from "certain quarters" for a republic. It said the government "attaches great importance to these aspirations."

Informed sources said the date for declaration of the republic was still tentative and depended on how successful the new regime was in whipping up sentiment for a republic. Sihanouk is believed to still have a strong hold on the peasants, who make up 80 per cent of the 6.5 million population.

Vets Revolt

A legless veteran raced his wheelchair up the boulevard, waiving a hammer as he charged into the fray.

Another ex-soldier, on crutches and wearing a wooden leg, pulled a street sign from the ground and lurched forward. A colonel from the palace staff held him back and talked him into abandoning the sign.

More than 50 disabled war veterans had marched with pipes, clubs and hammers on the palace to demand better treatment. They carried a stretcher containing a wounded man they said was shot Sunday night when militiamen invaded their shantytown near Ton Son Nhut Airport.

For Wiretapping

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's top criminal lawyer says the resumption of wiretapping has aided the fight against organized crime immeasurably and objections are based on a "wholly false argument."

"There isn't any question about it," Asst. Atty. Gen. Will R. Wilson, head of the Justice Department's criminal division, said, wiretaps have enabled the government to collect evidence essential to its case against a number of underworld figures.

Wilson declined to give specific examples or disclose the exact number of wiretaps in operation now. But he noted the Justice Department reported using 36 wiretaps last year and added:

"There may be a few more than that in operation now."

Perot Rejected

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A North Vietnamese diplomat refused today to meet with H. Ross Perot and told three American antiwar advocates the Texas billionaire's activities were "an act of propaganda" that had nothing to do with humanitarianism.

North Vietnamese Charge d'Affaires Vu Tien's rebuke was relayed to newsmen by the antiwar trio as they emerged from an hour's meeting at the North Vietnamese Embassy. Meanwhile, Perot and five wives of missing U.S. airmen were colling their heels beside the front gate.

Perot, the women and 60 newsmen waited for several hours at the gate although they were told twice that they could not see any officials inside.

As they waited, Prof. Douglas Dowd of Cornell University, Prof. Noam Chomsky of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Rev. Richard Fernandez, director of Clergy and Laymen Concerned about Vietnam, walked into the embassy.

When they came out, Chomsky told newsmen that Vu Tien said he refused to meet wit Perot for several reasons, among them that his actions "only help the policy of aggression of the Nixon administration and have nothing to do with humanitarianism."

Cycle-Riding Couple Injured

A Swedish couple was injured yesterday when their motorcycle was sideswiped on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Lola G. Green, 25, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Brookside Hospital in San Pablo with head injuries, a fractured left leg and cuts and bruises. Her husband, Lars G. Green, 25, was treated for bruises on both legs.

They were injured when their motorcycle was hit at 6:25 p.m. by a car driven by Victor J. Reindahl, 37, of 612 West Cotati Avenue, Cotati, who said he was blinded by the rays of the setting sun, according to the patrol.

Peace Role Is Rejected By Israelis

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli government has rejected an offer by a prominent Zionist to represent it at a meeting with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

A government spokesman said Dr. Nahum Goldmann, who heads the World Jewish Congress, informed Premier Golda Meir two weeks ago that "many sides"—including Nasser himself—had asked him to discuss the worsening Israel-Arab dispute in Cairo.

In Cairo, however, an Egyptian government spokesman denied that Nasser had agreed to meet with Goldmann and called the claim "a mere fabrication."

WILLING TO GO

According to the Israeli spokesman, Goldmann said he was willing to go but wanted to be approved by the Israeli government.

"The government decided that it would respond favorably to any manifestation of willingness on the part of the president of Egypt for a meeting to investigate problems crucial to Israel and Egypt, where each side was free to appoint its own representative," the government statement said.

But to Goldmann's request, "the government decided to reply in the negative." In other words, the government would appoint its own representative for any such talks.

The spokesman said that all but one of the cabinet's 24 members voted to turn down the 74-year-old Jewish leader, who was one of the most active and influential lobbyists for Israel before it became a state.

MODERATE ATTITUDE

Goldmann, who holds both Israeli and Swiss citizenship and lives in Geneva, has written that Israel should act flexibly and moderately toward its Arab neighbors—a position that has not made him popular in Israel.

Last month he called for the neutralization of Israel, with its status as a Jewish state guaranteed by "the whole of mankind," including the Arab nations.

Meanwhile, on the military fronts, one Israeli soldier was killed and two others were wounded in separate incidents along the Suez Canal and the lebanese border, the military command announced.

EXCHANGE WHITE HOUSE PLEASANTRIES

President and Mrs. Richard Nixon greet former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson following White House ecumenical services yesterday. In welcoming the Johnsons back to the White House Nixon said: "We want you to know we are happy you have returned in good health. . ." In the service itself, John Cardinal Krol, archbishop of Philadelphia (partially hidden) attacked crime and communism.

Apollo 13's Helium Trouble Solved

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Engineers reported that a questionable helium tank in Apollo 13's moon landing ship appeared to be working satisfactorily today and was expectked to be cleared for launch to the moon Saturday.

While the tests on the tank were being concluded, Apollo 13's three astronauts underwent their last major pre-flight medical examinations. James A. Lovell, Thomas K. Mattingly and Fred W. Haise were expected to pass the checkup without difficulty.

The Apollo 13 countdown began Sunday night, but the extra tests on the helium tank slowed launch pad operations and delayed work by about seven hours. That lost time was expected to be recouped in a planned rest period Tuesday.

Saturday is the only day this month Apollo 13 can be launched toward its high-priority landing site in a moon valley called FRA Mauro after a 16th century Franciscan Monk. The next launch opportunity is May 9.

The helium tank in question is in the descent stage of the lunar landing craft Aquarius. It carries frigid helium in a mixture of gas and liquid and is used to pressurize the propellants for the ship's big landing engine.

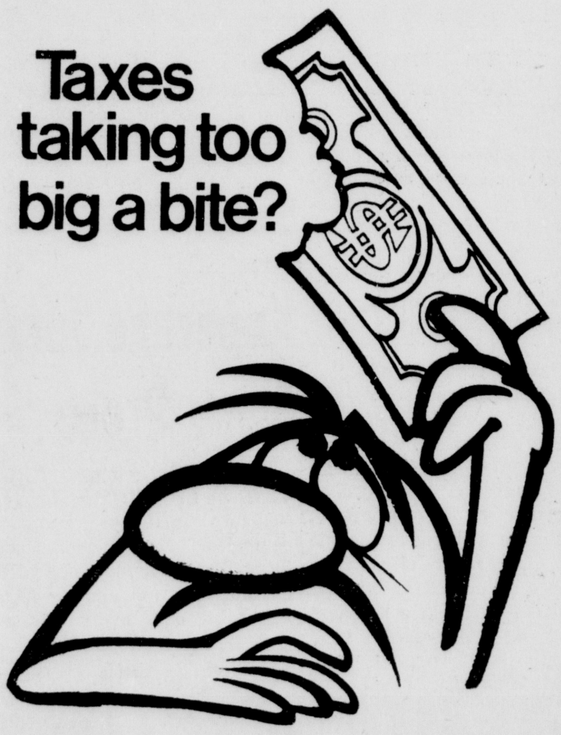

The trouble was the helium was observed to heat up slightly faster than normal in the double-walled tank, resulting in a a buildup of pressure. A spokemsan said an abnormal rise could be caused by nitrogen contamination in the vacuum jacket that serves as the tank's insulation.

A leak was found in the vacuum lining of a hydrogen tank in the Apollo 12 service module in November and it was replaced a day before launch.

Project officials Sunday ordered helium colder than -400 degrees fahrenheit pumped into the lunar module tank to see how fast the pressure rose. An increase slightly above normal was noted for a while, but it then leveled off.

Launch Director Walter Kapryan ordered the countdown started at 10 p.m. EST despite the problem and he directed the helium tank monitoring to continue for another 12 honrs.

27 Receive Unwanted LSD Trips

MARINA DEL RAY, Calif. (UPI) — Twenty-seven persons who attended a "swinging singles" party received emergency hospital treatment Sunday while on unwanted hallucinogenic "trips," apparently caused when they ate potato chips seasoned with LSD.

Sixteen of the partygoers were hospitalized, including three women in serious condition for a short time and a man with a heart condition who was in a coma briefly. Five still were hospitalized today. "Some of them were really climbing the walls. They were really out of it," said Sheriff's Lt. Benny Woodard.

Most of the 27 who sought treatment experienced mild symptoms such as dizziness but others had full-fledged hallucinogenic trips at the South Bay Club apartment complex in this Los Angeles suburb.

Deputies went to the complex to aid one person who became ill shortly after midnight. They became aware of the incident as other partygoers went to Memorial Hospital of Southern California in nearby Culver City suffering from the effects of the drugs.

Reds Lay Siege To Special Camp

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops from Laos have laid siege to a frontier Special Forces camp and shot down three American transports trying to drop emergency supplies, killing all nine American crewmen, military spokesmen reported today.

The heaviest action of the enemy's six-day-old offensive continued along the Laotian and Cambodian borders and the demilitarized zone. But fighting also was reported in the Central Highlands and the central coastal plain.

Allied communiques reported 262 more North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers killed in a dozen fights, three of them just outside the besieged Dak Seang Special Forces camp, eight miles from the Laotian border and 277 miles northeast of Saigon.

Eleven Americans were reported killed and 20 wounded in the ground fighting and in 41 rocket and mortar attacks during the night.

Several American helicopters were blown up by enemy sappers who penetrated the perimeter of Camp Radcliff, a U.S. base near An Khe, in the Central Highlands.

Reports from the field said at least 14 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 107 wounded in the ground fighting. Government casualties from rocket and mortar attacks were described as light.

One U.S. Air Force C7 Caribou twin-engine transport was shot down today over Dak Seang, another Saturday, and the third last Thursday. Enemy gunners last week also shot down three U.S. Army helicopters supporting South Vietnamese troops around the camp, wounding four American crewmen. The losses of the helicopters and one of the transports were announced earlier.

The U.S. 7th Air Force said North Vietnamese troops have been controlling Dak Seang's runway, just outside the camp, since last Wednesday, and air drops are the only means of supplying the American and South Vietnamese defenders.

Meanwhile today, the U.S. Command announced today that American troop strength in Vietnam dropped another 9,200 men last week, to 439,400. It is the lowest level in three years and results from continuance of President Nixon's third-phase withdrawal now nearing its final week.

San Franciscans Deny Auto Theft

Two San Francisco men have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of car theft. A preliminary hearing for Clyde Mark Cunningham, 19, and Morton Dennie Mora, 24, was set for Thursday.

The men were arrested Thursday in Corte Madera when the car, allegedly stolen from a San Francisco woman, stalled.

Aviation Panel Due Study Report

The present north-south runway at Gnoss Field satisfies the requirements of the Federal Aviation Agency, but a cross-runway would be useful.

This is the conclusion reached after a one-year wind study at the county airport by Dr. James A. Roberts and Associates of Tustin. Dr. Roberts' report will be discussed by the Marin aviation commissioners tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center.

Roberts recommends that a cross-runway be installed for use when sea breezes are blowing, usually in the early afternoons. "The proposed runway should provide major relief, although some turbulence may be experienced on the approaches," said Dr. Roberts. He found that 97.5 per cent of the winds were under 12 miles per hour, and the county airport meets safety requirements of FAA.

Aviation commissioners will also discuss the possible joint use of Hamilton Air Force Base facilities by both the civilians and the military, and the planned purchase of 3.5 acres of land to the south of the airport to expand tie-down space.

Installation By DeMolays

The Ross Valley chapter of DeMolay has installed a new group of officers headed by Larry Shine, master councilor.

Cleanup Of Tam Called Big Success

If garbage can be a measure of success, then the massive cleanup of Mount Tamalpais Saturday was a success.

Three or four large industrial container bins were filled with debris gathered by about 500 youths in a cleanup sponsored by the Mill Valley Youth Commission, reported commissioner Leonard Anderson.

"At least 100 regular garbage cans were dumpted two or three times," Anderson reported.

High school students, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and church groups along with a group sponsored by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department joined in the cleanup, he said.

While the youths concentrated in the camping and roadway areas, horsemen from several organizations hit the back trails in the vicinities of Lagunitas, Bon Tempe and Phoenix lakes.

About 25 to 30 riders participated and gathered about two pick-up truck loads of debris, reported Gayle Murphy of Fairfax, secretary of Tamalpais

The Southern Marin Horsemen's Association discovered the most unusual item, a baby bottle, but there were other unusual items hauled out including a "Keep America Beautiful" sign and one high-heeled shoe.

One pair of riders came out with seven bags of trash, a car seat and a car fender, Mrs. Murphy said.

The youth cleanup ended at the Mountain Theater with addresses by ecology experts.

Nixon, Johnson See New Press Quarters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon gave Lyndon B. Johnson a tour of the new White House press room today and the former president agreed it is a vast improvement over the crowded old quarters. (See picture page 2.)

"This is a wonderful improvement," Johnson said. "But has there been any improvement in the stories?"

The former president recalled his high-school class motto: "Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you."

Maybe, he said, if you give the press all these good things, then you can hope.

"It's only a hope," Nixon answered with a grin. "I can assure you."

"At least they can see and hear you," Johnson remarked. "That's better than we had."

He was referring to arrangements for pulling a platform down from one end of the room for use for press briefings, with cameras and sound equipment at the other end, normally closed off behind curtains.

The two men wandered through the whole area, through a briefing room filled with furniture with a Williamsburg, Va., decor, past booths for wire services and network reporters and desks for others. They went then into a small lounge where there are sandwich and cigarette vending machines and a coffee bar operated by the White House Correspondents Association.

The major domo of the coffee service, lighting technician Cleveland Ryan, came forward with filled plastic cups. "Have a cup of coffee on the house, Mr. President," he said.

panel, and they filed out of the century-old courtroom under the care of a sheriff dressed in an antique costume. As his dress of office, Sheriff John E. Palmeira wore a long black cutaway coat, mustard colored waist coat and black bow tie.

Judge Paquet, a huge man with balding red hair, read his charge in a clear, almost ringing voice and emphasized to the jurors whatever went on in their room "you must keep secret in your conscience and in your heart...forever."

The judge, who reminded the jurors they could return an indictment charging perjury if they believed any witness had lied to them, called a short recess after his charge and before sending the panel into its closed-door investigation into Miss Kopechne's death last July 18 in Kennedy's black sedan.

SHEPPARD

U.S. District Court at Dayton, which ruled he had not received a fair trial.

Sheppard's release was appealed to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati, which on May 5, 1965, reversed the earlier ruling and ordered him returned to prison.

The U.S. Supreme Court, in a precedent-setting decision on June 6, 1965, said Sheppard had been denied a fair trial because of the "Roman carnival" atmosphere in the court room and a prejudiced trial judge.

Sheppard was freed in 1964 and married Ariane in July of that year after a pen-pal relationship that started while he was in prison.

Sheppard's wrestling career had been highly successful and he had donated large portions of his winnings to charity.

Late last year he said he was happy with his participation in the sport.

Mrs. George Strickland, Sheppard's mother in-law, and wife of his wrestling manager and partner, said he had not been under a physician's care.

"He never would call a doctor," Mrs. Strickland said. "We all thought he had the flu."

Sheppard had one son, Samuel Jr., by his first marriage.

SHOOTINGS

rived within minutes. It was shortly before midnight.

The fugitive arrested in a canyon was identified by police as Russell Lowell Talbert 28. However, police later said, identification papers may have been stolen.

Talbert was wounded twice after he exchanged shots and scuffled with camper Dan Schwarz, 40, Chicago, who was sleeping in his camper truck when Talbert fired into it, a spokesman said.

Police said Talbert, apparently out of ammunition, pistol-whipped Schwarz and fled in the camper truck.

He was apprehended without resistance later in a canyon nearby.

The slain patrolmen were identified as Walter C. Frago, 23; Roger D. Gore, 22; James Edward Pence Jr., 25, and George M. Alleyn, 24. All were married and lived in nearby communities.

One witness, among four young persons in a car towing a boat, said he was "standing in the parking lot and saw a California Highway Patrol car approach a car with two men in it.

A highway patrol spokesman said he could not explain how two men were able to shoot down four officers.

FESTIVAL

of the festival last year, said today he was not on this year's committee, but he agreed with the letter.

Last years' fourth annual festival was criticized by some Fairfax residents at the time, primarily for the litter that was created.

At last week's candidates' night in Fairfax, candidate Lee Nelder criticized the festival and said there were "people smoking pot and young girls running around uncovered."

In a mailing to Fairfax voters last week, incumbent Robert R. Souza, running for reelection, said that from a sampling of public opinion, "a large number of you feel that the last Fairfax Festival was a disgrace to our community.

"I believe a moratorium on this event is needed before the family type festival of 1966 can be recreated."

The one day festival of art exhibits, bicycle races, a flea market, and music drew about 7,000 persons in 1966.

Last year's two-day festival drew about 15,000.

Tam Paper Satirizes The I-J

Students at Tamalpais Union High School, as an April Fool's journalism project, satirized the Independent-Journal in a four-page publication released Friday.

"Called the "Independent-Yournal," the special issue depicts a urinal on its masthead with the slogan "Nauseating All of Marin County."

The publication's lead story reports a "Bloody Car Crash" involving a printer, Leon Olston, and Wishy A. Drown, owner and publisher of the "Independent-Yournal."

The issue treats lightheartedly the beating of newspaper carriers in a column headed "thank you for paying your paper boy promptly." The story reads, "he just can't understand why he gets beat up when he goes about his route; why his papers have been set on fire before he gets there."

The publication also contains stories on the bi-monthly meeting of the "dope club," a marijuana bust of senior citizens at the "Valley Park Convalescent Home in Mill Valley" and a story headed "junior Class elections," which begins "Armand Q. Delane, aged 35, is apparently a sex maniac. . ."

"I thought it was pretty good satire, very clever" Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant for the Tamalpais Union High School distriict, said. "A great newspaper like the Independent-Journal is like a public figure, kind of fair game," he said.

Neumeier admitted he wouldn't have published the issue himself "because I think that kind of journalism is old fashioned, but it was intended as a joke and I hope the Independent-Journal will be big enough to see it that way."

Journalism adviser Richard P. Fregulia Jr., said he thought the edition was "great."

"I think the students learned a great deal about journalism putting out an issue like that which imitated and satirized," he said.

Fregulia said the 2,400 copies of the publication were distributed Friday.

was not disconnected until after Saturday's escape.

Shine said Corbelli was recaptured Thursday after escaping the previous weekend. Corbelli, Shepherd and Farmer have all escaped from the hall before, he said.

Shepherd and Watson were caught last week after Watson was stopped at the wheel of a stolen car, Shine said.

Green Chevrolet Reported Stolen

A green 1959 Chevrolet with license CXG937 owned by Diane E. Babbage of 571 Louis Street, Novato and parked in a lot in front of the Emporium at Northgage, was stolen Friday between 1 and 1:20 p.m., San Rafael police reported today.

Flower and vegetable seeds worth $300 were inside the car's trunk, police said.

Bonn Diplomat In Guatemala Slain

"The men who kidnaped Count Karl von Spreti last Tuesday carried out this horrible crime," a government announcement said, expressing its "deepest condolences" to the Bonn government.

The assassination, the first in the recent wave of kidnapings of foreign diplomats in South America, strained relations between West Germany and Guatemala almost to the breaking point.

Over official protests from Bonn officials, Guatemala had refused to release 22 political prisoners and pay $700,000 ransom for Von Spreti.

"The government of Guatemala has shown itself unable to insure the necessary safety of the diplomats accredited to it," West German Chancellor Willy Brandt said in El Paso, Tex.

A peasant discovered the body 10 miles outside this capital in a deserted shack at the 6,000-foot level. Newsmen who arrived later said Von Spreti was shot several times in the head.

He was lying face down with his eyeglasses in hand. Officials said the 62-year-old diplomat had been murdered Sunday afternoon. Police set up roadblocks around the deserted shack.

The body was found about the same time the slain diplomat's wife, Countess Helene Sabine von Spreti, arrived in Guatemala from Lisbon. She had been on a sea cruise when he was kidnaped Tuesday.

COUNT VON SPRETI
Kidnaped on Tuesday

Brandt blamed "internal political strife in Guatemala" for the kidnaping, the third in this nation since Feb. 27.

In the first two abductions, of Foreign Minister Alberte Fuentes on Feb. 27 and of American diplomat Sean Michael Holly on March 6, the government released a total of four prisoners to win their freedom.

In Bonn, a member of the West Berlin parliament colled on the government to reconsider its relations with Guatemala City in view of the murder.

"The question must be asked whether normal relations can be maintained with a government that by no means did all in its power to protect Von Spreti from deadly danger," Wolfgang Mischnick said.

Japan's Diet Hears Report On Skyjack

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese deputy transportation minister who agreed to replace 103 persons as hostages aboard a jet being hijacked to North Korea last week delivered a three-hour report of the Japanese Diet (parliament) today and received a white porcelain vase for his action.

The three crew members who flew the Japan Air Lines plane to Pyongyang Friday were given special letters of appreciation for their "coolness and composure" during the 122 hours of history's longest hijack.

PLANS UNKNOWN

No one knew what the North Koreans planned to do with the nine radical students who commandeered the Boeing 727 jet last Tuesday and ordered it to North Korea, where they said they planned to set up a center for world revolution.

The transportation ministry official, Shinjiro Yamamura, offered himself as a hostage after days of negotiations between officials and the hijackers while the plane was grounded at Seoul, South Korea, where it had been flown in an attempted ruse that failed.

The ultra-leftist student hijackers, armed with guns, samurai swords and explosives, finally agreed Friday to permit Yamamura to replace 99 passengers and four stewardesses.

The North Koreans let Yamamura and the crew return with the plane Sunday, but denounced the hijackers' aim of setting up a revolutionary base. A broadcast called reports of the students' plan "fantastic rumors" intended to justify "the hostile aggressive scheme of the Japanese militarist clique against our country."

ACTION SURPRISES

Yamamura said Sunday the radicals "were subdued when the plane landed. I was surprised by their reaction."

He and the hijackers were kept aboard the jet for 2½ hours after the crew were taken off, he added. Then he was taken away for questioning by an officer, who wanted to know why he had made the trip.

"I told him I had offered myself to obtain the release of the others aboard the plane," he said. "There was no other choice but to come."

Yamamura said the nine students were present while he was being interrogated, but were not asked any questions in his presence.

U.S. Consul Thwarts Brazilian Kidnap Try

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (AP) — The U.S. consul in Porto Alegre was recovering today from a slight wound suffered in thwarting a kidnap attempt. He used his car to run down one of his would-be kidnapers, and they let loose a hail of bullets as he escaped.

Curtis C. Cutter, a 41-year-old Karean War veteran, became the first diplomat in Latin America to personally defy a kidnap attempt since the wave of political abductions started last September. There have been eight previous kidnapings or attempted kidnapings in Latin American countries.

Cutter was driving home late Saturday night with his wife, Catherine, and a former State Department official, Hovey Clark, when a gang in a car intercepted them. Several men wearing dark glasses and carrying machine guns jumped out and headed toward Cutter's station wagon.

The consul stepped on the gas and pulled around the car blocking his path, hitting one of the men and dragging him on the bumper for several yards. The other kidnapers opened fire, wounding the consul slightly in the back, but he was able to drive to his home a few blocks away.

Police said the assailants were members of the leftist Armed Revolutionary Vanguard. They picked up their injured comrade and escaped.

Guards were put on Cutter's hospital room, his home and the homes of other diplomats.

Appeals were broadcast over radio stations in the area for all doctors to report any cases of auto injuries they treat. Police said they found the car used by the attackers. They said it had been stolen last month.

Cutter joined the foreign service in 1957. He served in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Lima, Peru, and Washington before coming to Porto Alegre last November. A native of California, he is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley and attended the Graduate Institute of International Affairs in Geneva. The Cutters have six children.

High Praise To Board's Ferry Work

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — High praise of the Golden Gate Bridge District for operating the strikebound commuter ferry was given today by the mayors of Tiburon and Belvedere at a luncheon in San Francisco.

The district's performance "should forever lay to rest any charges that governmental agencies are slow to get things done," the mayors said in a resolution presented to the district's transporation committee. The luncheon at the Sheraton Palace Hotel was hosted by Tiburon Mayor Branwell Fanning and Belvedere Mayor Thomas S. Price.

The district carried more than 150,000 passengers in almost five months. The charter ended yesterday with the end of the strike against Harbor Carriers, which has promised to continue the daily service for 45 days before deciding what changes or subsidy may be needed.

Mob Hits Coachella Police Station Over Two Arrests

COACHELLA, Calif. (UPI)—A mob of youths, incited by the arrests of two men described by police as members of the militant Brown Berets, stormed the police station here and attempted to burn down the mayor's home following a rally for farm workers' leader Cesar Chavez.

"All hell broke loose when the arrests were made," Police Chief Lester O'Neil said. "We would have lost the station without the assistance of the other law enforcement agencies."

A spokesman for the police department of this agricultural community said the mob, which at its peak numbered about 500, burned a patrol car and then stormed the station with a barrage of rocks and bottles.

Two policemen suffered minor injuries. Officers from two nearby cities were called in along with highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies from Riverside County.

O'Neil said the rally attended by Chavez, founder of the United Farm Workers organizing committee, was not related to the disturbance.

Officers used tear gas to repel the crowd from the station but it broke into small groups and broke windows in three schools and a post office.

O'Neil said a fire was started, probably by gasoline, at the home of Mayor Nick Abdelnour and it caused extensive damage. There were no injuries.

The chief said the violence erupted following the Chavez rally in the same park at a dance. He said a group of men believed to be Brown Berets from Los Angeles, a militant Mexican-American organization, took over the public address system of the dance and attempted to provoke the gathered youths.

Police moved in and arrested two of the men yelling into the microphone. The crowd, authorities said, then turned on the officers and throwing rocks and bottles attempted to free the two men from the nearby police station.

The two men were not identified.

Police said several other arrests were made but they did not have an exact figure. includes previous

Ecuadorean Consul Held

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Alfredo J. Giler, the Ecuadorean consul in Philadelphia, remained in the county detention center today after his embassy balked at posting $100,000 bail for his arrest on a narcotics charge.

Giler, 38, was arrested by U.S. Customs agents Saturday after he visited a ship at a South Philadelphia pier. Agents said they found a package containing seven pounds of pure cocaine worth an estimated $1 million in the trunk of his car.

The consul was arraigned before a U.S. commissioner who set bail. Ecuadorean Ambassador Carlos Mantilla-Ortega, contacted in Washington, said the bail was "out of the question." He said he was awaiting orders from his government.

MODEL U.N. SESSION

Peking Is Again Denied A Seat

By C. P. McCARTHY

A move to admit Red China to the United Nations was again defeated Saturday by the U. N. General Assembly.

The assembly also placed a trade embargo on South Africa and all nations which practice apartheid government.

But so well prepared were the seventh and eighth grade students participating, that if the U.N. had met Saturday and considered the admittance of Red China and South Africa's racially discriminating government, the results of the meeting probably would have been nearly identical to the students' actions.

Six schools participated in the session, which was sponsored by Redwood's Model United Nations Club: Adaline E. Kent, Ross, San Domenico, Sinaloa, Kennilworth of Petaluma and Presidio Junior High of San Francisco.

Faculty advisors were on hand, but unneeded. The students ran everything themselves. Members of the Redwood club served as U.N. officers.

Kirk Pessner, 17, a junior at Redwood, served as president of the General Assembly, and Joseph Franaszek, 16, also a Redwood junior, acted as secretary-general.

The aim of the meeting, Pessner said, was to develop speaking qualities.

But the five months of preparation also equipped the students with a knowledge of the U.N. and the countries they represented that would put many an adult to shame.

Since last November, when the Redwood club sent out invitations to the session, the junior high school students used U.N. publications and records for source material, as well as writing to their respective nations for more information.

Training sessions were conducted at Redwood by the Model U.N. Club for the Marin students who participated, and the Redwood students went to the Petaluma and San Francisco schools to conduct the training sessions there.

The debate on the resolutions Saturday could have been taken almost verbatim from a transcript of an actual U.N. meeting, as the western nations lined up against the communist bloc nations on the Red China question.

Whether the Soviet delegates to the actual U.N. wear red skirts with yellow hammer and sickles on them, as did the USSR representatives Saturday, is a matter of doubt.

But the tedious task of trying to get along with each other which goes on in the U.N.'s New York headquarters might be made a little easier by the addition of some of Redwood High's barefoot page girls.

Kirk Ignores High Court's School Plan

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk, directing pupils and teachers to ignore desegregation transfer approved by the U.S. Supreme Court, today personally assumed "custodial supervision" of the Manatee County public school system.

In an executive order Sunday, Kirk acted 14 hours before the desegregation plan was to be implemented in Manatee, a coastal county on the Gulf of Mexico 50 miles south of Tampa.

CLOSED CONFERENCE

On the scene before classes opened, Kirk huddled briefly behind closed doors with Lt. Gov. Ray Osborne and two assistant superintendents, Col. Philip Doyle and Dr. William Bashaw.

Then addressing some 150 administrative staff members, Kirk said: "We have exercised every legal opportunity possible with the Manatee County School Board. We will now exercise our rights as governor.

"Our job is to educate children."

He added that the federal judges who ordered desegregation were not concerned with this.

"There will be no changes," Kirk said. "I see no problems. I see a great staff."

"MAIN INTEREST"

"My main interest is in keeping the schools running and in keeping the children in school. The legal ramifications are secondary.

"We have come this way reluctantly. We have not been given our day in court. We imagine we will be given our day in court now."

Doyle said results of Kirk's action wouldn't be known until midmorning.

Asked if confusion was expected in the 17,000-pupil system, Doyle replied: "I hope not."

Outside the meeting room at the county school board offices, parents flooded telephones with questions about what their children were to do.

A secretary told them to send their children to the schools they attended last week.

Ross Valley Mayors Ask Pact On Creeks

Mayors in the Ross Valley meeting with Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. atthe Civic Center have decided to push on with a proposed ordinance that would make individual property owners responsible for keeping creeks behind their homes free of debris.

The decision was reached Friday despite a warning by William L. Hess, assistant director of county public works, that the ordinance, now in draft form, was too restrictive and would be too costly to administer.

The ordinance would rerquire property owners to keep their portion of the creek free of weeds, trees, debris, rubbish or any other obstruction that would impede the flow of water.

"This puts the burden on the property owner to make engineering judgments far beyond his capacity," said Hess. "For example, what would constitute an obstruction—a rock, a tree?" He warned that if every property owner began cutting out weeds and trees from the creek, it might lead to worse erosion problems than if the creek were left alone.

Furthermore, said Hess, property lines along creeks are so vague that it would be difficult to pin down just who was responsible for debris accumulation.

"You've been reading into this something we never intended," replied Mayor Neil R. Brixon of Larkspur. "No one ever thought of going in there and denuding the creek of all trees. We're referring to fallen trees and piles of debris that people throw into the creeks."

Mayor Woodrow Capurro of San Anselmo wanted all wood bulkheading outlawed in the creeks because of a tendency to break up. Capurro suggested all future bulkheading be concrete.

Hess replied that this flies in the face of objections raised in several cities to the use of concrete lining.

The mayors accepted Hess's suggestion that the type of bulkheading used by subject to engineering approval by either the county or the city public works departments.

Mayor Francis J. O'Connell of Fairfax suggested that enforcement of such an ordinance be conducted in this way: A county public works official and a public works man of the city involved could go through the creeks in June, noting the debris and logs that need clearing. They would then notify the property owners where the debris is located. In September, before the winter floods, another inspection would be made through the same creek to see if the problems have been corrected.

As for determining property lines, Brixon contended that most people know where their property lines are, and the ordinance should not be held up just because some boundary disputes arise.

The group will meet again at 3 p.m. Friday at the Civic Center to consider a new draft of the proposed ordinance.

Ferry Bus Aid Will Be Pondered

Should the Marin County Transit District continue to subsidize the Tiburon ferry bus shuttle, which is operated by a private firm based in Marin City?

That is one of the questions to be taken up tomorrow at a meeting of the district board at the Civic Center. The meeting will start at 8:30 a.m. in the board of supervisors chambers.

The private firm which operates the ferry shuttle is Marin County Transit Systems, headed by Theophus Barron Jr.

The district on Feb. 1 authorized a $12,000 subsidy for a three-month trial. That contract expires on May 1. Directors must decide whether a new contract should be signed, and if so, how much the subsidy should be.

Another major item on the agenda is staffing of the transit district office when Gen. Mgr. Seymour Kashin resigns on April 30 from his $23,712-per-year post. His departure will leave only one secretary on the staff.

Valerie M. Ansel Is Hub's Candidate

Valerie M. Ansel, retired from one career but still active in several other fields, is the nominee of the San Anselmo City Council and San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce for senior citizen of the year in Marin.

Miss Ansel may be personally known to more San Anselmans than any other person. She was teacher and principal at Wade Thomas School for 45 years, retiring in 1959. She took over as teacher-principal four years after she arrived in 1913, served in that role for 39 years, and then was a principal with no teaching duties her last four years.

A graduate of San Francisco Normal School, she taught one year in Tomales before coming to San Anselmo.

Today, Miss Ansel may be better known as chairman of the San Anselmo Library Board, a post she has held since 1932. She has been a library board member since 1923.

In addition, she is a member and former president of the Marin County Chapter of the National Foundation, a member of Guide Dogs for the Blind, and a trustee of the Robson-Harrington Park Association.

During her career and since her retirement, Miss Ansel, now 78, has kept in close touch with many of her former students, and sends birthday gifts to many of their children and grandchildren.

One of her most treasured possessions is an autographed picture from the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, with congratulations he wrote her on her retirement.

She was the sort of teacher students remember. On her retirement, one former pupil said that after eight years with Miss Ansel, Navy discipline was a snap.

Shows' Preview Set Tomorrow

An exhibit of mixed media works by San Rafael artist Ursula Johnson will be previewed tomorrow from 5:30 to 8 p.m. at the Fourth Floor Gallery, 315 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

The show will be open weekdays from noon to 5:30 p.m. through April 30.

A story in Saturday's Independent-Journal incorrectly stated that the preview was to be held yesterday.

Cause Of Hub Blaze Traced

A $25,000 fire in San Anselmo Saturday morning started in a curtain hung too close to a gas furnace, the San Anselmo Fire Department reported today.

Thomas Hardline, who used the furnace room as a bedroom in the basement apartment at 67 Ross Avenue, had hung the curtain to disguise the furnace.

Hardine told firemen he awoke at 6:04 a.m. Saturday to find the room in flames. He suffered minor burns.

Youngsters Hurt In Petaluma

Two Petaluma youngsters were struck by automobiles Friday in separate accidents.

Tammy Perry, 6, of 94 Thompson Lane, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for scrapes on her head and face suffered when she was hit by an auto at H and Eighth streets at about 2:30 p.m.

Donald LaPrelle, 9, of 1625 Anita Drive, Petaluma, was admitted to the hospital with scrapes and bruises suffered when he was hit by an auto at about 3:30 p.m. on Weaverly Drive. He was released Saturday, the hospital reported.

No further details of either accident were available.

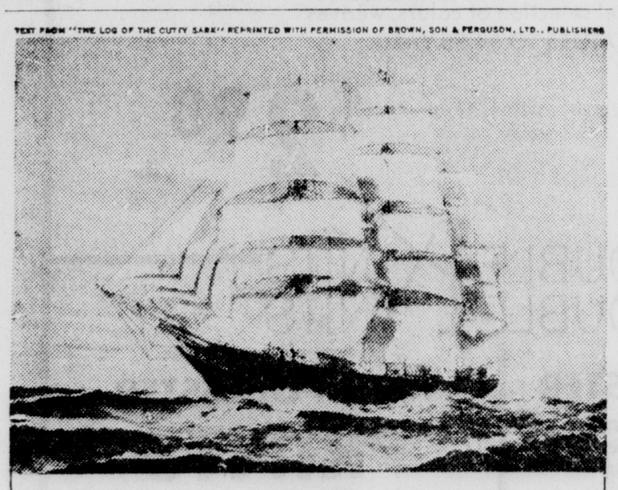

Late Hours Slated For Vote Registering

The county elections office will remain open until 9 p.m. today through Thursday's deadline to register voters for the June 2 primary election.

The office is in Room 152 on floor one of the Hall of Justice at the Marin Civic Center.

Construction Ban Lifting To Be Eyed

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Some easing of a state ban on all new construction in San Francisco will be considered by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the supervisors' chambers in City Hall.

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto has requested immediate exemptions for $24 million worth of new construction, including a new school, hospital, telephone exchange and 24 business and apartment buildings.

The state ban by the State Water Resources Control Board was imposed to prevent any increase in the city's massive pollution of the bay. The ban is to remain in force until improvements in the city's sewage treatment are adequate to assure that the new construction will not increaes the net pollution.

Alioto has offered to order $60,000 in overtime to improve sewage treatment ona 24-hour basis.

Alioto threatened the state last Thursday with court action against the ban. He also suggested the city may "set up a civil disobedience" of the ban.

Alson onthe agenda is a staff request for more inspectors to enforce board actions. Without more men, new enforcement actions may have to be halted, according to the staff.

Hurt In Wreck

Drew Mahan, 19, of 4415 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for arm cuts suffered at 2:45 a.m. today when his car struck an embankment at 2590 Lakeville Highway, Petaluma.

Pollution Picture Put Into New Perspective

From time to time, we have called attention to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District's predilection for talking about tons of solid matter put into the atmosphere, rather than about the pollutants that cause eye, nose and throat irritation and probably contribute to both emphysema and lung cancer.

The Citizens Against Pollution, a San Jose group, has drummed on the same subject, referring disparagingly to what it calls the district's "little gray eyeball charts."

Last week, a Stanford University biologist called attention to the same failing, in more scientific fashion.

EDWARD GROWTH III, a graduate student in biological science at Stanford, told the smog board in a report:

"Tonnage is a poor indicator of the severity of pollution. Carbon monoxide, the greatest problem in terms of weight emitted (two-thirds of all pollution), is the smallest problem in terms of its effects. . .Particles may reduce visibility, while the most potentially toxic emissions are invisible."

The smog district's figures show that automobiles create 77.6 per cent of pollutants; backyard burning (prior to the Jan. 1 ban), 9 per cent; industry, 8.5 per cent; agricultural burning, 2.3 per cent.

When relative toxicity of the pollutants is considered, using toxicity standards set by the California Air Resources Board, the picture is quite different, Growth pointed out. With these, as well as the mere weight of particulates, considered, the relative importance of the same pollution sources looks like this:

Industry, 48.6 per cent; automobiles, 43.4 per cent; backyard burning (prior to Jan. 1), .3 of one per cent; agricultural burning, .1 of one per cent.

THE SMOG DISTRICT has cracked down on agricultural burning. In so doing, it has moved against the farmer's best method of cleaning his fields — not only of stubble, but also of weeds, weed seeds and insect pests (a method, incidentally, which does not involve spray that really poisons the atmosphere). Yet agricultural burning is responsible for only one one-thousandth of the air pollution.

The district has completely banned backyard burning. In so doing, it has saddled counties, cities and citizens with added costs, has increased fire hazards, has added to the defilement of the environment by litter — all to stop a practice responsible for three one-thousandths of the air pollution.

Meanwhile, until last week — after considerable pressure — the district had refused even to disclose which industries are the prime offenders among those producing 48.6 per cent of air pollution. Its use of its enforcement powers against industries has been marked by "all deliberate speed" even more deliberate than the desegregation of southern schools.

BIOLOGIST GROWTH deserves a vote of thanks from the smog district and all its citizens for putting the matter into perspective. The district needs to put its enforcement into the same perspective.

In other words, put first things first.

The Glorified Reptiles

On the evolutionary tree, the nearest relative to the birds are the reptiles. Though greatly modified, the bird's skeleton most closely resemble the reptilian type. Birds have scales on their legs and feet, and even their feathers are modified reptilian scales, both having even the same chemical composition.

Some contentious zoologists have said that birds are merely glorified reptiles. And the ornithologist replies, "Yes, but how wonderfully glorified!" For this is the reptile that flies, sings, brightens the landscape with a hundred different colors of plumage, and helps man in his struggle to control insects.

How wonderfully glorified indeed!

There Really Is 'Now Generation' And It Has Reasons For Being

By GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

Editor's Note: This column is by the son in the Drummond writing team. It attepmts to explain today's youth to today's adults. His father will write Wednesday's column attempting to explain adults to today's youth.)

WASHINGTON — There really is a NOW generation.

It's not just an advertising slogan.

Today's youth has a sense of urgency—a passionate conviction that things must be done NOW which few adults feel as keenly.

End pollution NOW. Out of Vietnam NOW. Black studies NOW.

There are reasons.

THIS GENERATION is the first ever to grow up in a world which can destroy mankind—instantly by the biggest bang ever or slowly by heedless overpopulation and overpollution.

Adults may live with this fatalistically and calmly. Many young people don't, and let's respect them for it.

And the dissatisfaction of youth is increased by the feeling--and the fact—that the "peace of nuclear peril" is not of their making nor under their control.

And the draft and Vietnam. How can you plan your life with the thought of young death facing you? Add that youth is in school longer now than ever, which makes them dependent members of society longer into their maturing years.

WE FEED their minds and frustrate their desire to exercise them in a way meaning something to their lives. They are taught what's wrong with the world and theories on how to right it, and they feel more ready to do something about it NOW.

Youth hasn't yet seen that it all can't be done overnight.

Other factors contribute to the feeling that NOW is paramount. Far-reaching changes in our technological society make the future more certain to be far different from the present. It will be more impersonal and more Big brother.

YOUTH WANTS at least a hand in the immediate forces that shape their lives. That's why they want more control of their schools and universities.

And there is a lot wrong with the way we run our lives, our government and our country. We believe our society can provide the good life for all. But it hasn't. Much youth feels society has failed miserably where it should succeed outstandingly. Youth says do it NOW and some say do it OR ELSE.

Youth is down on amassing material things, called affluence. Why? Young people didn't suffer through the depression of the '30s and didn't have to spend their lives just surviving. They didn't fight in a war which we all felt patriotic and right and necessary for national survival.

WHAT THEN is the NOW generation? It's a minority. It isn't what most kids are, but this column is about the kids we are all talking about.

NOW means that there is something better than affluence. NOW means that if the world may blow up tomorrow, what good is it to have a lot of things, possessions? Then what is good to have? Freedom, peace, a sense of who-I-am, control over my own life, a value system of people over property—partly because if all life may disappear in a world nuclear blast, what's of most value NOW?

Many young people can afford to look beyond affluence. They don't need to scratch for a living. If it's good enough for the dad why should it be good enough for the son? Why not better? Many of today's adults lived in fear. Much of what they have accomplished allows youth to live in hope.

THE MOST RADICAL of youth—a small minority—wants to destroy our society because it sees it as so bad as to merit destruction without even an idea of what to replace it with. Other youth wants IN—in on the decisions which shape their lives. In a world of increasing impersonality, they are fighting to preserve their own personalities and persons.

And much youth is pretty well satisfied, knows where it's going and is on its way.

All youth is entitled to understanding. Who knows? they may well be doing, saying, thinking something today that will prove to be very right tomorrow.

Cost To Hub City Of Planning Study

In the April 2 edition of the Independent-Journal there was a news article in regard to the "revolt slate" meeting which was held in the multi-purpose room at the Isabel Cook school on the evening of April 1. According to the news report one of the "revolt slate" candidates, in discussing the proposed "701 plan" for the city, stated that this plan will cost the city $40,000, etc.

In order to set the records straight for the citizens of our community, it should be pointed out that the cost to the city would be $30,002, and not $40,000. Actually, the cost as approved by the city council on Feb. 24, was $31,502, but $1,500 of this amount would be borne by the San Anselmo Elementary School District.

But Did The Dogs Ever Come Back?

This evening, I found myself in a rather uncomfortable position. My father left the back door open and our dachshund got out followed by a small white poodle that had never been out of the house before. Upon calling the Humane Society number in the phone book, I was informed that this was only an emergency number, and they could give me no information as concerned any dogs picked up during the day but if I had a dog, cat, etc., that was injured, they could take care of it. The police department could tell me no more. The sheriff's department, etc.

I know there must be someone on duty at all hours, or there should be. And information should be available to the general public, as regards the status of any animal. We spend a great deal of the taxpayers' money every day taking care of burns, but the people that yap taxes have little say about these expenditures. And when a community supported agency can't answer a question because of some lame excuse, we, the public, should either do away with the agency or straighten it out.

In the past few weeks, there have been many complaints as regards the way this humane (?) society is being run, and it's about time the silent majority becomes very loud. It should be either shape up or get out.

Another Case Of Office Affinity

I have another case of affinity between candidate and office.

We are fortunate in Marin County to have a man running for the Board of Equalization who is not only qualified, but a dedicated, honest, public servant.

He has had thirteen years in the public utilities engineering (C.P.U.C.) field, seven years industrial engineering (costs, etc.). He is a registered industrial and mechanical engineer, and a 1949 I.E. Berkeley graduate, so he is well versed in cost analysis and taxation.

He has twice been elected to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District board. He is a hard working grass roots Republican, who happens to be my husband.

National Effort Asked For Cancer Cure By '76

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Congress is being asked to formally proclaim a national priority crusade to develop a cure for cancer by 1976 — as an epochal achievement to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Rep. John Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman of a house appropriations subcommittee, has introduced a "sense of the Congress" resolution calling for a "supreme effort in the next six years so that in 1976 we can commemorate the 200th anniversary of the independence of this country with the demise of cancer."

Citing the historic creation of the atomic bomb in World War II and recently the sending of two teams of astronauts to the moon, the veteran legislator asserted the development of a cure of cancer is equally possible.

"THERE ARE NO limits to what we can do as a nation," said Rooney, "if we have sufficient dedication and dispose all our talents and resources to a given goal."

The prospects for an early breakthrough in curing cancer are very real, Rooney declared, particularly in the fields of surgery, radiotherapy and chemotherapy. In the latter, he pointed out, " a great fund of knowledge in the treatment of advanced disseminated cancers has been developed."

"There is no reason why this nation with its medical minds and medical resources, backed up by federal funds in a total national effort, cannot solve the mystery of cancer, not only to cure every patient who gets the disease, but to prevent the disease as well and bring to an end its stupendous cost in money, suffereing and loss of life," maintained Rooney.

Noting that 25 years ago a cancer victim had only one chance in five to survive, today the prospects are two in five that he will live for more than five years.

"That is progress" said Rooney, "but it is not enough progress for a nation such as ours against a disease such as cancer. We must and can do a great deal more."

HE CITED the "enormous progress" made in recent years in overcoming leukemia. It is now possible, Rooney pointed out, to "gain complete though temporary remission in more than 90 per cent of the cases in one form of leukemia. And what has been learned in the treatment of cancer cells in leukemia is now being used against solid cancers."

Similarly there is great hope in the immediate future in viruses which are now known to cause cancer in animals.

"This year we are stepping up the research program in viruses," declared Rooney, "but there is urgent need to do a great deal more. We should have a vaccine and be able to prevent some types of cancer as we do smallpox, measles and poliomyelitis."

It's entirely a question of determination and the application of brains and resources, Rooney held. If we can develop an atomic bomb and send men to the moon, then we can evolve a cure for cancer.

"What I am proposing," said Rooney, "is that we do as much in cancer as we did in the nuclear and space fields."

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Annual Session Of Legislature Fails To Prevent Log-Jams

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO, (CNS)—One of the arguments on behalf of regular annual session for the state legislature in 1966, when voters of the state approved Proposition 1A, was that the annual session would eliminate the "log-jam" encountered every year.

After nearly four years of the annual session, the "log-jams" have just become worse.

The legislature provided a period for the introduction of bills, which this year ended April 3, after which new bills may come before the legislature only on vote of three-quarters of each house agreeing.

Of course, the members always agree if a colleague wants to introduce a bill he may have forgotten during the introduction period, and the vote is easy to get. But this right is not exercised too often.

THE POINT, however, is that the members have three months in which to introduce bills before the cut-off date arrives.

And the fact is that almost as many bills are introduced during the last three days of this introduction period, as during the rest of the entire period!

While generally, the public does not appear to care whether the majority of the bills come in the last three or four days or not, there appear to be somewhat compelling reasons for avoiding the resultant "log-jam" and attempting to live up to the idea propunded in the constitutional amendment which authorized the annual session.

AMONG THE REASONS is the matter of economy. If legislators can waste nearly three months before they get down to serious business, why should the public foot the expense bill for having them in Sacramento during this period? At $25 a day, times 120 legislators, costs would be materially reduced were the legislators to stay home, mail their bills in for the legislative counsel to prepare, meet three months after the first of the year and dump the bills in the hopper all in a group.

Not much would be missed in any event, for according to the rules, no bill may be heard in committee until 30 days after it is introduced.

The practice of throwing so many bills in the legislature at the last moment could be a practice adopted to lengthen days of the session, at $25 per day, thereby increasing costs.

THE OTHER ANNUAL log-jam the legislature encounters is even more of its own making than the one at the close of the bill introduction period.

This is at the close of the session, when the files are thick with bills on which action should have been taken long before.

At both these log-jams, the public is deprived of information to which it entitled, or at least, which it could have had in the event there had been reasonably even introductions and considerations of bills.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A hen-pecked husband was futilely hunting for a parking space at the theater hour in New York when his wife shrilled out to him, as she prepared to amble to her seat without him, "Don't park it near any pigeons, you fool! Remember I had it washed just three days ago!"

The first time the famous old vaudeville team of Block and Sully played London's Palladium Theatre, Miss Sully suddenly discovered that her necklace was missing. "Don't worry," soothed Block. "There are no gangsters over here. All we have to do is summon Scotland Yard."

In due course, exactly the kind of character they were expecting turned up from the Yard—complete with walrus mustache, derby, rolled umbrella and black notebook. They heard nothing from him for 24 hours. Then Block was told he was calling. "What did I tell you?" he exulted. When he returned to the dressing room, Miss Sully demanded, "Has he recovered my necklace?"

Well, anyway you can't say it's a dull world.

If you live in New York City, when you get up in the morning you never know whether you'll have a morning paper. Or whether the subways will run. Or whether there will be any school, garbage collection or snow removal. You can't be too sure whether there'll be anyone to take care of you if you go to the hsopital, or anyone to bury you if you're dead.

THINGS AREN'T much less exciting elsewhere.

If you live in Pittsburgh, for example, you are equally uncertain whether it is wise to get sick since the hospital employees may or may not show up for work. The same in Charleston, S.C.

If you live in Atlanta, it's not only the garbage but all city services. The same in Cincinnati. Or if you live in San Francisco you may find the whole city's transportation system shut down—ships in port, buses and even the venerable cable cars.

SO IT GOES. There are few cities of any size that have escaped one or more of such shutdowns within the past year or so, and even those which have so far escaped know that they are no longer immune. It could happen anywhere.

And of course no matter where you live you can't be sure the planes or trains will run, the telephones work or the mails get through.

There are several things common to these lively experiences. All involve not acts of God, or accidents, but strikes. With the possible exception of newspapers, they all involve essential public services, and at least you can say that without newspapers it's harder to keep track of what else isn't working. Many of them, moreover, are caused by strikes of public employes and are therefore not only inconvenient but illegal.

FINALLY, they are all caused by adults.

This last bit of commonality, which at first may strike you as laboring the obvious, is really worth pondering. We of the paternal generation spend a great deal of time berating our young for their resort to confrontations as a way of impressing their views upon society. We cry alarm at their disregard of the public order, their disdain for all authority, their lack of a sense of responsibility toward the community, whether in evading the draft or shutting down the college.

The question is, Who are we to complain?

Powerful Lot Of Sleepers In West Marin Master Plan

The now-famous West Marin Master Plan, which set density at 1.15 units per acre, had some complicated sleepers in it that are coming back to plague the county supervisors.

The first major "test case" came in the form of the 63-acre Tomales Bay Farm north of Marshall, where Herbert Angress wnats to put in a restaurant-lodge, youth hostel, camp grounds, and residences of all types.

Supervisors sat aghast as the plans unfolded.

THE MAIN TROUBLE was that under a loose interpretation of the West Marin Master Plan, the same land could be used twice—once to compute residential density and again to allow resort-commercial.

Angress's attorney, Gil Medeiros, argued that mathematically, the 63-acre Tomales Bay Farm would be eligible for 119 residences, plus the resort commercial (60-room lodge, 57 camping units, and 60-bed hostel), or a total of almost 300 living quarters both permanent and transient. That would be a density of 4.7 units per acre.

But instead of asking for the full 119 residences, they are willing to cut residences to 78, in addition to the hostel, campgrounds and lodge-restaurant, pier and boating facilities.

If the 1.15 density is not to become a complete farce, obviously something has to be done to change the master plan wording, tighten up drastically on interpretation, or at least set up a conversion formula whereby so many camping units or motel rooms or restaurant seats would be equivalent to one residential unit.

Otherwise, we're going to have a sea of roofs ringing the relatively flat areas of Tomales Bay shoreline.

SOMEWHERE IN THAT old San Rafael Courthouse is supposed to be a cornerstone where artifacts and documents from the 1800s are tucked away.

The county made sure, when it sold the courthouse square, that it retained rights to any such documents that may be unearthed from the cornerstone. The doughboy statue in front is also specifically marked for preservation and transfer to a new site at the Civic Center.

There's something intriguing and romantic about unearthing relics from a previous era. We always lament the fact that our forefathers didnt' have the foresight or the consideration to stash away documents, (or better yet, old coins and even dollar bills), for us to unearth a century or two later.

Next time you build an office or a home, might be a good idea to lay your own cornerstone so that in the year 2070 or 2170, your heirs can strike it rich when they find coins and bills which their great grandpappy had the foresight to put away back in 1970.

RESULTS OF a week-end traffic survey over the Golden Gate Bridge tosses out the notion that Marin gets all the benefit from the span and San Francisco very little.

On week days, it's true that Marin commuters stream across to work in the city. But week ends, the reverse occurs—San Franciscans stream across the bridge to soak in the sun and enjoy the water and air.

The charge that "you clutter up our streets with cars and buses", can be tossed in both directions.

Probation, Fine

Gerald Oliver Dewhirst, 43, of Berkeley, has been placed on six months probation and fined $302 in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested March 22 on Highway 101.

Plant Of A Revolutionary: 'Too Much Of Love; No Hate'

Some years ago in Cuba, in the days of Batista, I was at the Toledo Cafe in one of the back dining rooms, lunching on longostinos and crab with my friend, Jose Manolo Lopez, revolutionary (now dead).

"These are the bad times," I remember him saying, his mouth full of white crab meat. "These are the times we are coming in, when black is out and everything is made white. Hate is losing its importance in the affairs of men and love is being whipped to fill its place."

His dark eyes became darker. He was not one to be serious often. This was one of the seldom times. Born of rich parents, educated in the States, he could have settled for the easy existence but for that unholy rumbling within him, that great restlessness.

"IT IS TRUE," he continued, "there has been too much hate. But it should not be put down altogether. Look what happened to jealousy. Othello made it out of fashion. Now it is classed a disease, like alcoholism."

"It is no longer a sabre," I said, "but a foil. It is more civilized that way."

"Ah, it is so, amigo, es verdad."

He had come to Havana to spend a few days from the Isle of Pines where, in respect for his father who was favored by the Batista-ites, he had been exiled rather than executed.

MANOLO, being Manolo, and enjoying the pleasures of danger, could not stay long on that lonely, quiet island managing a branch of his father's bank. The work was too prosaic for his temper, the tranquil life too bland. So he had smuggled himself back to Havana for a few days "to see some lights", he said, but you knew better. You knew Manolo and you knew the bulge under his belt was a .45 automatic and he had come to push the revolution, the cause of his exile in the first place.

"Vengeance is not understood any more," he said. "It is an ancient feeling, a Homeric emotion, and it took a long time to die. Today, men recoil from it—bah!"

"IS THAT what you are after, vengeance?"

"No, amigo, it is hate that I have and I am not ashamed of it. I do not think a man should be ashamed of his hate, if his hate can stand up."

We ate, drank, talked and soon darkness came. Then the days passed and Manolo was killed in that part of old Havana, just off the Prado, not far from the Malecon, shot to death in the streets, a la Chicago.

THAT WAS NOT so long ago, a dozen years or so. And I think now of Manolo and I think, wondering how it all would have gone had he not been shot down, wondering what a difference there would have been if Manolo's revolution. . .

Yes, he was a revolutionary, that one. A revolutionary who knew of many things—of people, of ideas, of feelings, of hating and of loving too.

He knew that when there's a toleration for that which should be intolerable, there's a corruption. He knew that when there's hate where no hate should be, there's a sickness—just as he knew that when there's love where there's nothing worthy of love, that too, is a sickness.

"The important thing to remember," he told me then, "is the judgement. It is the judgement that counts."

Manolo was a revolutionary who had a good hate and a bad judgement and he was killed in the streets of Havana, a not-so-long-ago time.

Deadline Is Extended On Ecology Contest

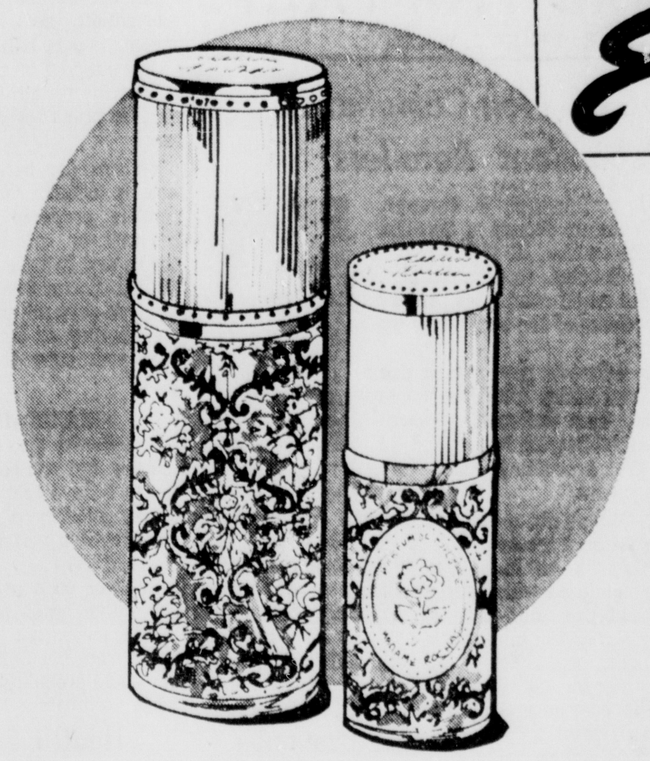

Deadline for entries in the "Let's Look at Mill Valley" contest, sponsored by the businessmen's committee of the chamber of commerce, has been extended one month, according to Christian R. Steindl, chamber member.

May 1 is the new deadline for the contest, which backers hope will spotlight "environmental deficiencies" and suggest ways of coping with them.

The contest, open to individuals or groups in the greater Mill Valley area, consists of written statements, use of the arts or both, dealing with ecology, pollution, litter, noise and odor, traffic, architecture, planning and other related topics. A plan for corrective measures must be included, Steindl said.

Entries must be submitted at the chamber office, 85 Throckmorton Avenue. Winners will be announced and awards presented at a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. May 8 at the Mill Valley Art Club. Reservations may be made through the chamber.

With rear section cut away, you see axle as it flexes with road.

"Mercedes-Benz cars have to cope with the roughest roads in Europe. That's why we build our axles this way—not as a rigid, one-piece beam."

EVER make the mistake of taking what you thought was a shortcut?

You chose a road that looked quicker on the map. But you were soon jolted into admitting your error. You had to fight to keep control as your car bottomed and bounced at every rut and bump.

That's because most cars are designed to provide a "boulevard ride." Provided you stay on boulevards and turnpikes.

Articulated rear axle tames rough roads.

Try that same shortcut with a Mercedes-Benz. You'll appreciate the feeling of control when you slam into that first unexpected chuckhole. And you'll notice less pitching and bouncing over bumps and railroad crossings. Even washboard surfaces and cobblestones won't produce that skitterish, you're-about-to-lose-it feeling.

Independent rear suspension

Our secret: An articulated rear axle. A sophisticated and tough combination of shafts and joints that allows each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other. Just as the front wheels do. To give you a smooth ride without compromising road-holding.

But the advantages of independent rear suspension aren't limited to rough going. On a turnpike the benefits are more subtle, but perhaps even more important.

Tracks like an arrow

When you aim a Mercedes-Benz down an expressway, you'll find it tracks like an arrow, without those tiny steering corrections you used to make for "road wander."

Slap it over tar strips. The suspension soaks them up with firm control. Not four or five reverberations.

And if you've ever been lulled by high-speed expressway driving into taking an exit just a bit too fast, you'll appreciate the adhesive cornering power of Mercedes-Benz' independent suspension. It gives you an extra margin of control that somehow keeps your palms a little drier and your brake foot a little less itchy.

Disc brakes on all four wheels

Automotive editors and engineers agree that disc brakes are superior to common drum brakes. So when it comes to brakes, our philosophy is simple. Use disc brakes. Not just on the front wheels. Not as optional extras. Use them on all four wheels. Offer no options.

The four disc brakes on a Mercedes-Benz will help you stop surer, smoother and reduce the chances of fade and lockup.

How to judge a car

Before you judge the character of a car, you should view it as a totality. Somewhat the way you judge the character of a person. So here are a few more points to help you judge a Mercedes-Benz.

1. Our overhead camshaft engines are precisely machined, balanced and bench tested to withstand the rigors of Germany's Autobahns. At American speed limits, a Mercedes-Benz is literally loafing.

2. Subtle characteristics of tires have profound effects on the overall performance of a car. Tires used on our cars are tuned to the movements of our suspension, so they'll work as integral parts of the total system.

3. All the engineering and automotive theory in the world isn't going to build a great car. The actual building is up to the craftsmen in the factory.

That's why we use skilled cabinetmakers to craft and fit the wood trim. Former dressmakers to sew the upholstery. And an assembly line that pokes along, always willing to switch off an imperfect car when one of our 2,000 or so inspectors says, "No that's not good enough."

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Problem of Non-Compliance By Independent Retailers

IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower, addressing the California Society of Certified Public Accountants on Nov. 13, 1969, in San Francisco, stated in effect, that independent retailers and other small companies present the most acute problem of non-compliance we have.

Many times a failure to pay taxes is due to inadvertence and comes from inadequate accounting, rather than dishonesty, "where records are poor, bookkeeping is poor and we frequently find that accounting for tax purposes is poor."

Thrower said, "We all recognize that this is an area where our assistance has to be increased." He sympathized with small business and their difficulties in finding accounting talent at a reasonable price. He would like to see coordinated efforts by state and local governments as well as federal agencies to reduce "the amount of paper work imposed on small businessmen."

IRS "YARDSTICK"

Thrower added that the IRS "yardstick" for judging any proposed IRS policy is whether it could contribute to voluntary compliance and minimize the need for "enforcement activities."

In other words, it looks like the IRS is going to increase their auditing of small business particularly those which have little or no records to audit, since these are probably the ones that, because of the lack of records, are not able to fully comply with the many rules governing their operation and to pay the many different taxes imposed on them.

Since January 1969, the IRS has been using a mathematical formula on individual returns with adjusted gross incomes under $10,000 to determine which returns should be audited.

This formula known as DIM mathematically selects returns to be audited according to basic percentages of various deductions claimed.

The taxpayer's deductions must be within a certain percentage of his adjusted gross income, otherwise the return will be selected for audit. The big question is what percentages can you deduct and still be safe. If you have a deduction that seems to you to be large in relation to your income, you should fully explain it on your tax return or on a sheet of paper and attach it to your tax return, and you should maintain documentary evidence to support the deduction in your tax file.

TAKE DEDUCTION

If you have a deduction, you should take it regardless of the amount, and since your taxes are self-assessed and since the burden of proof is on you, you should maintain adequate records to prove every item entered on you tax return.

You will probably file your 1970 returns, that is the ones due by April 15, 1971, at Fresno.

Under the current timetable, IRS expects the $30 million center which will employ some 4,000 persons during its peak operating periods to be ready for use by January 1971.

The IRS says the center is vitally important in the processing of federal income tax returns and has estimated the federal government stands to lose about a half-billion dollars in revenue during 1970 because of inadequate facilities.

This means that the IRS will be able to process our returns quicker and easier and more efficiently and also that they will be able to spot areas that require verification or returns that should be audited more readily and that we will be due for more auditing than ever before.

FULL RECORDS

This year should be the year in which you keep full, complete and detailed records of every transaction which could possibly affect your income tax return.

People lose deductions not because they are not entitled to them, but because they cannot substantiate them. Good record keeping is over half the battle.

How can you be sure that you will not be penalized for negligence in preparing your tax return?

Perhaps the best way to be sure is to have the tax return actually prepared by the accountant or attorney of your choice and to keep in your possession documentary evidence that you gave full information to the attorney or accountant and keep your copy of the tax return.

SELECT ADVISER

You should also be prepared to show that you had every reason to believe that the accountant or attorney of your choice was one who was competent in tax matters.

Reliance on a certified public accountant or an attorney or a public accountant holding a license from the State of California would probably suffice.

Crossing Safety Discussion Set

Steps to increase pedestrian safety at Sonoma Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will be discussed again when the San Anselmo School District board meets at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in an adjourned meeting at Hidden Valley school.

City plans for a safety barrier were criticized last month by the board.

The board also will hear reports on multi-ethnic education and the foreign language program, and will discuss an election July 21 to replace former board president Corneail B. Busse, who resigned last month.

Bolinas Station Contract Is Set

A $24,000 contract has been awarded to J. W. Higgins of Petaluma, lowest of seven bidders, to construct the Bolinas fire station, according to Hurford Sharon, acting board chairman.

The bids were opened Monday and the contract awarded Wednesday, Sharon said.

The fire board, Higgins and Don R. Hoffman, Novato architect of the building, were meeting today to determine the starting date of construction, Hoffman said.

Health Survey

Results of a survey of other social agencies on future needs and priorities in the mental health program will be discussed when the Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board meets at 8 p.m. April 15 in the coral room of Marin General Hospital.

Drive Against Secrets Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP) —Sen. William Proxmire introduced a bill today which would curb the use of secret foreign bank accounts, especially to buy U.S. stocks and bonds.

The Wisconsin Democrat's measure would require a broker to disclose the name of his client buying U.S. securities through accounts in such countries as Switzerland.

In 1968, foreign stock transactions on the New York Stock Exchange amounted to nearly $24 billion, up $18 billion from 1964, and accounting for eight per cent of the exchange's volume.

The bill's targets, Proxmire said, are income tax dodgers, illegal takeover of U.S. firms, stock manipulation and circumvention of margin requirements.

New Rules For Covering Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has imposed new restrictions on White House newsmen covering his activities.

The new rules make it harder to talk to the President personally on social occasions, a good time to get to know what the President is like and to get a story.

Reporters were barred Sunday from going through the receiving line with guests at the White House worship service. Saturday night the reporters were told not to approach the Nixons at parties such as the dinner that night for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

The rules were laid down by Constance Stuart, a press secretary for Mrs. Nixon, who said they came from the President himself.

FOR FOUR-year-old Brian Flahive the days pass quickly at Marin General Hospital, where he is a patient, because he has a play therapist, Janice Shobar, to help him with activities such as blowing up a balloon. There is a teen-age volunteer every day to talk with the children, help them eat, organize activities and supply them with toys and other play material. Brian's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flahive of Corte Madera.

Teens Cheer Tots In 'Pedi'

The lonely, sometimes frightening, and often uncomfortable hours that sick children spend as patients in Marin General Hospital are eased by the efforts of seven teenage girls — pioneers in a volunteer program known at the hospital as play therapy.

The seven, who are Junior Pink Ladies in the Volunteer program at Marin General, include Mary Rayden of Greenbrae, Janet Walsh and Janice Shobar of Larkspur, Emily Homer and Terry Adkins of San Anselmo, Claire Fagley of Tiburon and Diane Pizzio of Mill Valley.

EMILY AND TERRY are students at Sir Francis Drake High School, Diane attends Tamalpais High School, and the other girls are from Redwood High School.

A former play therapist, Cathy Horowitz of Greenbrae, was graduated from Redwood High School in February and left last week to attend Colorado State University. Before leaving she discussed the program.

"We don't have any assigned tasks," said Cathy. "It's a completely creative job — and the object is to help fill those lonesome hours between visits from parents. The nurses obviously love the children just as we do, but they haven't time to stop and talk or help the kids with a puzzle. That's where we come in."

April marked the first anniversary of their commitment to offer play and companionship to the young patients of the Pediatric Department — a highly experimental program that has won the hearts of the girls and has earned the grateful praise of nurses, parents and the children themselves.

EACH OF THE girls gives one afternoon a week, talking with the children, helping them eat supper, organizing group activities where possible, supplying the bedfast with toys and play materials.

The play therapy program is sponsored by the Jack and Jill Branch of the MGH Volunteers, a branch formed specifically to offer service to the Pediatrics Department. When the Jack and Jill Branch was formed in 1966, the then president Mrs. Charles Allen of Kentfield invited a pediatrician on the hospital staff to outline ways in which the 35 women members could help.

He gave them three "assignments:"

1. To purchase toys and pediatrics equipment — and this the branch has done supplying everything from coloring books to play pens, stuffed animals to high chairs in the "toy" category, and such complex medical equipment as isolettes, infusion pumps and electric beds. Altogether — thanks to the branch's annual fund-raising parties — Jack and Jill has spent more than $10,000 for "pedi," as the department is known to insiders.

2. To conduct tours through the hospital, and particularly "pedi," for youngsters who will soon check into the hospital for elective surgery, such as removal of their tonsils. VIPP (Very Important Pediatric Patient) tours are scheduled every Friday, and serve to take the mystery, and hence much of the fright, out of hospital procedures.

3. To provide the services of a "special person" who could appear daily to provide activity for the sick youngsters.

"ORIGINALLY WE thought we'd hire a professional in the field of crafts," says Mrs. Allen. "Then we thought maybe art students at the College of Marin could help out. But then we hit on this."

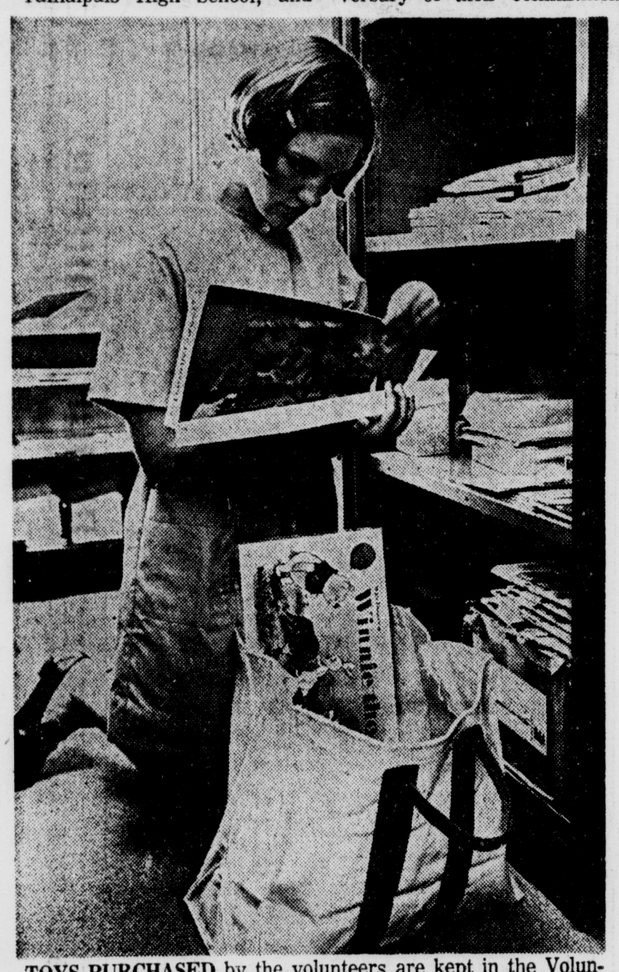

As one pediatrician points out, "No one can relate to kids better than other kids."

Jack and Jill members invited a number of high school girls to participate in the program on an experimental basis. Many of those who signed up were experienced in hospital volunteer work or had been members of the hospital work experience program offered by the Tamalpais Union High School District.

"WE DIDN'T HAVE any special training," said Cathy. "We let the kids train us."

TOYS PURCHASED by the volunteers are kept in the Volunteer Office of the hospital because they require supervision by a play therapist. After finding out how many children are in pediatrics and their ages, Claire Fagley fills her "bag of tricks" and will return to pediatrics to offer toys to the children and help them get started on activities.

FORMER play therapist, Cathy Horowitz, discussed the program before leaving to attend college in Colorado.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Marin Women

And so the program was a natural from the first.

Cathy outlined a typical Play Therapist's day: "First I check to see how many kids there are in "pedi," and I find out how sick they are and what ages they are, and then I go (to the toy cabinet) and fill my bag of tricks." Jack and Jill has purchased a cupboard of toys for "pedi;" many more toys bought specifically for the play therapy program are kept in the Volunteer Office.

The girls then go from room to room offering toys and helping the children get started on some activity. Sometimes they are down on hands and knees in the playroom playing jacks, sometimes encouraging youngsters to draw, sometimes just "rapping" with the older children who are delighted to talk to someone near their own age.

"WE'RE COMPLETELY independent of the nurses, and I think that's one reason they like to have us come — we know what to do, and we just do it," Cathy said.

The most important part of the day, Cathy feels, is late afternoon, just before working parents start drifting in for a visit, and just after new patients have been left alone for the first time.

"Actually, we're only supposed to stay until about 5:30, but I found myself there till 8 o'clock lots of times," she says. She often helped children eat their suppers and tried to get new patients feeling at home before she left them.

"They're terrific," says Mrs. Allen, whose job in Jack and Jill this year has been to initiate and administer the play therapy program. "They have an instinct for knowing what to do."

Mrs. Carol Horst, who is the head pediatric nurse during the afternoon and evening, praises the young women; "The youngsters need someone, and we nurses just don't have the time. It's really tremendously helpful to have them."

EVERY FEW MONTHS, the girls get together with Mrs. Allen to analyze what they're doing, to tackle special problems and to see what they can do better. Here girls make suggestions about toys the branch might buy to help the program along. They plan ways to help adult members of the branch in the holiday parties they give for the children.

Once assigned to duty as play therapists, the girls have been extremely faithful in their jobs, Mrs. Allen says. Several have had to resign because of school as Cathy did or job commitments, but there is always a waiting list to fill any openings.

"It was very hard to quit; I was so involved," said Cathy. "I used to meet my friend Colleen Fitzhenry, another former play therapist, before school at Redwood every day, so we could exchange information about how the kids were doing. When a child is in the hospital for several weeks, we all become very good friends. When one little girl went home, I volunteered to be her baby sitter."

Mrs. Walter C. Thomson Elected Sausalito Woman's Club Leader

Church and club work and education are among the major interests of Mrs. Walter C. Thomson, who has just been elected president of the Sausalito Woman's Club for 1970-71. She succeeds Mrs. Perry L. Brock, who has been president two years.

A member of the club 15 years, Martha Thomson served two years as a member of the club's board of directors and held various chairmanships of committees.

She has been involved many years in work for the Presbyterian Church from the local level as a member of the governing board of the Sausalito Presbyterian Church to the state level as a member of the ecumenical relations committee of the synod of the Golden Gate.

She is very much interested in education, having been a candidate for the Sausalito school board last year and at present is doing volunteer library work at Central School and volunteer tutoring of elementary school children.

MRS. WALTER THOMSON

Mrs. Thomson is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and before her marriage was employed as a chemical laboratory technician. She has lived in Marin since 1936, and her husband, a supervisorial engineer for the Military Sea Transportation Service in Oakland, has been a resident since 1932.

The Thomsons have four children. They are Carl Thomson of Santa Rosa; James Thomson, a captain with the 7th engineer battalion at Fort Carson, Colo.; Paul Thomson, a student at the College of Marin; and Martha Ann Thomson, who attends Central School in Sausalito.

Other new officers are Mmes. John B. Ehlen, first vice president; James E. Muldoon, second vice president; D. Power Booth, secretary; Francis A. Constable, treasurer; and Francis J. Griffin, financial secretary.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Giggling Teen-Age Girls Can Learn While They're Having Fun

DEAR HELEN:

My father! He's a pretty good guy, but he can't understand that teen-age girls just can't live without giggling.

I was doing my homework on the phone with my boy friend, and he said something that struck me funny. When Dad went by he heard me laughing and made me hang up because "That isn't homework!" Really, it was. My grades prove it.

Helen, can you make parents see that you can learn just as well when you're having fun at it?—FED UP SORTA

DEAR FUS's FATHER:

A teen-age girl without a giggle is like a mountain stream without its rifles. Rather than turn off the laughter, parents should hope their children always see the funny hide of life. —H.

(P.S. You're welcome, FUS!)

DEAR HELEN:

I am a popular high school ser a football, basketball and hockey star, so you can see I'm no square.

When the mini-skirts became popular a few years ago, the fellows and I were all crazy for them. Who were we to tell these stupid chicks that they give guys ideas? It didn't take us long to find out that the shorter a gal wore her skirt, the easier she was.

Well, here's my problem. My best buddy and I each have kid sisters who are wearing minis. We hear the guys talking about them and frankly I'm worried.

Don't girls know what fellows really think? I don't want a wife some day who has been the subject of discussion in the gym.—BIG BROTHER

DEAR B.B.:

Would you settle for skirts three inches above the knee—or are you a con man for Woman's Wear Daily, which is heading up a campaign to bring on the mid-is? Sorry, friend, I'm not in your camp.—H.

NOTE TO READERS: Keep those mini-votes coming! If you're against the mid-calf skirt, send me your postcard, and I'll forward them to POOFF (Preservation of our Femininity and Finances), opposition headquarters.—H

DEAR HELEN:

Girls write in a lot and ask you for addresses of overseas servicemen. They need letters, true, but how about those fellows in veterans' hospitals over here?

These men are badly wounded, sometimes face long months of pain, and they can be awfully lonely.

Why don't some of the girls who want to help, find a veterans' hospital and either visit or write the fellows there? I'll bet they could be of use as volunteer helpers too. Okay?—SARAH

DEAR SARAH:

Fine idea. Wounded veterans need all the cheering they can get. And hospitals are located in almost every state. Find 'em, girls!—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

NANCY BENNETT

Engagement Announced In Larkspur

Nancy Bennett's engagement to Stephen Rasmussen of Larkspur has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bennett of Kentfield.

Nancy will be graduated from Redwood High School in June and plans to attend Bay Cities College in San Francisco. She is the sister of Mrs. Douglas Davis of Fairfax, Richard, Allison and Clifford Bennett of Kentfield. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Morse and Mrs. Leon Bennett, all of Kentfield, are her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rasmussen of Larkspur are Stephen's parents. He is the brother of Michael Rasmussen of San Rafael and John and Sharon Rasmussen of Larkspur. He was graduated from Redwood High School and is serving with the Navy in San Diego.

Family Solves Phone Problems

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—A San Antonio family with five daughters have found their own answer to the use of a telephone and its privacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Rowe renovated an old telephone booth and placed it in the hall of their home. They equipped it with a yellow wall phone to provide exclusive use for their five daughters, three of whom are teen-agers.

"With five daughters needing a phone and privacy to use it a phone booth seemed ideal," said Mrs. Rowe. "I contacted the local telephone company and they told me how to get an old booth."

After sanding the booth and repainting it silver, orange and mustard, the Rowes placed it in a hallway of the house, centrally located to their daughters' bedrooms.

The girls—Janet, 17; Karen, 15; Donna, 13; Angie, 11; and Mindy, 9—agree the booth provides the privacy they want.

"It's become quite a conversation piece," said Mrs. Rowe. "With five daughters you know it gets plenty of use."

What Was Deleted From Pill Warning

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON—A few weeks ago, Food Administration chief Charles Edwards disclosed a 600-word warning about birth control pill hazards. He told a Senate hearing that the FDA wanted to have the statement inserted in all pill packages going to women users.

Then, the statement was cut to only 94 words, according to a drug newsletter which had obtained a later draft. What had happened in the meantime?

Representatives of the American Medical Association, the Planned Parenthood Association and other doctors' associations pleaded with top FDA and other government officials to tone down the warning. As a result, the original statement may never be circulated widely although it is now a public document as part of the Senate hearing records.

What finally comes out of the badgered FDA may not say much more than that oral contraceptives are effective but may cause harmful side effects such as bloood clotting.

Wording dropped from the original statement at the request of doctors said: "Your doctor has taken your medical history and has given you a careful physical examination." Left in the draft statement was a suggestion for users to have periodic examinations and report any changes in their health.

"There is a definite association between blood-clotting disorders and the use of oral contraceptives. The risk of this complication is six times higher for users than for non-users. The majority of blood-clotting disorders are not fatal. . .

"Women who have or who have had blood clots in the legs, lung, or brain should not take this drug. You should stop taking it and call your doctor immediately if you develop severe leg or chest pain, if you cough up blood, if you experience sudden and severe headaches, or if you cannot see clearly."

Other wording omitted included:

"If you have heart or kidney disease, asthma, high blood pressure, diabetes, epilepsy, fibroids of the uterus, migraine headaches, or if you have had any problems with mental depression, your doctor has indicated you need special supervision while taking oral contraceptives."

Among "serious" reactions in addition to blood clotting and mental depression cited by the earlier document were:

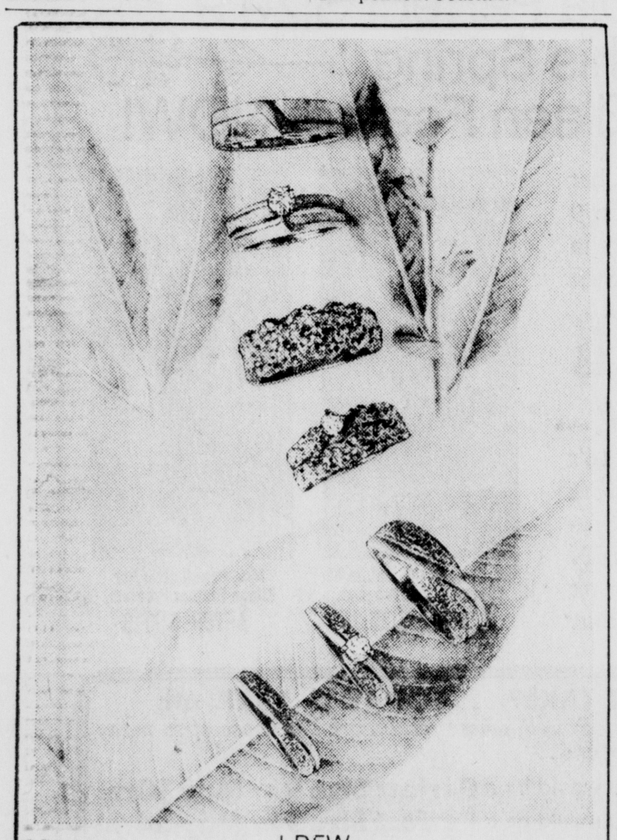

"Swelling, skin rash, jaundice or yellow pigment in your eyes, increase in blood pressure and increase in the sugar content of your blood similar to that seen in diabetes.

"Women taking the pill have reported headaches, nervousness, dizziness, fatigue and backache, changes in appetite . . ."

For the complete 600-word statement, send 20 cents in coins or stamps and a stamped and addressed return envelope to Dept. P, Consumer News Inc., 1023 National Press Building, Washington, D.C., 20004.

Wine Tasting Party On Friday
Victorian Setting For Guild's

The Mill Valley Guild of the Boyd Marin Museum of Science will have its annual wine tasting party for members and guests on Friday at 8 p.m.

The Lyman Emerson's Victorian carriage house on Miller Avenue, Mill Valley will again be the setting for the party, which is a kick-off for the guild's fund-raising rummage and bake sale on April 18. Party co-chairmen are Mmes. Frederick Baker and John R. Simpson III.

The sale, under the direction of fund-raising chairman Mrs. Edward Kuykendall, will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Brown's hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

SPRING FOLK Dance Frolic and Potluck Dinner will be held by the Belveron Homeowners Association on Friday evening at the Corinthian Yacht Club in Belvedere. Reservations chairman is Mrs. Lawrence Bogel of Tiburon. Cocktails start at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m., followed by entertainment by internationally-known folk-dancers. The audience may participate in some folk dances and regular dancing will follow. A special table for teen-agers is planned. The dance will benefit the association's beautification project.

THE MARIN Chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW) will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in room 255 of the Hall of Justice at Marin Civic Center. Organizers of the new chapter of the national civil rights group say that men are also invited to the meeting.

A GALA party on Saturday is being planned by Mr. and Mrs. James Potts, new social chairmen for the Mill Valley Tennis Club, to celebrate the first event to be held since remodeling was completed on the clubhouse.

They have named the Lee Gammills and Thomas Kearneys as chairmen for the catered dinner at 7 p.m., which will be followed by dancing to music by the dance band. Spring will be the theme of decor.

For entertainment the Kearneys will present a skit in which other club members will participate. Mrs. Potts and Mrs. Gammill are reservations chairmen.

Also planned by the social chairmen are scheduled monthly potluck dinners on Sundays. Members will play tennis in the afternoon preceding cocktails from 4 to 7 p.m., followed by dinner. The dinners will start with the beginning of daylight saving time and continue through the summer until it ends.

WOMEN WILL compete for prizes for spring bonnets they will create for the Saturday meeting of the American Association of Retired Persons at the First Methodist Church in San Rafael. Awards will go to the most original, the funniest and most old fashioned hat.

Also on the 1:30 p.m. program will be "The Story of the Bible," by John Hinkson.

ON THURSDAY the Sisterhood of Congregation Rodef Sholom of San Rafael will have a desert meeting, the desserts for which will be the entries in the Passover dessert contest. Prizes will be awarded and a collection of the recipes entered in the competition will be distributed at the meeting, which begins at 12:30 p.m. at Temple Rodef Sholom.

Rabbi Morton Hoffman will discuss the religious background of the Passover holiday in the temple sanctuary at 11:45 a.m. preceding the meeting.

THE MADRIGAL Singers of Domonican College under the direction of Winifred Baker, assistant professor of music at the college and director of the Winifred Baker Chorale, Children's Chorus and the San Francisco Civic Chorale, will present a program for the Thursday noon luncheon meeting of the United Presbyterian Women at Canoles Hall in San Rafael. Mrs. Neville Donovan, chairman for the day, will present the program. Mrs. Robert E. Burton's Circle is in charge of the luncheon.

THE MARIN Home Economists in Homemaking will meet with the county's home advisor, Miss Elizabeth Sanlin, tomorrow at 10 a.m., room 400, Marin Civic Center. Mrs. Herbert McCall is hostess.

THE NOVATO Chapter 609, order of Eastern Star, will hold a past matrons and past patrons meeting at 8 p.m., Thursday at the Druids Hall in Novato.

Chairman is Mrs. Leo Cunningham assisted by Mmes. Wallace Campbell, Carroll Cruz, H. H. Wehrer, George Roth, William McWilliams, William J. Smith, M. L. Meredith and Mr. Jerry Henderson.

THE DRAMA-Literary Section of the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club will have a program on "Origin and History of Perfume" by Mrs. Margaret Williams on Friday at noon at the clubhouse in Kentfield. Mmes. Thomas P. Cusick and Andrew M. Komora are co-chairmen.

MARIN COUNTY Legal Secretaries will meet Wednesday for dinner at La Casa Italian restaurant in San Rafael at 6:30 p.m. New officers will be elected and committee reports made. Earlier that day members will donate blood at the groups' account at the Marin Blood Center in San Rafael.

ST. JOHN'S Episcopal Church in Ross was the setting for the wedding of Jana Lee McPherson to Carlyle H. Black II of Kentfield. The reception followed at the Lagunitas Club in Ross. The couple will live in Oakland. Jana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. McPherson of Cupertino, formerly Greenbrae residents. (Golden Gate photo)

Order Catalogue Forecast To Replace Supermarkets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—An America without supermarkets?

Research done at Battelle Memorial Institute here, indicates that American supermarkets—which currently receive most of the nation's food dollars—may be extinct by the end of the century.

They probably will be replaced within 30 years by home delivery services, small neighborhood specialty stores and prepared food outlets, according to this look into the future.

"Housewives' shopping patterns are changing," Gerald Collings, a research economist at Battelle, told UPI. "They want more convenient, quicker shopping to give them more leisure time."

Collings said a preliminary study of consumer food shopping habits by Battelle showed a definite trend away from supermarket buying. Conversely, the study showed an increase in catalog sales, telephone ordering and home deliveries.

The supermarket came into being to give the housewife a vast array of goods from which to choose, he said, but this no longer is necessary.

The acceptance in recent years of proven-quality brand names and labels makes home delivery workable, not only of staple goods, but meats, vegetables, pastries and other groceries as well, he said.

"If she knows the canned soup, cube steak, or cream pie she orders this time will be the same as the one she bought a week ago, the housewife doesn't need to see it before she buys it," Collings said.

When home delivery becomes the chief method for consumers to obtain food, small neighborhood specialty food shops and prepared food outlets will appear in great numbers, Collings believes.

You are invited to attend the annual preview and luncheon of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council on April 14. Preview Cinema I, 10:00 a.m. Luncheon nearby Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. For tickets, $4.25, call Mrs. Joseph Diodati, 453-5506 before April 9.

Michael C. Wigell Weds In San Mateo

The Episcopal Church of St. Matthew in San Mateo was the setting for the wedding of Judith Gayle Gritsch of Hillsborough to Michael Carter Wigell of San Francisco.

Judith was attended by Beatrice Gracey as maid of honor and Mrs. Thomas Palma of San Jose and the bride's sister, Kathleen Gritsch of San Ramon, as the bridesmaids.

Charles Evans Jr. of San Francisco was the best man. The bride's brother, Ronald Gritsch of San Ramon, and James Leathers of San Francisco seated the guests.

The home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Gritsch of Hillsborough, was the setting for the reception afterward.

The couple will live in San Francisco upon their return from a wedding trip to Kauai.

Judy attended Crystal Springs School in Santa Cruz and was graduated from Burlingame High School. She also studied at Willamette University in Salem, Ore., and the University of Vienna. She is employed with Wells Fargo Bank as a business services specialist in San Francisco.

Judy is the sister of Gerald Gritsch of Portland, Ore., and Joseph R. Gritsch of Sacramento.

Michael's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Wigell of Kentfield and he is the brother of Jill Wigell. A graduate of Redwood High School and the University of Oregon, he is employed with Foremost-McKesson as assistant manager for marketing services in San Francisco.

Susan Clark Engaged To Warren Heringer

The engagement of Susan Jean Clark of Larkspur to Warren F. Heringer of Clarksburg has been announced by Susan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Clark of Larkspur.

Susan is the sister of Mrs. Michael Daly of San Francico and Cynthia Clark of Larkspur. She is a graduate of Redwood High School and is a junior at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Ore., where her sorority is Delta Phi Gamma.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Heringer of Clarksburg. Warren is the brother of James and Ralph Heringer, Mrs. Jack Mello and Donna Heringer. Mrs. Wilhelmine Yoakum of Oakland is his grandmother.

Warren was graduated from Clarksburg High School and from Lewis and Clark College. He is now taking graduate studies at the University of Southern California.

Young West Germans Find Woman Shartage

MUNICH, GERMANY (GF) — Almost half of West German men between 25 and 30 will be unable to marry women of the same age. Findings published by the Kiel Institute for Demoscopy show that for roughly one million men in this category, there are only about 420,000 marriage partners available.

The reason, according to the institute, is that many women in this age bracket prefer older men.

The situation is not much better for younger men, either. For 3.5 million single males under 25 there are only 2.8 million women.

Marriage prospects improve with age in Germany. Some 400,000 men aged 30 to 35 can select mates from 300,000 eligible women.

Life really begins with 40, at least for the men. Mainly because of the high death rate among men during World War II, there are only 200,000 single males. They can choose from 900,000 unmarried women.

CRA Reluctantly Backs Flournoy

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's oldest Republican organization today united behind the candidacies of six conservatives and, reluctantly, Controller Houston I. Flournoy.

One of the conservatives is Compton School board member Wendell T. Handy, the first Negro ever to be endorsed by the California Republican Assembly. He is running for secretary of state.

Amid the tumult of symphony music and light failures, the CRA concluded its annual convention Sunday by endorsing candidates for the June primary election, adopting several resolutions and choosing new officers.

The 391 delegates overruled their official endorsing committee and backed Flournoy on a split vote.

"I think we've made our point and I think it was a point we needed to make," the delegates were told by Richard Darling of Riverside, chairman of a "fact finding" committee which Friday night had found Flournoy too liberal to endorse.

Darling—a longtime CRA leader—told newsmen, "The point was we weren't too happy to be backing Flournoy. The California Republican Assembly is a conservative organization and we would rather back conservative candidates but we did not have one."

The incumbent's only Republican primary opponent, James Ware of Los Angeles, was judged "unqualified" by Darling's committee. Flournoy supporters lobbied delegates with the argument his official campaign sponsors included, among other people, Gov. Ronald Reagan.

With the volunteer group's endorsement normally comes grassroots campaign help and financial support. The organization claims more than 10,000 members.

In choosing Handy, the convention passed over two candidates generally regarded as the frontrunners for the GOP nomination.—Mrs. Alberta Jordan, widow of the late secretary of state Frank M. Jordan; and Assemblyman George W. Milias of Gilroy.

Delegates proclaimed that Handy, a 42-year-old food store owner, "exemplifies the principles, objectives and philosophy of the CRA."

Endorsed for attorney general was Sen. John L. Harmer of Glendale. The CRA said his "political philosophy closely parallels" its own.

The convention rejected a proposal to endorse all four Republican attorney general candidates—including Sen. George Deukmejian of Long Beach, Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger of Los Angeles and former state welfare secretary Spencer Williams.

The organization also:

Adopted resolution urging passage of legislation to mandate the death penalty for any persons who kills a policeman, asking the legislature to place a constitutional amendment on the ballot to prohibit mandatory busing of school children to achieve a racial balance, supporting Prop. 7 to raise from 5 to 7 per cent the maximum interest rate on government bonds, and asking the Nixon Administration to provide Israel with adequate military aid to defeat the Communist-backed Arabs.

Killed a resolution urging more liberalized abortion laws.

Francesco Trio Performs Magically In Series Finale

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The Francesco Trio—composed of ideally matched musicians—closed an unusually fine 10th season of five candlelight concerts last night at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley.

Marin music lovers owe much gratitude to the sponsoring Homestead Valley Community Association for making these outstanding concerts available over such a long peroid.

Composed of violinist David Abel, cellist Bonnie Hampton and pianist Nathan Schwartz, the trio made its reputation in the Bay Area before becoming the current artists-in-residence at Grinnel College in Iowa. I had, therefore, heard them a number of times before but had never heard them play so well.

This may be explained possibly by their additional years of building the ensemble and by the fact that the program they chose was eminently suited to their volatile, romantic style. Bonnie Hampton was perhaps a bit more controlled than she used to be, but Abel and Schwartz were more exuberant than ever.

Each of the three works programmed—Beethoven's Trio in C Minor, Opus 1, No. 3; Ives's Trio and Mendelssohn's Trio in D Minor, Opus 49, No. 1—was given a strong reading performed with complete faithfulness to the style of the composer and the particular composition.

Miss Hampton's tone was warm and glowing with unusual depth and opulence in the low register, and Abel's violin was pure magic. Both had perfect intonation and in the andantes of the Beethoven and Mendelssohn trios had such lyrical power that they were reminiscent of the human voice in its lowest and highest range.

Special credit must go to Schwartz for his crisp, crystaline touch in a steady flow of technically demanding passages that formed the solid foundation for the total tonal fabric and provided the impetus for the rhythmic strength that was a highlight of the entire performance.

The Beethoven trio was a strong reading conveying that composer's robust vigor even though the musicians had not yet warned to the pinnacle of their capacities.

Nothing more Ivesian could have been imagined than his trio that the group performed with dazzling effect. Though discordant, the first movement had rich sonority. The middle movement called TSIAJ, an acronym for "this scherzo is a joke," to me was more a tantalizing game of detecting familiar folk tunes and hymns, all played in wild cross-current rhythms, frequently off key as in the unexpected end to the otherwise traditional "Rock of Ages."

The Mendelssohn trio, played with sparkling grace and brilliance, was the highlight of the evening for me.

Poster Contest Is Announced

A poster contest, an open house and rides on fire engines will mark the Tiburon Volunteer Fire Department's commemoration of Fire Service Recognition Day May 9.

The fire station at 1679 Tiburon Boulevard will be open from 1 to 4 p.m., according to Lt. Lawrence J. Bogel, chairman.

The fire prevention poster contest is open to local school children. Prizes for grades 6-8 will be a $50 savings bond for first place and $15 cash for second. Prizes for grades 1-5 will be $15 and $5.

Application forms are available in Reed District schools.

Novato High Activity Day Slated Saturday

"Our Own Thing", the story of Novato High School's activities, will be presented for the second year from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the school.

The Parent-Faculty Club and the school have cooperated to make this an all-day exhibit at the school to raise funds for more bleachers for the football field.

The club will sell food all day in the cafeteria, have a cake sale there and hold a flea market at the tennis court. It will climax the day with cocktails and dancing from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Wild Horse Valley Club.

Athletic events of the day include baseball between Novato High School and Sir Francis Drake High School at 11 a.m. A lacrosse game will be played at 2 p.m. between the Novato Parks and Recreation team and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints of Novato. A synchronized swimming exhibition will be presented from 1:30

Special booths will demonstrate various subjects taught in the school: science, family life, drafting, mathematics, ecology, science fiction, yearbook, anthropology, electricity and aerospace science.

Demonstrations will be put on by the business department, home economics department, art department and language department. A new book display will be shown in the library.

The girls will demonstrate modern dancing at 11:30 a.m. in the girls gymnasium. This will be followed by gymnastics at noon and a Russian skit at 12:30 p.m. The drill team will perform at 2:30 p.m. and a vocal and orchestra concert will be held there at 3 p.m.

Other activities in the patio from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. will be a fair by the English department; engine assembly by the auto shop; easel painting by the art department and projects by the woodshop for sale.

Ross Hospital Drug Center Is Approved

The state Board of Medical Examiners has approved Ross General Hospital and Marin General Hospital for the treatment of drug addiction.

This means that the hospitals can accept drug addicts for treatment of withdrawal symptoms when they are referred from the courts, law enforcement officers or private patients referred by doctors.

At Ross General Hospital the treatment will be handled in a new, larger psychiatric unit, in what was formerly the rehabilitation center, with Dr. Bernard Bradman, psychiatrist in charge of the unit.

Patients or, in the case of minors, their parents, would be billed for the services, and medi-Cal can be applied. At Marin General Hospital if the patient were indigent, Marin County would be billed, and the Community Mental Health Services agency would be billed by Ross.

MARIN MUSIC CENTRE
Great-Sounding Phonograph.
Where is it?
KLH designed the Model Eleven-W stereo phonograph to produce a maximum of music with a minimum of visible equipment.
You will have to look hard to spot the Model Eleven-W in a room. Its control center is just a bit bigger than the records it plays, and the speakers are the size of shoeboxes.
But you don't have to search for the sound. It's as big as all indoors—the kind of sound produced only by massive and expensive audio systems.
The secret of the Model Eleven-W is a quality of engineering that no one ever thought of lavishing on something so small and unpretentious. KLH designed unique miniature speakers that can move more air (for really deep bass) than far larger console speakers, plus complementary electronic circuitry that provides exactly the proportion of power the speakers need at different frequencies.

As for what you can see, there is a custom built Garrard record changer with a Pickering magnetic cartridge and diamond stylus. And the cabinetry, what little there is of it, is of genuine walnut veneers, not plastic or the kind of wood that might as well be plastic.
Come in and search out the KLH* Model Eleven-W. You will find its sound out of all proportion to its size and cost.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

OVERPASS TAKES FORM

Wooden forms are lifted into place by crane at the southern end of the new San Rafael Overpass on Highway 101, as workmen ready steel reinforcement rods for the forms. Scheduled for completion during the summer of 1971, the $2.7 million project will provide three northbound and three southbound lanes through San Rafael. This photo, taken today, looks north over the southern section at Second Street.

Bruce To Give Supervisors A Gloomy Report On Reserve Funds

County Administrator Alan Bruce will report to the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow that county reserve funds are almost exhausted because of continued demands.

The county medical department will report a $45,000 deficiency in the fund for hospital care of the medically indigent. Much of this deficiency is caused by state rejection of payments, said Timothy M. Jackson, senior administrative analyst.

Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell will report a $14,000 deficiency in the fund to care for court wards in institutions and foster homes.

The board will get a late start tomorrow because they will meet as members of the Marin County Transit District until about 10 or 10:30 o'clock. They will then meet behind closed doors to instruct the county team that is negotiating with employee representatives on 1970-71 contracts.

The regular supervisors' agenda is set for 11 a.m.

Among items on the morning agenda are these:

The county's religious leaders will ask for the appointment of an impartial citizens committee to delve into the labor dispute between San Francisco Typographical Union 21 and the Independent-Journal.

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council will submit its proposal for a county manpower commission to coordinate the work of all agencies involved in training and placing the unemployed.

In the afternoon, the supervisors will discuss a six-year capital improvement program recommended by the county administrator. The proposal calls for an expenditure of $3,798,000 in the 1970-71 fiscal year, largely for roads.

Second Cluster School To Be For 'Expressive Arts'

The second in a series of new cluster schools will open at Sonoma State College in the fall, designed to teach the "expressive arts."

Offering a bachelors degree in liberal studies, the school will be headed by Dr. William E. McCreary, chairman of the division of psychology, education, health sciences and physical education.

The school will offer an advanced curriculum and students will have completed all or nearly all of the general education requirements at Sonoma State.

The cluster plan of Sonoma State to develop a series of small, specialized schools was approved last fall by the state college Board of Trustees. The first cluster school, the Robert Maynard Hutchins School of Liberal Studies, opened last fall with 100 students.

"The new program is conceived of as being unconventional and experimental," Dr. McCreary said. "It will provide a highly personalized structure where the student will be required to accept the major responsibility for his own education."

During the first semester at the expressive arts cluster, the student will participate in laboratories in psychology and the expressive arts, art and the self, creative writing and personal exploration in the theatre arts.

In following semesters, the work will be tailored to independent study.

The faculty will not function in the traditional fashion, but will be considered "in residence."

Marin Museum Civic Center Gallery Open

About 50 persons gathered on the first floor of the Civic Center for a preview of "Marin: Yesterday", an exhibit of historic art and artifacts dating back to the days of the Miwok Indians.

John F. McInnis, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, opened the exhibit gallery at 9:30 a.m.

Among those present were museum association president, Richard E. Dakin, Diane Bagley, chairman of the exhibit; Mrs. Edward Hayden, first president of the association; Mrs. Melville Owen and Mrs. Paul Haerle, who helped Mrs. Hayden launch the art appreciation program in Marin schools; Mrs. Jay Crotty, current chairman of the art appreciation program; Mrs. Thomas McWatters, who supervises all exhibits for the museum association; Inez Storer, director of today's exhibit, and Robert Mahoney, designer.

The "Marin: Yesterday" show will be on display through May 16. It includes such items as Indian relics, deeds of marriage certificates from the 1860s, an original land grant map of 1860, the first typewriter used in the county courthouse and photographs of old Marin landmarks.

Businesses Report More Windows Out

Windows in three more San Rafael businesses were smashed during the weekend, possibly in connection with the San Francisco Typographical Union 21 strike against the Independent-Journal, San Rafael police reported today.

Metal nuts fired with a sling shot or similar instrument Saturday before 8:25 a.m. caused two holes in a showroom window at Marin Bay Lincoln Mercury at Third Street and Lincoln Avenue, police reported. One steel nut was recovered, according to police, from the showroom floor.

The firm has suffered twice before from strike-related vandalism with four windows costing a total of $550 being smashed with steel nuts on March 25 and two windows broken on Feb. 17.

Window smashing with such nuts has been characteristic of strike-related vandalism throughout Marin.

A front window at Marin Piano and Organ Co. at 117 Jacoby Street was smashed with a steel nut fired by a sling shot around 9:30 p.m. Friday, police reported today. The nut was also recovered inside the building, police said.

The Bourbon Shop at 373 Third Street reported steel nuts were used Saturday to smash a front window, a door pane and louvred windows, police said. An aluminum window frame was also damaged by a steel nut, police added.

Today's report of violence brings to four the stores attacked during the weekend. An attack on Cox's TV and Sound Center in Northgate Shopping Center on Friday was reported previously in the Independent-Journal.

Corte Madera's Dog Show Influx Due Another Round

Is Corte Madera going to the dogs, and if so, how far?

That was the subject discussed by the Corte Madera Town Council, Parks and Recreation Commission and representatives of dog groups throughout the Bay Area at a special meeting Sautrday morning.

The upshot of that meeting was the calling of a special meeting of the parks and recreation commission for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday to consider an application by the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club for a June 14 show at the park.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said that Corte Madera is becoming the mecca for dog shows.

"At first it was one or two, but now it is five shows that want to use the park" he said.

The council asked the parks and recreation commission to set a policy if they will allow dog shows, how many and set dates when they can be held, if allowed, Colthurst said.

No date has been set for the policy discussion, Town Mgr. Ronald B. Usher said today.

Tot Tumbles Into Pool; Is Critical

A 2-year-old San Rafael girl was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital after nearly drowning yesterday in the swimming pool at her apartment house home.

Kimberly Rountree of 555 Canal Street was discovered in the pool by her father, Michael A. Rountree, shortly after 11 a.m. police said.

The child had been riding her tricycle near the pool when she apparently toppled in, police said.

She was given first aid by her father before being taken to the hospital, police reported.

Inverness Driver Hurt In Accident

An Inverness man was treated yesterday for injuries received in a one-car accident on Pierce Point Road on the Point Reyes Peninsula, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Ralph A. Groves, 54, of Box 324 Inverness, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a fractured collarbone suffered in the accident at 5:15 p.m. His car was westbound on the road when it rolled over, the patrol reported. No other details were available.

Priorities For Teacher Pay To Be Studied

Priorities for teacher salaries will be discussed at 8 p.m. today by the Novato Unified School District board in the multipurpose room at Marion School.

Donald White, president of the Novato Teachers Association, will present the teachers' stand on the policy set up last year by the board in which teacher salaries were to receive top priorities in the budget.

The report on the school food program will be presented to the board. Earlier this year a citizens committee studied the cafeterias and proposed that they they be made self-supporting. At that time it was reported that the district was losing approximately $12,000 per year on its food program. Tonight's report will be by the school staff.

Other items to come before the board include an ecological program at Pleasant Valley School, courses for study next school year and school boundaries and transfer policies.

Deputies Nab Two Youths In Drug Probe

Two Novato youths, reportedly acting erratically, were arrested on suspicion of narcotics violation Friday afternoon at Point Reyes-Petaluma and Platform Bridge roads, north of Tocaloma.

Deputies said John Paul Emerson, 20, of 1001 Eighth Street, and Timothy R. Stratford, 21, of 1536 Buchanan Street, attracted their attention at the west end of the bridge at the intersection at 4:55 p.m.

Emerson was on his knees looking at the sky and Stratford "was staring as if in a trance," deputies reported.

A search revealed a packet of what appeared to be marijuana in the glove compartment of their car, remnants of a marijuana cigarette under a seat and a box of white tablets in the car.

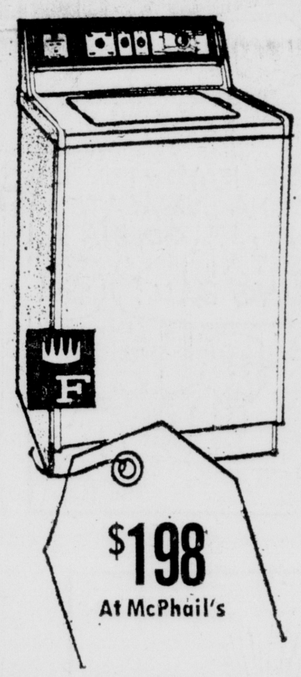

Both were booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana, possession of a dangerous drug and being under the influence of a narcotic. Each posted $500 bail and was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Today is Monday, April 6, the 96th day of 1970 with 269 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1830 Joseph Smith organized the Church of the Latter Day Saints, more commonly known as the Mormons, in Fayette, N.Y.

In 1957 the last New York trolley car completed its run.

In 1968 the federal government sent 5,000 troops to Chicago to put down a riot.

Belvedere Council To Meet Today

The Belvedere City Council will meet today at 8 p.m. in the community hall to consider a request by Fire Chief L. T. Mersereau to survey the fire main system to determine if it is adequate.

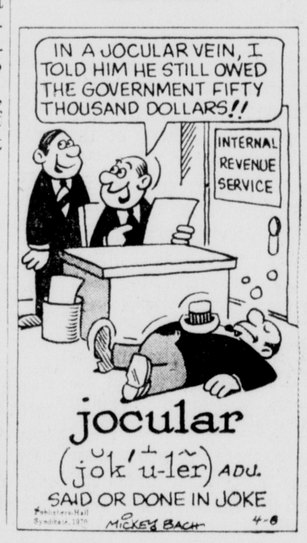

The council also will hear a request by Marin Transit Systems for a subsidy. The company has asked Tiburon for a subsidy as well.

A closed session is scheduled to discuss hiring and firing of personnel.

Campaign Aide

Mrs. C. Roger Reichert of 87 Laura Lane, Fairfax, has been named county precinct chairman for Ernest C. Zunino's campaign for judge of Marin Municipal Court in the June 2 election. She will organize campaign volunteers at precinct levels.

How Nine Of Diamonds Got Its 'Curse Of Scotland'

"Why is the nine of diamonds known as The Curse of Scotland?" a reader asks. "The encyclopedias give conficliting answers, but I'm sure you know the answer." And how right that reader is! I was present when the card got its nickname.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

UTTERS A MOAN

South, a gent by the name of Sandy McTavish, won the first trick with the ace of clubs, drew a round of trumps with the ace, cashed the ace of diamonds and then led the ten of diamonds.

West took the king of diamonds and led the jack of clubs to force out dummy's king. Now McTavish led the jack of diamonds from dummy, expecting East to produce the queen. But East discarded the seven of hearts, and poor McTavish uttered a Hibernian moan.

ON RIGHT TRACK

South was on the right track up to this point. If he discarded the losing club on dummy's jack of diamonds, he would give West an extra diamond trick but would not lose a club. This play would therefore cost nothing; and South would later discard his losing heart on dummy's nine of diamonds.

But McTavish had been sipping some very strong tea, or it may have been coffee, and he overlooked dummy's nine of diamonds. He ruffed the jack of diamonds and then had to lose one trick in each suit. Down one.

REFUSE TO BELIEVE

There are people who refuse to believe that an infuriated nine of diamonds leaped out of the deck and bit McTavish, but how else did poor Sandy contract the case of rabies that carried him off two weeks later? The tea didn't hurt McTavish, for I was sipping the same stuff and the nine of diamonds didn't do me a bit of harm.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ - Q 10 4
♥ - Q 9 2
♦ - K Q 8 7
♣ - Q J 10.
What do you say?

ANSWER, Pass.

Despite the 12 points in high cards, this hand is not even nearly worth an opening bid. Don't consider a borderline opening bid when you have only one of the eight aces and kings.

Execution Dates Set For Four In Quentin

Four condemned inmates at San Quentin Prison have received death dates, although it is likely the executions will be stayed as long as the Supreme Court considers challenges against the death penalty.

The four are Johnny Milton, 24, and Barry Floyd, 23, both convicted of the first degree murder and robbery in the 1967 killing of a Los Angeles bus driver, who are set to die May 27; Ronald W. King, 37, convicted killer of a Los Angeles liquor store clerk, scheduled for execution May 13, and Daniel A. Roberts, 46, convicted of strangling his San Francisco landlady, whose execution was set for May 21.

ATTENTION
SMALL INVESTOR
Evidence of achievement by U.I.I. Distributors can be seen from Coast-to-Coast!

A business revolution has taken place, proving the "Little Fellow" can emerge a "Mighty Giant" in the U.I.I. money-making route system.

The Questions: Do you have a serviceable car? 6-10 hours free time a week? $1,500 to invest which, according to an authoritative source, triples in value the day you start in the vending business? Can grow to $1,000 a month income with this small cash start. Success isn't automatic . . . you have to work for it!

When you do this with U.I.I you'll never suffer from competition. No selling or soliciting . . . just a service function.

To arrange a personal interview, call these toll-free numbers:

'69 BUICK SKYLARKS $2795

We've just made a special purchase from Buick Motor Dvision's San Francisco zone headquarters to buy back seven almost-new 1969 Buick Skylark Custom 2-Dr. hardtops that are so close-to-new that we couldn't pass them up.

These cars had a sticker price in excess of $3900 yet we're offering these clean Skylarks at $2795.

Example—Silver color with black custom vinyl top and black custom notch back vinyl seats with armrest. Automatic radio, heater, power steering, tinted glass, w/w tires, wheel covers, V-8 engine and all the Skylark extras. Just over 7,000 miles on this close-to-new Skylark coupe and we transfor the GM new car warranty which will have 43,000 miles and 4-years left to cover the car. 9Z113355.

TV REVIEW

Some Ads Incensing Women

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a minority of women in this country who would like to slap a sticker onto every television set saying: "This commercial unfair to women."

The ladies of the women's liberation movement are incensed about commercials that extol the virtues of housewifery or cast them as sex symbols.

Donna Keck, writing in "Women, a Journal of Liberation," says, "The dual image of women is projected by television ads. The 'housewife-drudge' is urged to buy detergent, floor wax, furniture polish, food products and other items to make household tasks easier.

"The 'sexmate' on the other hand needs feminine deodorant soap and spray, hair coloring, cosmetics, padded bras and girdles."

Miss Keck's conclusion is that the whole thing is designed to keep women in an inferior position—and to entice them into buying more products.

Some of the commercials are glaringly inane. Even a male is aware that women don't stand around admiring a whiter wash and that there is more to finding happiness than using the mouthwash for lovers.

Incidentally, many commercials have become quite hip, setting standards for the movies and the rest of television .But the detergent commercials still plod along as they did 20 years ago.

One commercial these women say is antifeminine is that for Silva Thin cigarettes. The guy is always grabbing his cigarette package away from an admiring girl and shoving her into a cable car or a taxi. Once he dumped her out in the middle of nowhere.

Admitted one advertising representative: "I think that would upset me if I were a lady. It's not at all chivalrous."

Lately, however, the guy has shown a little manners.

When I first saw the new commercial for Tab without cyclamates I thought it was a great take-off on the "Guys and Dolls" type Broadway review.

But one feminist demanded, "What do they mean, 'Tab is good enough for guys now?' " we've come a long way for? To have our own cigarette?"

Besides the commercials, Miss Keck complains about the image of woman that is perpetuated in the entertainment programs. She is a housewife. She is beautiful. She is not very smart; or she is clever and manipulates her husband. In the meantime, the feminists also are very mad.

Trustees Will View Salaries

Employee salaries and the 1970-71 budget will be discussed by the Fairfax School District board at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

At its March 24 meeting, the board asked Supt. H. Reginald Hammond to prepare cost estimates and alternate proposals to pay increases requested.

Both the teaching and non-teaching staffs have asked for increases averaging 8 per cent.

Other items to come before the board include a proposal to correct White Hill Creek, damaged in last winter's rains; the annual audit and setting the school calendar for next year.

Regulations On Park Due Study

Regulations on use of the city park will come up again before the Fairfax Parks and Recreation Commission at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Women's Club.

The regulations, drawn up by the comismsion, were sent to the council Jan. 26, but returned for further clarification.

Other items to come before the commission include a report from the budget committee, the estimated cost for two additional basketball nets and backboards and use of tennis courts and tennis instruction.

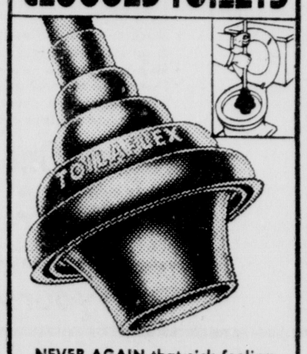

Jenner Tour Set Sunday

The conservation committee of the San Francisco Bay Chapter of the Sierra Club will sponsor a public tour Sunday at the mouth of the Russian River at Jenner where a controversial dredging project is proposed.

A bus, leaving from San Francisco, will stop at the Greyhound Bus Depot in San Rafael at 9 a.m. to pick up Marin passengers.

Northern California Aggregates has asked for a permit to dredge from the mouth of the river five miles upstream, destroying Penny Island Wildlife Refuge. A naturalist from the area will discuss the ecology of the wildlife refuge.

Chest X-Rays Set April 16

Free chest X-rays, intended primarily for spanish-speaking residents of Marin, will be given on April 16 at 918 C Street in San Rafael.

The special testing is sponsored by the Marin Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association and the Marin Economic Opportunity Council. A mobile testing unit will be parked in the rear of the building from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Joseph W. Burba, Jr., executive director of the TB association, said the testing is primarily for Spanish-speaking residents, but anyone wishing a free X-ray is welcome. No pregnant women or children under 15 will be X-rayed.

French Ties Please Shriver

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S.-French relations are at their best of anytime in the last decade, says Sargent Shriver, who recently resigned as ambassador to that country.

As examples Shriver gave the expressed French willingness to accept Great Britain into the Common Market and changing French attitudes toward the international monetary fund.

Asked about the sale of warplanes to Libya, Shriver said, "The French government doesn't have any requirement that they have to talk to us before they do anything."

Shriver was interviewed Sunday on the NBC program "Meet the Press."

P-TA Will Sponsor Day Of Dialogue

The Redwood High School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a "dialogue day" April 11 at the school for discussion on varied subjects.

Subjects to be aired during the session at the Little Theater starting at 9:30 a.m. are drugs, discipline, college planning, youth and the establishment, counseling, limit setting and discipline at home, social responsibility, dress and grooming, human relations, sex education, relevant curriculum and innovations in education.

Leading discussions will be Paul V. Bosque, dean of boys at Redwood High School; John Brewer, Marin County's chief probation officer; Alfred L. Brokes, school psychologist, and Mrs. H. James Compton, past president of the Redwood High School P-TA.

Also, Rudolph R. Genetti, science supervisor; Richard V. Godino, assistant Marin County counsel; Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court; Charles Greenley, head counselor; Dr. Jerson Jacobs, parent and physician; and James Kilty, representative of Catholic Social Services of Marin County.

DEEP STEAM wall-to-wall carpet cleaning offers you :

GENTLE CLEANING ACTION . . . no brushes or scrubbing action is used to wear or distort the carpet pile.
LIKE-NEW RESTORATION of original color, texture, and matted pile without use of chemicals.
MOISTURE CONTROL which insures fast drying and avoids carpet shrinkage.
SAFE PROCESS . . . guaranteed to be completely safe for all fabrics, and under any condition.
GREATER ECONOMY because the Deep Steam cleaning process Soil Retards and Mothproofs your carpet. This minimizes the need for frequent professional cleaning.
LONGER CARPET LIFE since deeply imbedded soil is safely extracted from both the pile and back of your carpet.

The Old Method

The conventional shampoo scrubbing method uses preliminary vacuuming to remove some loose soil. The shampoo equipment, with harsh brushes, utilizing different types of liquid detergents or powders, scrubs the remaining soil DEEPER into the carpet . . . and even with the help of a wet vacuum fails to remove most of the soil or residue. This residue which is left in the carpet then works its way to the surface and attracts more soil. Soon your carpet may appear more soiled than before!

HOW DEEP STEAM SOIL EXTRACTION WORKS
Deep Steam Soil Extraction equipment applies wet steam with a professional formula and soil retardant under pressure deep into the carpet fibers. The two cleaning agents combine to break down soil and the static electric charge, which holds the soil deep in the pile of the carpet, and brings this soil into suspension. Then, instantly, the moisture and soil are removed by the powerful continuous extraction process into a separate stainless steel container. During this cleaning operation every fiber is coated with SOIL RETARDANT and MOTHPROOFING to keep your carpet cleaner and protected longer.

Cala has the books that teach you how.

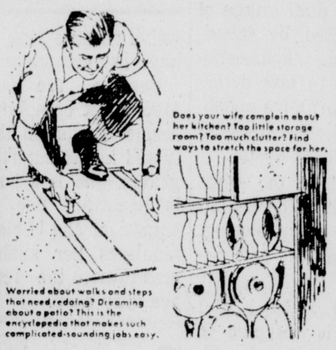

Is 1 of your closet space wasted? See how you can make every inch count.

Are your floors, walls and ceilings shabby? Change them in no time by following the easy step-by-step instructions.

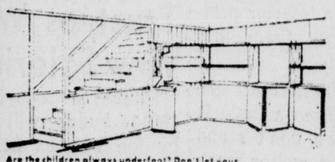

Need room dividers and storage walls? They're attractively yours with a minimum of expense and labor. Work- and money-saving tips are yours just for the reading.

Does your wife complain about her kitchen? Too little storage room? Too much clutter? Find ways to stretch the space for her.

Worried about walks and steps that need redoing? Dreaming about a patio? This is the encyclopedia that makes such complicated-sounding jobs easy.

Are the children always underfoot? Don't let your basement just stand there. Use it. It can become the greatest party and fun room around.

Would you like a guest room, but can't think of where? Read the section on attics. In just a few weeks, you can increase your space and the value of your house.

Now you can get things done. And save at the same time. A remarkable 2-way advantage this comprehensive set of books gives you.

No need to delay home repairs and redecorating one minute longer. Even if you've never as much as hammered a nail before, you'll find yourself able to do all sorts of creative projects with the easy instructions in The Family Handyman Do-It-Yourself Encyclopedia. Everything you'll need to know is spelled out: materials, tools, step-by-step procedures. Avoid false starts or costly mistakes.

What you will have is a prettier, more comfortable home. Plus the great satisfaction of a job well done. Not to mention something left over for an evening's entertainment, from the money you save.

So don't delay. Whether you have a small apartment or a great big house, you'll find out from looking at Volume 1 what a valuable set of books this is. The sooner you pick up your first volume, the sooner you'll be on your way to the kind of living you want.

GURNEY'S 150-MILE RIDE TO SEARS POINT VICTORY

A Great Day At Sears Point

Dan Gurney, the All-American boy and everybody's hero in road racing, won the 150-mile road race for Indianapolis cars at Sears Point Saturday; little Mario Andretti of Indy fame made a beautiful race out of it; international star John Cannon displayed some magnificent driving while his car held up; there were enough injury-free spinouts to satisfy the $8. per ticket holders, gorgeous Sonoma County weather bathed the crowd spread over the hillsides to a shade of pink, yet, after it was over, Sears Point officials scratched their heads and wondered where everybody was.

A track official announced the crowd at 38,212 but it looked to me as if about 10,000 of them may have been disguised as ghosts or wildflowers. Anyway, Dick St. Johns, president of Filmways, which owns Sears Point Raceway, said: "It was a wonderful day and a great show, but, where were all the people?"

First Prize Of $14,975

Perhaps he was looking at the nearly empty grandstand where tickets cost $12. It was hoped more people would show up for the Indy cars northern California debut.

While St. Johns may have been worried about the budget with a $50,000 purse to distribute, Gurney was all smiles as he collected $14,975 for his hot 150-mile ride, 60 times around the winding, hilly, 2.5-mile course His Ford-powered Gurney Eagle made it in 1 hour, 44 minutes, 26 seconds at an average speed of 87 mph.

A second row starter, the 6-foot, 3-inch, blond Gurney saw pole winner Mark Donohue drop out with engine failure on the first lap, then dashing Dan overtook wee paisano Andretti and Al Unser to take the lead for keeps after the first two laps.

Gurney, runnerup to Andretti in the Indy 500 May, beat Mario by 1.2 seconds while Unser and his Johnny Lightning Special finished third, just seven seconds back.

'Couldn't Relax For Second'

"I was going as fast as I could all the way," the 38-year-old Gurney smiled afterwards. "Boy, I couldn't relax for a second. Mario was right on my tail all the way. Funny thing, the car was getting harder to handle as the fuel load got lighter. It was very jittery near the end."

Gurney, whose All-American Racers firm of Costa Mesa builds the Eagle race cars he drives, will be racing his products in an all-out bid for the Indy and Ontario 500-mile races this year in addition to driving a Plymouth Barracuda in the Trans-American sedan series.

Andretti and Cannon staged the most thrilling duel of the day, drawing cheers from the crowd estimated (by me) of 28,000. Running fourth early in the going, the London-born Cannon passed both Unser and Andretti and pushed Gurney and his blue-streak to a lap clocking of 1:37.0, a Sears Point record. Then, slowed to a crawl by the pace car under a yellow flag, Cannon developed fuel injection problems, lost his place and eventually had to drop out.

The former RAF pilot was cheered by the crowd for his beautiful driving while the official driving the pace car was roundly booed.

All The Way A Bad Clutch

Andretti won plaudits for going the distance with a defective clutch which caused him to start late, although he caught up with the field of 26 starters be-

Seals Prep For NHL Playoffs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For the Oakland Seals, it's as if the National Hockey League season were just starting. As far as the Los Angeles Kings are concerned, it ended 76 games too late.

The Kings won three of their last five games including Saturday night's finale, a 4-1 pasting of the Seals, but their last-gasp success was hardly noticed by the rest of the NHL.

Los Angeles might have been the "spoiler," wrecking the hopes of Oakland or Minnesota as they battled for the West Division's fourth and final play-off berth. The Kings did, in fact manage to split home-and-home series' with the Seals and North Stars.

But that only served to let both of them make the play-offs by nosing out Philadelphia. The Seals, finishing fourth with a 22-40-14 record for 58 points, two less than Minnesota, began post-season playing Wednesday night in Pittsburgh against the second-place Penguins.

Larry Cahan, a former Oakland defenseman, wrecked the Seals' bid for third place and sent 9,128 Kings fans home happy Saturday nights, whipping home two goals to pace the Los Angeles attack.

Ted Hampson put the Seals on top in the first period before Cahan, Matt Ravlich and Dick Duff went to work to put Los Angeles' final record at 14-52-10.

Marin Nine Loses 8th Straight

College of Marin Tars ran into the three-hit pitching of Santa Rosa's Chuck Leone Saturday, dropping their eighth straight game, 3 to 1, in Kentfield.

The Tars, winless on the season, scored in the first inning on a double steal, with Gary Welch coming home and Steve Trono going to second. Both got on base via walks.

Santa Rosa came back with two unearned runs in the second and coasted the rest of the way behind the eight strikeout effort of Leone.

Marin's Jim Peters, who lost his third game in as many starts, pitched creditably despite the lack of support, allowing only one earned run.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Army's Glen Davis set a record in 1945 that probably will never come close to being matched when he averaged 11.51 yards per carry during the season. He ran with the ball 82 times.

HE'S READY

The 'Little Man' Eyes Masters

'THRILLED'

"I feel I have it going well.

"I'm thrilled to get this form, to win so soon after coming over to this country. I've only been over four weeks. It's a nice surprise. I usually don't play quite this well this early.

"Those first two rounds I played, 70 and 63, I can't remember ever playing two consecutive rounds that well. I can't remember ever hitting so many irons right at the flag, anything from a two to a six I was right on it.

Player, who won the Masters in 1961, left for Augusta, Ga., only a couple of hours after holing out. He said he would play a practice round Monday in preparation for the Masters, which opens Thursday.

13 UNDER

Player, who has only been in this country for five weeks on his current tour, finished with a 271, 13 under par on the rolling Sedgefield Country Club Course.

He held a two-stroke advantage over Miller Barber, who closed with a 68 and took second at 273. He was followed by R. H. Sikes, 69 for 274, Steve Spray 67 for 275 with Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino and Tommy Aaron tied at 276.

Trevino, the season's leading money winner, closed with a 68, Aaron had a 71 and Palmer, who led the first two days of the rain-delayed tournament, also had a 71.

ARNIE OUT

Palmer simply never got it going. He took a fat 74 on the first of two 18 hole rounds on the last day and dropped back to a four-way tie for the top with Aaron, Sikes and Barber. Player was another stroke back after a 73 at that time.

The little South African, the subject of some threats because of his nation's aparthheid policies, was guarded by a sprinkling of plainsclothes policemen with the huge gallery that followed him and his playing partnert, Palmer and Aaron.

Player called it the biggest gallery he has ever seen.

He started his charge, when he made up five strokes on par in a stretch of six holes, with a magnificent blast from the sand on the par 5 sixth.

"I put my second shot in a bunker to the right of the green," he said.

"I thought I had to do something pretty soon so I told me caddy, 'I'm going for it—go get the flag.' And the ball went right in the cup.

"That kind of got me started," he said.

BIRDIED

He birdied the eight from 15 feet, chipped to within five feet on the next and made the putt, and ran in a 10-footer on the 11th that put him out in front to stay. And he canned an unnecessary 15-foot birdie putt on the final hole after hitting a tree limb with his tee shot.

The $36,000 first place check was his biggest payday ever and boosted his earnings to more than $43,000 in only four starts.

Softball Team In 8-0 Victory

San Rafael's Ron Reagan and Nolan Wilson each homered and carried Paul Koss Supply to an 8-0 win over Nite Life in San Francisco City Softball League action Saturday.

In Golden Gate Traveling League action Sunday, Koss Supply split a doubleheader with Hayward, winning the opener 7-3 and losing the nightcap 5-0.

Terra Linda Baseballers Divide A Pair

Soctt Seefelt and Dewey Forry combined for a three hitter Saturday to lead Terra Linda High School to a 3-1 win over Berkeley High in a non-league baseball game at Albert Field.

The Trojans scored first in the third when Jim Codington opened with a triiple and came home on Bill Berry's sacrifice fly. The winning run came in the fourth when Rick Payne singled home Forry, who had singled and stolen second.

Seefelt, who worked the first five innings struck out four and allowed the only Berkeley run. Forry shut them out from there.

In a game played the previous evening at Albert Field, Terra Linda dropped a badly played affair to Galileo of San Francisco, 9-8. The Trojans downfall came in the second when Galileo scored eight runs as a result of three errors.

OPENING GAMES

It's Baseball Time

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baseball attention shifted from the courtroom to the ball field today as the problem-plagued sport began its second century with traditional openers at Washington and Cincinnati while the champion New York Mets and transplanted Milwaukee Brewers waited to be trumpeted onstage.

At Cincinnati, meanwhile, the usual holiday atmosphere prevailed as the National League got underway with the Montreal Expos sending oJe Sparma out to pitch against Jim Merritt of the Reds in the last opening day at ancient Crosley Field.

Monday's opening program, however, was overshadowed by the potential in Tuesday's 11 game schedule in which the Mets will begin defense of their world championship at Pittsburgh and the Brewers will provide Milwaukee with a home team to root for against the California Angels.

In the National League, Chicago is at Pittsburgh, Cincinnati at Los Angeles, Atlanta at San Diego and Houston at San Francisco in addition to the New York-Pittsburg curtain raiser. The St. Louis Cardinals move into action for the first time Wednesday in a game at Montreal.

A's Open Tomorrow In K.C.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Oakland A's will start trying to live up to the goal the oddsmakers have set for them when they open the American League baseball season here Tuesday against the Kansas City Royals.

The A's flew here Sunday night after winding up the preseason schedule with a 14-15 mark by beating the San Diego Padres 6-2 in Albuquerque, N.M.

ODOM

John Odom, 15-6 last year when he was slowed by an arm ailment after a fast start, will start for the A's, who are favored by Las Vegas oddsmakers to win the West Division, where they finished second last season to Minnesota.

Jim Hunter, 12-15 last year, will start Wednesday, and Chuck Dobson, 15-13 last year, will open on the mound Thursday.

The A's lineup will feature more than a few new faces this year.

TRADES

The rest of the starters against Kansas City will be Dick Green at second, Sal Bando at third, Rick Monday in center, and Reggie Jackson in right field. Shortshotp Bert Campaneris was ailing with a bad back but was expected to start.

NEW GUYS

The newcomers figured prominently in the victory over San Diego. Mincher had two hits, including a double, Fernandez hit a run-scoring double, and Alou got three hits.

Oakland broke open the game in the sixth with three runs, aided by three San Diego errors, including a dropped flyball by Ollie Brown, who accounted for both San Diego runs with a homer in the third inning.

Perry To Pitch Giants' Opener

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, trying to forget a dismal Japanese trip and a lacklustre Cactus League performance, were home today awaiting Tuesday's National League opener here against the Houston Astros.

The Giants, 3-6 on the Japan tour and 9-7 in Arizona after Sunday's 8-2 victory in Phoenix over the Atlanta Braves, will take the field behind Gaylord Perry, 19-14 last year.

EAR INFECTION

Juan Marichal, who posted a 21-11 mark last year, will miss his usual opening day start because of an ear infection, the Giants announced Sunday night. The ear problem was caused by a cold, doctors said.

In other changes, rookie Alan Gallagher, former Santa Clara star up from Amarillo of the Texas League, was announced as the starter at third base, and Tito Fuentes will take over at second for Ron Hunt.

The Giants cut their roster to 27 players during the weekend by sending pitcher Bob Garibaldi and outfielder Jim Gosger to Phoenix. A Saturday addition was catcher Russ Gibson, picked up on waivers from the Boston Red Sox. The Giants must cut two more players by opening day.

Fuentes and Willie McCovey paced the Giants' victory over Atlanta. Fuentes singled twice and legged out an inside-the-park home run, and McCovey homered, tripled and singled, driving in two runs.

McCovey's inflamed right eye is nearly back to normal, but the big first baseman says he still is bothered by arthritis in the knee.

While Mariachal's cold might put him out of the starting rotation for the first week, Frank Reberger could move in as a starter. The big right hander, obtained during the winter as a possible middle-inning reliever, hurled the first seven innings, giving up one run on eight hits, striking out two and walking two.

San Marin Wins Over S.F. Foe

Novato's San Marin Mustangs outslugged Woodrow Wilson High of San Francisco 9-7 Saturday in a non-league high school baseball game at Balboa Park iin San Francisco.

The Mustangs, whose record now stands at six wins and seven losses, shelled three Wilson pitchers for 12 hits, including four doubles.

Ken Gnoss got two doubles and a single, for the Mustangs and knocked in two runs. Jim Thompson was two for four with three RBIs, and Marty Larsen collected a pair of hits and scored three runs.

LOCAL ENTRY—This car designed and built by Marvin Webster of Mill Valley, shown in pits prior to Saturday's 150-mile race at Sears Point Raceway, was driven by Kevin Bartlett (left) of Australia. fore they got the green flag. "I was just grinding it into gear the whole race," said Andretti later when he collected $8,750.

Said the fabled Andy Granatelli, owner of Andretti's car: "This is the toughest course in the nation as far as a driver is concerned. This was undoubtedly one of Mario's most demanding performances."

Concurred Mario: "No doubt about it, there isn't a second to rest here. It's so busy, no straightway!"

Gurney, America's premier road racer who will reach his 39th birthday on April 13, likened Sears Point to the Grand Prix at Monte Carlo course in toughness. "It's so tight it was the longest 150 miles I ever ran," he said. It also was his first major victory in Northern California.

Cannon Very Disappointed

Cannon said he was extremely disappointed when his car's fuel system started acting up for he thought he had a good shot at Gurney after he moved past Andretti into second place. "My crew was happy just because I passed Mario; I guess I'm the only one disappointed." Cannon, who won the Continental Series at Sears Point last June, will return for the Formula A can race in June and again for the Canadian American Challenge Cup in November.

Three-time Indianapolis winner A. J. Foyt cancelled out of Saturday's race at the last minute when he heard that his teen daughter, injured when she fell off a horse in Houston last week, took a turn for the worse.

The only local car in the field, the No. 76 Webster Racing Enterprises Special of Mill Valley driven by Australian Kevin Bartlett, dropped out after 26 laps with shaft trouble. Owner Marvin Webster plans to enter the car in the Indy 500.

Sears Point officials and the California Highway Patrol are to be commended for the vastly improved traffic control before and after the race. Unlike last year, most traffic was moved without major jams.

Sears Point Order Of Finish

Following is the order of finish for Saturday's Golden Gate 150-mile (60-lap) road race for Indianapolis cars sanctioned by the United States Auto Cub at Sears Point International Raceway (including name of car, USAC points awarded, prize money):

TV Plans In College Football

CHICAGO (AP) — Texas and Penn State, a pair of undefeated teams who finished one-two nationally last season, each will make two appearances on the 1970 collegiate football television schedule this fall.

The 35-game schedule begins a new two-year, $12 million-per season contract between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the American Broadcasting Company.

The schedule, which includes 11 national telecasts and 24 regional shows, opens Saturday night, Sept. 12, with the Stanford-Arkansas game at Little Rock and winds up Dec. 5 with Arkansas at Texas in a nationally televised day game with four regional telecasts slated that night.

The program, reportedly paying $205,000 to each team in a nationally televised game and $152,000 to each team in a regional game, was announced Sunday by Roone Arledge, president and executive producer of ABC sports, at the convention of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Three other national night games include Alabama vs. Mississippi at Jackson, Miss., Oct. 3; Southern Cal vs. UCLA at Los Angeles, Nov. 21, and Houston vs. Florida State at Tampa, Fla., on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26.

ABC has an option to select one extra "wild card" game to telecast, based on interest as the season progresses. The game will be selected late in November and any game or games originally scheduled also will be televised that same day.

Australians Advance In Davis Cup

By Associated Press

Australia, seeking to bounce back from one of its rare Davis Cup early elimination, completed a 5-0 rout of The Philippines Sunday in Eastern Zone play.

In other matches Sunday, Colombia took an insurmountable 3-0 lead over Ecuador and Brazil forged ahead of Chile 2-1.

The final two Australia-Philippines singles matches were meaningless after the Aussies took a 3-0 lead in Saturday's doubles. John Alexander won the first match Sunday by crushing Eddie Cruz 8-6, 6-3, 6-3 and Ray Ruffels trounced 44-year-old Raymundo Deyro 6-1, 6-0, 6-2.

Colombia clinched its match with Ecuador when Jairo Velasco and Ivan Molina scored a 6-2, 7-5, 1-6, 9-7 doubles victory over Miguel Olvera and Francisco Guzman.

The winner of the Brazil-Chile best-of-5 series will be determined Monday when the final two singles are contested.

Murphy Signs With NBA; A New Home For Patriots

Calvin Murphy, who averaged 33 points a game during three All-America years at Niagra, signed a contract Saturday with the San Diego Rockets for an estimated $300,000.

Murphy, who stands 5-10, will be the shortest player in the National Basketball Association next season.

Football

The nomadic Boston Patriots may finally have found a home in Foxboro. The 17,000 resident town, about 30 miles southwest of Boston, was the choice of the Patriots' board of directors for a new 57,000 seat stadium.

The registered voters of Foxboro will hold a special town meeting April 13 to vote on final approval for the move.

The Pats still have no definite place to play this year, but have contacted Harvard University in regard to using its stadium.

Golf

LINKOU, Formosa-Chang Chung-Fa of Formosa shot a four-over-par 76 on the final round and won the China Open Golf Tournament with a one-under-par 215 for 54 holes by three strokes oven Chen ChingPo of Formosa.

McCafferty To Coach The Colts

BALTIMORE (AP) — Don McCafferty, long time assistant, will be named head coach of the Baltimore Colts today, the Baltimore News American reported.

The Colts had called a news conference for noon.

McCafferty, 48, offensive backfield coach of the National Football League team since 1959, had been considered the strongest logical successor to Don Shula who quit suddenly six weeks ago to join the Miami Dolphins.

Red Sox Limit

V.D. can be prevented
An epidemic is ravaging America—needlessly. The U.S. Public Health Service estimates there were almost 1.8 million new cases of venereal disease last year, well exceeding the medical definition of an epidemic. More Americans caught gonorrhea last year than caught the measles. And half of all new V.D. cases are in the 15 to 24 year old age group. Tragically, V.D.'s strongest ally is simple ignorance. A few basic methods of prevention will effectively combat both syphilis and gonorrhea. The necessary information is available from physicians, clinics and public health groups. And your local Pharmacist is a professional source for medically recognized products to aid in the prevention of V.D.

Lakers Get Stay Of Execution

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Bulls reached the end of the line, the Los Angeles Lakers received a stay of execution and either the New York Knicks or Baltimore Bullets are about to walk the last mile.

That's how the National Basketball Association playoffs shaped up after Sunday's action in which the Atlanta Hawks wiped out Chicago 113-107, Los Angeles drubbed the Phoenix Suns 138-121 and Baltimore outshot New York 96-87.

The Hawks eliminated Chicago four games to one and gained a spot in the Western Division finals. In the other Western semifinal, the Suns lead Los Angeles 3-2 with game six Tuesday night in Phoenix. The Suns won Saturday night 112-102.

The Knicks and Bullets, tied at 3-3, will settle their Eastern semi tonight in New York, with the winner opposing the Milwaukee Bucks, 4-1 winners over Philadelphia.

A 12-point flurry by Walt Hazzard in the third period sparked Atlanta to an 85-73 spread over Chicago and the Hawks held off a late rally. The Bulls pulled to within 109-107 with 1:16 left but two free throws by Lou Hudson and one each by Jim Davis and Walt Bellamy sewed it up.

Joe Caldwell topped the winners with 24 points and Hazzard and Hudson each scored 23. Clem Haskins led Chicago with 24.

Despite the triumph, Coach Richie Guerin of the Hawks called it "the worst playoff game we've won. We didn't look sharp at all. I am concerned over defensive breakdowns we've had in the past two games and we've got to put this thing back together before our next series."

Jerry West and Wilt Chamberlain kept Los Angeles alive against Phoenix. Each had 36 points and West fed off for 18 assists while big Wilt grabbed 14 rebounds.

Mel Counts, the Lakers' other 7-footer, chipped in with 18 points and 16 rebounds while Connie Hawkins and Gail Goodrich paced the Suns with 28 and 23 points, respectively.

The Baltimore Bullets weren't a one-man team Sunday. Two-man was more like it. Gus Johnson and Earl Monroe scored 28 of the Bullets' 30 points in the third period and 40 of 55 in the second half as they sent the series back to New York for a seventh game.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

4-6

The aim of every bowler should be to roll the ball, rather than skid it. It is the rolling motion of the ball when it hits the pins that causes them to scatter against each other. To make the ball roll, it is important to release it at a low angle to the floor and avoid any sudden snap of your hand as you let it go.

Hectic Hockey Scramble

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs get under way Wednesday with games at Chicago, Boston, St. Louis and Pittsburgh but it wasn't until late Sunday night that it was determined just who would be playing whom.

The closest race in NHL history finally was decided Sunday with Chicago clinching first place in the East on the basis of five more victories than Boston even though the teams ended tied in points, and New York edging Montreal for fourth, clinching the berth on the basis of two more goals scored—only the second time in history that category has decided playoff position.

The Rangers will be in Boston and Detroit at Chicago Wednesday and Thursday in the first two east Division playoff games. The sites shift for games 3 and 4 Saturday and Sunday.

In the West Division, Minnesota nailed down third place with a last-night victory and will be in St. Louis for the first two games Wednesday and Thursday while Oakland plays at Pittsburgh.

Bud Winter To Retire

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Bud Winter, who coached many world record holders and several Olympic champions at San Jose State, is retiring.

Winter, 59, who has been at San Jose for 29 years, will leave the school June 1.

"I want to quit now while I'm still young enough to enjoy retirement and do some of the things I've always wanted to do," he said Thursday.

Winter coached the Spartans to the NCAA championship last year and developed such world record holders as Tommie Smith, Lee Evans, John Carlos, Ray Norton and Ronnie Ray Smith.

No successor was named immediately but speculation centered around Winter's assistant, Ernie Bullard.

Win In Swim Meet

Bob Placak and Kimi Fox of San Rafael Swim Club each scored a first place and posted AA time over the weekend in a Class A swimming meet at Concord. Other San Rafael swimmers who posted AA times were Peter Kamler, Mike Keck, Moira McSweeney and Erica Sutherland.

Easy Win For Novato

The Novato Parks and Recreation Dpepartment defeated the San Rafael Park and Recreation Department, 13-2 Saturday in a Nortnern California Lacrosse Association game at San Rafael. Ron Budde scored three goals for the winners.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Participation In Federal Debt Issues

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—We like the safety of Treasury obligations but have limited funds to invest. Our available capital is $1,000 now plus smaller additions every few months. Is there any choice other than savings bonds for our purposes?—F.P.

A—There are two methods, of which I am aware, that allow people in your circumstances to acquire government issues.

Since you are located near New York City you may prefer the first alternative. The Amalgamated Bank of New York is offering participation certificates in pools of government securities. The USave certificates carry 7 per cent interest, are available in denominations as low as $500 and have one to three-year maturities.

Your second option is a no-load mutual fund managed and distributed by Federated Investors of Pittsburgh, Pa. Founded in mid-1969 the Mutual Fund for Investing in U.S. Government Securities has grown rapidly to a total asset value at present of $7 million. Shares are trading at about $10 and yield currently slightly more than 7 per cent. The initial investment required is $250, which gives the holder a stake in obligations of two government agencies and various Treasury bills.

Q—A relative who is employed by Charles Pfizer Co. has urged me to purchase shares in this firm. She has explained that the shares will split three-for-one soon and then trade at around 35. I have $1,000 free to invest. What is your opinion?—H.C.

A—Holders will vote later this month on the proposed split.

An increase in the 40 cents quarterly dividend equal to 45 cents on the old shares will be paid on the split shares. Dividends, which have been liberalized frequently over the years, will have been increased twice in the most recent 12-month period. Earnings have moved ahead annually with a 10 per cent gain reported in 1969 on an 11% increase in oVlume.

A newly developed drug, Sinequan, used to treat anxiety and depressive neuroses, is thought to have a substantial market potential. Any share price correction to below 100 would provide an excellent buying opportunity for long-term commitments.

Sheffield Watch Sets Dividend

NEW YORK (UPI)—Directors of Sheffield Watch Corp. has declared a 5 per cent stock dividend, payable June 18 to holders of record May 25.

The board said the stock dividend, payable June 18 to holders of record May 25.

The board said the stock dividend is expected to replace cash dividends for the balance of 1970. The company's last payment was a quarterly dividend of 12½ cents on March 19.

The company said the new dividend policy would help Sheffield maintain in the current year the momentum achieved in the fiscal year ended Jan. 31.

Uranium Rights

TORONTO (UPI)—Consolidated Morrison Explorations, Ltd., has granted Mobil Oil Corp. the right to earn a 51 per cent interest in 35,000 acres of uranium prospecting lands in the Powder River Basin of Wyoming in return for exploratory drilling.

Buys Jewelry Firm

WEST PITTSTON, Pa. (UPI)—Suburban Publishers, Inc., has agreed to buy S. A. Peck Co. of Chicago, one of the largest quality jewelry mail order marketers in the country with sales of more than $3 million a year, for cash and stock.

Glamor Stocks Hit In Light Turnover

With about 45 minutes remaining, the UPI Market Indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a loss of 0.71 per cent on 1,528 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 861 declined, 390 advanced.

A four-hour turnover of 6,890,000 shares compared with 7,630,000 shares at a comparable period Friday.

Harry Laubscher, analyst for Walston & Co., said many glamor stocks were reacting to prospects of disappointing corporate earnings for the first quarter.

Among the day's most active issues were Xerox, Computer Sciences and Transamerican Corp.

Xerox traded an early block of 175,000 shares at 85 off 2. Salaomon Brothers & Hutzler handled the big trade for institutions on both sides.

Computer Sciences said it is scrapping Computicket Corp., a subsidiary that sells theater and sports tickets throughout computer terminals.

Polaroid was under selling pressure in heavy turnover. Eastman Kodak, which traded narrowly, is preparing to challenge Polaroid in the instant camera field, according to an article in a business publication.

Boosts Dividend

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—Directors of Beecham Inc. has boosted the quarterly dividend by 2½ cents to 20 cents per share, beginning with a payout June 1 to holders of record May 14.

Aircraft Lease

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Itel Corp. has said its equipment leasing division has arranged to lease two 747-131 aircraft costing approximately $44 million to Trans World Airlines.

Ownership Change Announced, New Name For Tiburon Realty

There has been a change of ownership of Tiburon Realty in Tiburon from Marie Mondino (who is retiring) to Daniel F. Gould and William H. Rafter, both of Belvedere.

New name of the firm will be Tiburon Realtors.

Both Gould and Rafter have been in real estate many years and both were recently with Elva Paske. Gould was previously with Home and Land Co. three years and in the real estate department of the Robert Dollar Co. five years.

Rafter previously had his own real estate office in Tiburon and was one of the founders of Home and Land Co.

A NEW BEAUTY SALON, Rafael Salon of Beauty, has been opened at 1841 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael by Ralph Bartlett of Marinwood and Barbara Cochrane of Novato. Grand opening will be held April 19.

Both principals have worked in the Santa Venetia area and Bartlett has conducted a salon in the Tamalpais Retirement Home, Greenbrae, which he will continue.

COLIN J. RAWNSLEY of Corte Madera, a certified public accountant and until recently executive vice president with James G. Freeman and Associates in Burlingame, plans to open his own office in Corte Madera.

He is one of a quartet of Marin business people who will head the executive committee of the Marin Shakespeare Festival for the coming year. He is president; John B. Kunst of Kunst Bros., San Rafael is vice president; Gordon F. Parr, registered representative with Irving Lundborg and Co., San Rafael, is treasurer; Donna Dobson, who operates a secretarial and public relations firm in San Rafael, is secretary.

EDGAR T. LINDNER of Kentfield has been reelected president of the Medi-Fund Corp., San Francisco.

RICHARD B. PUNTILLO of Novato has been appointed vice president of Redwood Bank. Before joining the bank last July as director of planning, he was staff auditor and educational consultant to the certified public accounting firm of Arthur Young and Co. He will maintain his office in San Rafael and will also be responsible for the administration of the bank's three other offices in Napa, Vallejo and San Mateo.

Mrs. Tucker

MRS. MARGARET KEMP TUCKER of San Anselmo, divisional manager for Macy's California, has retired after 35 years with that company and O'Connor Maffat Co. She joined O'Connor Moffatt in 1935 as a comparative shopper and was appointed employment manager when it was purchased by Macy's. Later she became personnel manager for the San Francisco store and in 1966 became divisional personnel manager.

INSURANCE: Terry Jarcik of San Rafael has taken over a general agency for Federal Life Insurance Co. He has also expanded his casualty insurance to include the Safeco Group and the Kemper Group. He is a member of the Marin Association of Life Underwriters . . . Rodger I. Benard, representative of Mutual of New York in San Rafael, has been given the additional responsibility of manpower recruiting and administration of the training program at the San Francisco-Harris agency . . . Four Marin men with Combined Insurance Co. of America are attending a sales and training seminar this week in Hawaii—Patrick C. Heard of Corte Madera, recently appointed sales manager of the western division; Toby Perry of San Rafael, California regional manager; and sales leaders Gene Stasch of San Rafael and Rod Friedman of Novato.

Dam Contract

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Fluor Corp. has announced receipt by its subsidiary, Fluor Australia PTY, Ltd. of a $21.3 million contract from the new South Wales Water Conservation & Irrigation Commission. The contract covers building the main wall of the Copeton Dam.

HOUSE UNDER SIEGE—Officers crouched behind a patrol car as others closed in on a hilltop home near Saugus, in Southern California, this morning where a suspect in the slaying of four California Highway Patrol officers late yesterday held the householder hostage. The suspect later took his own life.

4 Highway Patrolmen Are Killed By Gunmen

One Is Captured; Another Found Dead

SAUGUS, Calif. (AP)—One of two men accused of killing four highway patrolmen in a gun battle committed suicide today, authorities reported. His body was found by a force of officers in gas masks and wearing flack jackets who stormed a house where he had been besieged for six hours.

For five hours he had held a householder hostage before releasing him unharmed. The other gunman, wounded by officers, was captured earlier in a canyon.

The four highway patrolmen were killed after they stopped a car whose occupants were reported to have brandished guns at motorists on a freeway. After the shootout, the two fled separately on foot.

Jack Wright Twinning, 35, took refuge in the isolated house atop a hill in brushy country 35 miles north of Los Angeles about 4:15 a.m. and sporadically exchanged shots with a force of several score officers until his capture about 10:15 a.m.

Mrs. Glenn S. "Steve" Hoag and her son, Jeffery, 17, escaped but Hoag was held captive until released unharmed a ittle after 9 a.m.

When Hoag came out he said Twinning had a quantity of weapons but seemed running low on ammunition.

During the ensuring siege helicopters hovered over the three-bedroom home, atop a hill overlooking the freeway, and a sheriff's sniper specialist took up position atop a gas station until bullets drove him away.

Officers stormed the house with pistols and shotguns after warning Twinning to surrender.

During much of the siege they had negotiated with him by telephone, and he said at one point he was thinking of taking his life.

At one time Twinning shouted when told to surrender: "I'll be dead if I walk out."

While investigating reports that two men in an automobile had been pointing guns at motorists along the Golden State Freeway, two of the slain patrolmen spotted a car, answering the description, parked in front of J's Coffee Shop just off the freeway. They radioed for help and a second patrol car ar-

Resignations Hit Fairfax Festival

Five officers of the Fairfax Festival Committee, in a bitter letter, today announced their resignation in order to take the annual festival out of political controversy engendered by the race for city council.

The committee members declared they had been made "scapegoats in the rhetoric of the police-state mentalities" of some of those running for office.

The action may have killed any festival this year.

In their letter of resignation, signed "The Officers of the Fairfax Festival Committee," the five said that "we have chosen to remove ourself from the line of targets.

"Of course, some candidates may continue to beat on this dead horse simply because they are morally and emotionally so well-suited to such a pasttime.

"But the people should realize that the Festival, in all likelihood, is no longer a threat to be dealt with at the polls."

The letter was signed by E. Ross Parkerson, William Chapman Jr., Priscilla C. Gray, Charles Vergara and Edwin McGee.

Giant Tieup By Truckers On Horizon

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The trucking industry appeared headed for a giant tieup today as local units rebelled against the Teamsters Union which negotiated a national contract for 450,000 drivers.

And, as Congress got set to tackle a union-White House wage agreement for all federal employes, there were some signs postal workers, who conducted their first strike in U. S. history March 18, were growing restive.

Air traffic controllers, who have plagued major airports the past 12 days with a "sick out," were returning to work in greater numbers today, according to Federal Aviation Administration spokesmen. Union officials denied this, however.

Congress was faced with another tough labor dispute—rails. A 36-day law prohibiting a rail strike expires April 11. Labor Secretary George P. Schultz, saying the talks with four rail unions were hopelessly deadlocked, urged Congress last week to impose a settlement.

Carswell Survives The Crucial Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge G. Harrold Carswell's nomination to the Supreme Court won its first crucial test Monday as the Senate rejected a motion to return the nomination to the Judiciary Committee. The vote was 52 to 44.

The recommittal motion by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader of the opposition, was designed to kill the nomination of the 50-year-old Tallahassee, Fla., jurist.

The Senate now will vote Wednesday on confirmation of Carswell, the second Southerner nominated by President Nixon for the Supreme Court vacancy created nearly a year ago by the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas.

Nixon's first choice, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., of Greenville, S.C., was rejected by the Senate last November by a 55-45 vote.

Senate leaders of both parties said they expected defeat of Bayh's recommittal motion to be followed by confirmation of Carswell, although perhaps by a narrower margin.

Some senators who voted against recommittal said they would vote against Carswell's confirmation. They contended that returning it to committee would just be ducking the issue.

On the other hand, some senators who announced they favored returning the nomination to committee for further hearings said they would disclose later how they would vote on confirmation if the recommittal motion failed.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Dr. Sam Sheppard, main figure in one of the nation's most controversial murder trials, died today at his home here after he had been ill for three days with what was believed to be influenza.

Sheppard, 46, freed from Ohio Penitentiary after serving 10 years following his conviction for the murder of his first wife, Marilyn, was found dead in his home by his wife.

His body was taken to University Hospital where an autopsy may be performed to determine the cause of death.

Mrs. Colleen Strickland Sheppard, his third wife, said the osteopath had been ill with what he believed was flu. Sheppard, who was in the midst of a professional wrestling Career when he died, married Colleen last Oct. 21.

Sheppard's second wife was the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns of West Germany. They were married in July, 1964, shortly after he was released from prison.

Sheppard was convicted in December 1954, of beating his pregnant wife to death July 4 at their Bay Village home near Cleveland.

During his trial, Sheppard said a "one-armed bushy-haired intruder" killed his wife and attacked him in their home on the shore of Lake Erie. Mrs. Sheppard had been beaten around the head with an estimated 25 blows.

Sheppard was released from prison July 16, 1964, insisting "I am innocent, I am innocent." He was freed by order of the

Reagan Nominates Traynor Successor

The appointment of the 63-year-old justice of the state Court of Appeal is Reagan's first to the state's highest tribunal, which has been dominated by appointees of former Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Nine Escape; One Reported Ready To Kill

Nine juveniles, including one who reportedly has threatened to kill three officers before he leaves the area, escaped from Marin County Juvenile Hall in two separate escapes Saturday night, juvenile officers reported today.

Erick F. Yarchin, superintendent of juvenile hall, said four boys pried a cover off a disused but still operative electronic door-opener, opened the outside door and escaped at 9 p.m. from the hall.

At 10:30 p.m., three boys and two girls in the pre-placement unit outside the juvenile hall fence walked out.

One of the pre-placement youths, Osborne Turner, 16, of Santa Venetia, returned yesterday afternoon but the others remain free, Yarchin said.

A Marin County juvenile officer, Inspector Dennis Shine, said one hall escaper, Mark Corbelli, 14, of Marinwood, had previously threatened to kill Shine, an unnamed deputy sheriff and Inspector Charles Prandi of the juvenile division.

Corbelli has a rifle with telescopic sight, taken in a burglary, hidden somewhere, Shine said.

Escapers from the hall with Corbelli were Scott R. Shepherd, 16, of Sleepy Hollow, Rick Fryderland, 15, of Woodacre, and Michael Watson, 17, of San Rafael.

Escaping from pre-placement with Turner were Michael Farmer, 16, of Novato, John Maloney, 16, of San Rafael, Kathy Benson, 15, of Fairfax, and Jean Canales, 16, of San Rafael.

Most were at the hall for being beyond parental control, Yarchin said. Corbelli and Shepherd, however, have extensive burglary and escape records, according to Shine.

Shine said he had recommended on Shepherd's last capture, last week, that he be taken to a maximum security facility in Sonoma County rather than the Marin Juvenile Hall.

Corbelli, Shine said, had promised to escape within five days and escaped in two and a half.

"We're trying to develop our own controls here" against escape, Yarchin said, "rather than indicate we can't do it. We're finding the loopholes. We haven't had to send anyone to Sonoma for some five months."

The electronic opener used by the escapers is no longer operative, he said. Its use was discontinued because it facilitated escape, he said, but the system

Court Backs State Powers On Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, on a 5-3 vote, upheld today the power of states to set a maximum limit on the amount of welfare assistance that goes to one family.

Justice Potter Stewart, giving the decision in a Maryland case, said: "The Constitution does not empower this court to second-guess state officials charged with the difficult responsibility of allocating limited public welfare funds among the myriad of potential recipients."

The ruling is a setback for advocates of the poor, who have been uniformly victorious in the high court in recent years.

Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall, the court's liberal core, dissented from the majority decision.

Stewart said federal social Security law gives each state great latitude in dispensing its available funds.

"So long as some aid is provided to all eligible families and all eligible children, the statute itself is not violated," he said.

In other actions, the court:

—Agreed to decide whether a requirement for a 60 per cent vote of approval for a bond issue violates its one-man, one-vote ruling.

—Rejected a court action to prevent astronauts in space from broadcasting Bible readings.

—Sustained the power of police to arrest a street speaker who refuses to move on when crowds grow tense and hostile.

New Bolinas, Stinson Schools Chief Named

John A. O'Shea, principal of a Yuba City Elementary School, has been chosen new superintendent of the Bolinas-Stinson School District.

O'Shea, 39, was selected Saturday, the unanimous choice of district trustees. He was chosen from 64 applicants for the position, according to Edward Lewis, chairman of the school district board.

"He was the man we all wanted for the job," Lewis said. "The board feels he will do an excellent job and promises him every cooperation," he added.

The new superintendent, who will probably teach seventh and eighth grades in addition to his administrative duties, replaces Supt. Clarence B. Larison, who resigned under fire from the board in December. Larison had held the post since June of 1968.

O'Shea, who will take over his new duties July 1, is a native of Boston, He was reared in San Francisco and is a graduate of Lincoln High School and San Francisco City College. He received a bachelor's degree in business and his elementary teaching and administrative credentials from Chico State College.

He has 13 years teaching experience and for the last four years has served as principal of the Bridge Street Elementary School, a school with 700 students, in Yuba City.

O'Shea also was for three years superintendent of the Robbins Elementary school District and teaching principal of Wilson Elementary School, both in Sutter County.

He and his wife, Kathy, have three children: Lisa, 11, Kevin, 10, Shaun, 7.

Kopechne Jury Starts Probe

Victory March

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whatever other purpose it may have served, the March for Victory gave thousands of middle-aged and conservatively dressed Americans a chance to be heard.

"This is our day," said The Rev. Carl McIntire, the fundamentalist preacher and chief organizer of the event, who led the March Saturday down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Washington Monument. There, a loud speaker blared "at last, Americans have had their day in Washington."

Crowd estimates varied. Washington Police Chief Jerry V. Wilson set the number at 10,000 to 15,000. Federal Park Police estimated about 40,000, while McIntire said 50,000 persons marched. About 250,000 persons were estimated to have walked the same route in the November Moratorium Day protest against the Vietnam war.

Unlike last fall's youthful demonstrators with their long hair and unorthodox clothes, the weekend cowd was mostly over hairhuts, and more their Sunday-best outfits.

Some held Bibles, American and Confederate flags. They sang hymns, "America," "Dixie" and "God Bless America."

Students March

PHNOM PENH (AP) — Cambodian students in paramilitary uniforms marched through the streets of Phnom Penh today practicing a "march for liberty" next Saturday that may coincide with the declaration of a republic.

The leaders who toppled Prince Norodom Sihanouk have stepped up their campaign to end Cambodia's 1,500-year-old monarchy. Today they issued a declaration saying there had been calls from "certain quarters" for a republic. It said the government "attaches great importance to these aspirations."

Informed sources said the date for declaration of the republic was still tentative and depended on how successful the new regime was in whipping up sentiment for a republic. Sihanouk is believed to still have a strong hold on the peasants, who make up 80 per cent of the 6.5 million population.

Vets Revolt

A legless veteran raced his wheelchair up the boulevard, waiving a hammer as he charged into the fray.

Another ex-soldier, on crutches and wearing a wooden leg, pulled a street sign from the ground and lurched forward. A colonel from the palace staff held him back and talked him into abandoning the sign.

More than 50 disabled war veterans had marched with pipes, clubs and hammers on the palace to demand better treatment. They carried a stretcher containing a wounded man they said was shot Sunday night when militiamen invaded their shantytown near Ton Son Nhut Airport.

For Wiretapping

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's top criminal lawyer says the resumption of wiretapping has aided the fight against organized crime immeasurably and objections are based on a "wholly false argument."

"There isn't any question about it," Asst. Atty. Gen. Will R. Wilson, head of the Justice Department's criminal division, said, wiretaps have enabled the government to collect evidence essential to its case against a number of underworld figures.

Wilson declined to give specific examples or disclose the exact number of wiretaps in operation now. But he noted the Justice Department reported using 36 wiretaps last year and added:

"There may be a few more than that in operation now."

Perot Rejected

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A North Vietnamese diplomat refused today to meet with H. Ross Perot and told three American antiwar advocates the Texas billionaire's activities were "an act of propaganda" that had nothing to do with humanitarianism.

North Vietnamese Charge d'Affaires Vu Tien's rebuke was relayed to newsmen by the antiwar trio as they emerged from an hour's meeting at the North Vietnamese Embassy. Meanwhile, Perot and five wives of missing U.S. airmen were colling their heels beside the front gate.

Perot, the women and 60 newsmen waited for several hours at the gate although they were told twice that they could not see any officials inside.

As they waited, Prof. Douglas Dowd of Cornell University, Prof. Noam Chomsky of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Rev. Richard Fernandez, director of Clergy and Laymen Concerned about Vietnam, walked into the embassy.

When they came out, Chomsky told newsmen that Vu Tien said he refused to meet wit Perot for several reasons, among them that his actions "only help the policy of aggression of the Nixon administration and have nothing to do with humanitarianism."

Cycle-Riding Couple Injured

A Swedish couple was injured yesterday when their motorcycle was sideswiped on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Lola G. Green, 25, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Brookside Hospital in San Pablo with head injuries, a fractured left leg and cuts and bruises. Her husband, Lars G. Green, 25, was treated for bruises on both legs.

They were injured when their motorcycle was hit at 6:25 p.m. by a car driven by Victor J. Reindahl, 37, of 612 West Cotati Avenue, Cotati, who said he was blinded by the rays of the setting sun, according to the patrol.

Peace Role Is Rejected By Israelis

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli government has rejected an offer by a prominent Zionist to represent it at a meeting with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

A government spokesman said Dr. Nahum Goldmann, who heads the World Jewish Congress, informed Premier Golda Meir two weeks ago that "many sides"—including Nasser himself—had asked him to discuss the worsening Israel-Arab dispute in Cairo.

In Cairo, however, an Egyptian government spokesman denied that Nasser had agreed to meet with Goldmann and called the claim "a mere fabrication."

WILLING TO GO

According to the Israeli spokesman, Goldmann said he was willing to go but wanted to be approved by the Israeli government.

"The government decided that it would respond favorably to any manifestation of willingness on the part of the president of Egypt for a meeting to investigate problems crucial to Israel and Egypt, where each side was free to appoint its own representative," the government statement said.

But to Goldmann's request, "the government decided to reply in the negative." In other words, the government would appoint its own representative for any such talks.

The spokesman said that all but one of the cabinet's 24 members voted to turn down the 74-year-old Jewish leader, who was one of the most active and influential lobbyists for Israel before it became a state.

MODERATE ATTITUDE

Goldmann, who holds both Israeli and Swiss citizenship and lives in Geneva, has written that Israel should act flexibly and moderately toward its Arab neighbors—a position that has not made him popular in Israel.

Last month he called for the neutralization of Israel, with its status as a Jewish state guaranteed by "the whole of mankind," including the Arab nations.

Meanwhile, on the military fronts, one Israeli soldier was killed and two others were wounded in separate incidents along the Suez Canal and the Iebanese border, the military command announced.

EXCHANGE WHITE HOUSE PLEASANTRIES

President and Mrs. Richard Nixon greet former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson following White House ecumenical services yesterday. In welcoming the Johnsons back to the White House Nixon said: "We want you to know we are happy you have returned in good health. . ." In the service itself, John Cardinal Krol, archbishop of Philadelphia (partially hidden) attacked crime and communism.

Apollo 13's Helium Trouble Solved

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Engineers reported that a questionable helium tank in Apollo 13's moon landing ship appeared to be working satisfactorily today and was expected to be cleared for launch to the moon Saturday.

While the tests on the tank were being concluded, Apollo 13's three astronauts underwent their last major pre-flight medical examinations. James A. Lovell, Thomas K. Mattingly and Fred W. Haise were expected to pass the checkup without difficulty.

The Apollo 13 countdown began Sunday night, but the extra tests on the helium tank slowed launch pad operations and delayed work by about seven hours. That lost time was expected to be recouped in a planned rest period Tuesday.

Saturday is the only day this month Apollo 13 can be launched toward its high-priority landing site in a moon valley called FRA Mauro after a 16th century Franciscan Monk. The next launch opportunity is May 9.

The helium tank in question is in the descent stage of the lunar landing craft Aquarius. It carries frigid helium in a mixture of gas and liquid and is used to pressurize the propellants for the ship's big landing engine.

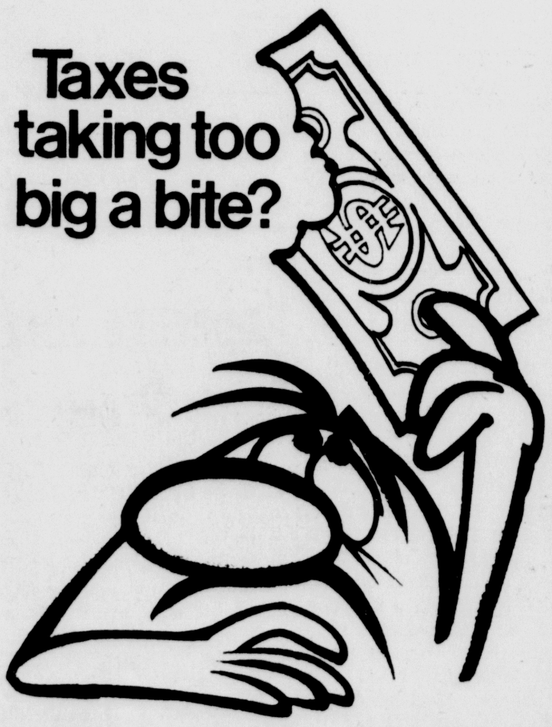

The trouble was the helium was observed to heat up slightly faster than normal in the double-walled tank, resulting in a a buildup of pressure. A spokemsan said an abnormal rise could be caused by nitrogen contamination in the vacuum jacket that serves as the tank's insulation.

A leak was found in the vacuum lining of a hydrogen tank in the Apollo 12 service module in November and it was replaced a day before launch.

Project officials Sunday ordered helium colder than -400 degrees fahrenheit pumped into the lunar module tank to see how fast the pressure rose. An increase slightly above normal was noted for a while, but it then leveled off.

Launch Director Walter Kapryan ordered the countdown started at 10 p.m. EST despite the problem and he directed the helium tank monitoring to continue for another 12 honrs.

27 Receive Unwanted LSD Trips

MARINA DEL RAY, Calif. (UPI) — Twenty-seven persons who attended a "swinging singles" party received emergency hospital treatment Sunday while on unwanted hallucinogenic "trips," apparently caused when they ate potato chips seasoned with LSD.

Sixteen of the partygoers were hospitalized, including three women in serious condition for a short time and a man with a heart condition who was in a coma briefly. Five still were hospitalized today. "Some of them were really climbing the walls. They were really out of it," said Sheriff's Lt. Benny Woodard.

Most of the 27 who sought treatment experienced mild symptoms such as dizziness but others had full-fledged hallucinogenic trips at the South Bay Club apartment complex in this Los Angeles suburb.

Deputies went to the complex to aid one person who became ill shortly after midnight. They became aware of the incident as other partygoers went to Memorial Hospital of Southern California in nearby Culver City suffering from the effects of the drugs.

Reds Lay Siege To Special Camp

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops from Laos have laid siege to a frontier Special Forces camp and shot down three American transports trying to drop emergency supplies, killing all nine American crewmen, military spokesmen reported today.

The heaviest action of the enemy's six-day-old offensive continued along the Laotian and Cambodian borders and the demilitarized zone. But fighting also was reported in the Central Highlands and the central coastal plain.

Allied communiques reported 262 more North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers killed in a dozen fights, three of them just outside the besieged Dak Seang Special Forces camp, eight miles from the Laotian border and 277 miles northeast of Saigon.

Eleven Americans were reported killed and 20 wounded in the ground fighting and in 41 rocket and mortar attacks during the night.

Several American helicopters were blown up by enemy sappers who penetrated the perimeter of Camp Radcliff, a U.S. base near An Khe, in the Central Highlands.

Reports from the field said at least 14 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 107 wounded in the ground fighting. Government casualties from rocket and mortar attacks were described as light.

One U.S. Air Force C7 Caribou twin-engine transport was shot down today over Dak Seang, another Saturday, and the third last Thursday. Enemy gunners last week also shot down three U.S. Army helicopters supporting South Vietnamese troops around the camp, wounding four American crewmen. The losses of the helicopters and one of the transports were announced earlier.

The U.S. 7th Air Force said North Vietnamese troops have been controlling Dak Seang's runway, just outside the camp, since last Wednesday, and air drops are the only means of supplying the American and South Vietnamese defenders.

Meanwhile today, the U.S. Command announced today that American troop strength in Vietnam dropped another 9,200 men last week, to 439,400. It is the lowest level in three years and results from continuance of President Nixon's third-phase withdrawal now nearing its final week.

San Franciscans Deny Auto Theft

Two San Francisco men have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of car theft. A preliminary hearing for Clyde Mark Cunningham, 19, and Morton Dennie Mora, 24, was set for Thursday.

The men were arrested Thursday in Corte Madera when the car, allegedly stolen from a San Francisco woman, stalled.

Aviation Panel Due Study Report

The present north-south runway at Gnoss Field satisfies the requirements of the Federal Aviation Agency, but a cross-runway would be useful.

This is the conclusion reached after a one-year wind study at the county airport by Dr. James A. Roberts and Associates of Tustin. Dr. Roberts' report will be discussed by the Marin aviation commissioners tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center.

Roberts recommends that a cross-runway be installed for use when sea breezes are blowing, usually in the early afternoons. "The proposed runway should provide major relief, although some turbulence may be experienced on the approaches," said Dr. Roberts. He found that 97.5 per cent of the winds were under 12 miles per hour, and the county airport meets safety requirements of FAA.

Aviation commissioners will also discuss the possible joint use of Hamilton Air Force Base facilities by both the civilians and the military, and the planned purchase of 3.5 acres of land to the south of the airport to expand tie-down space.

Cleanup Of Tam Called Big Success

If garbage can be a measure of success, then the massive cleanup of Mount Tamalpais Saturday was a success.

Three or four large industrial container bins were filled with debris gathered by about 500 youths in a cleanup sponsored by the Mill Valley Youth Commission, reported commissioner Leonard Anderson.

"At least 100 regular garbage cans were dumpted two or three times," Anderson reported.

High school students, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and church groups along with a group sponsored by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department joined in the cleanup, he said.

While the youths concentrated in the camping and roadway areas, horsemen from several organizations hit the back trails in the vicinities of Lagunitas, Bon Tempe and Phoenix lakes.

About 25 to 30 riders participated and gathered about two pick-up truck loads of debris, reported Gayle Murphy of Fairfax, secretary of Tamalpais Trail Riders, sponsoring group.

The Southern Marin Horsemen's Association discovered the most unusual item, a baby bottle, but there were other unusual items hauled out including a "Keep America Beautiful" sign and one high-heeled shoe.

One pair of riders came out with seven bags of trash, a car seat and a car fender, Mrs. Murphy said.

Nixon, Johnson See New Press Quarters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon gave Lyndon B. Johnson a tour of the new White House press room today and the former president agreed it is a vast improvement over the crowded old quarters. (See picture page 2.)

"This is a wonderful improvement," Johnson said. "But has there been any improvement in the stories?"

The former president recalled his high-school class motto: "Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you."

Maybe, he said, if you give the press all these good things, then you can hope.

"It's only a hope," Nixon answered with a grin. "I can assure you."

"At least they can see and hear you," Johnson remarked. "That's better than we had."

He was referring to arrangements for pulling a platform down from one end of the room for use for press briefings, with cameras and sound equipment at the other end, normally closed off behind curtains.

The two men wandered through the whole area, through a briefing room filled with furniture with a Williamsburg, Va., decor, past booths for wire services and network reporters and desks for others. They went then into a small lounge where there are sandwich and cigarette vending machines and a coffee bar operated by the White House Correspondents Association.

The major domo of the coffee service, lighting technician Cleveland Ryan, came forward with filled plastic cups. "Have a cup of coffee on the house, Mr. President," he said.

panel, and they filed out of the century-old courtroom under the care of a sheriff dressed in an antique costume. As his dress of office, Sheriff John E. Palmeira wore a long black cutaway coat, mustard colored waist coat and black bow tie.

Judge Paquet, a huge man with balding red hair, read his charge in a clear, almost ringing voice and emphasized to the jurors whatever went on in their room "you must keep secret in your conscience and in your heart...forever."

The judge, who reminded the jurors they could return an indictment charging perjury if they believed any witness had lied to them, called a short recess after his charge and before sending the panel into its closed-door investigation into Miss Kopechne's death last July 18 in Kennedy's black sedan.

SHEPPARD

U.S. District Court at Dayton, which ruled he had not received a fair trial.

Sheppard's release was appealed to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati, which on May 5, 1965, reversed the earlier ruling and ordered him returned to prison.

The U.S. Supreme Court, in a precedent-setting decision on June 6, 1965, said Sheppard had been denied a fair trial because of the "Roman carnival" atmosphere in the court room and a prejudiced trial judge.

Sheppard was freed in 1964 and married Ariane in July of that year after a pen-pal relationship that started while he was in prison.

Sheppard's wrestling career had been highly successful and he had donated large portions of his winnings to charity.

Late last year he said he was happy with his participation in the sport.

Mrs. George Strickland, Sheppard's mother in-law, and wife of his wrestling manager and partner, said he had not been under a physician's care.

"He never would call a doctor," Mrs. Strickland said. "We all thought he had the flu."

Sheppard had one son, Samuel Jr., by his first marriage.

SHOOTINGS

rived within minutes. It was shortly before midnight.

The fugitive arrested in a canyon was identified by police as Russell Lowell Talbert 28. However, police later said, identification papers may have been stolen.

Talbert was wounded twice after he exchanged shots and scuffled with camper Dan Schwarz, 40, Chicago, who was sleeping in his camper truck when Talbert fired into it, a spokesman said.

Police said Talbert, apparently out of ammunition, pistol-whipped Schwarz and fled in the camper truck.

He was apprehended without resistance later in a canyon nearby.

The slain patrolmen were identified as Walter C. Frago, 23; Roger D. Gore, 22; James Edward Pence Jr., 25, and George M. Alleyn, 24. All were married and lived in nearby communities.

One witness, among four young persons in a car towing a boat, said he was "standing in the parking lot and saw a California Highway Patrol car approach a car with two men in it.

A highway patrol spokesman said he could not explain how two men were able to shoot down four officers.

of the festival last year, said today he was not on this year's committee, but he agreed with the letter.

Last years' fourth annual festival was criticized by some Fairfax residents at the time, primarily for the litter that was created.

At last week's candidates' night in Fairfax, candidate Lee Nelder criticized the festival and said there were "people smoking pot and young girls running around uncovered."

In a mailing to Fairfax voters last week, incumbent Robert R. Souza, running for reelection, said that from a sampling of public opinion, "a large number of you feel that the last Fairfax Festival was a disgrace to our community.

"I believe a moratorium on this event is needed before the family type festival of 1966 can be recreated."

The one day festival of art exhibits, bicycle races, a flea market, and music drew about 7,000 persons in 1966.

Last year's two-day festival drew about 15,000.

Tam Paper Satirizes The I-J

Students at Tamalpais Union High School, as an April Fool's journalism project, satirized the Independent-Journal in a four-page publication released Friday.

"Called the "Independent-Yournal," the special issue depicts a urinal on its masthead with the slogan "Nauseating All of Marin County."

The publication's lead story reports a "Bloody Car Crash" involving a printer, Leon Olston, and Wishy A. Drown, owner and publisher of the "Independent-Yournal."

The issue treats lightheartedly the beating of newspaper carriers in a column headed "thank you for paying your paper boy promptly." The story reads, "he just can't understand why he gets beat up when he goes about his route; why his papers have been set on fire before he gets there."

The publication also contains stories on the bi-monthly meeting of the "dope club," a marijuana bust of senior citizens at the "Valley Park Convalescent Home in Mill Valley" and a story headed "junior Class elections," which begins "Armand Q. Delane, aged 35, is apparently a sex maniac. . ."

"I thought it was pretty good satire, very clever" Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant for the Tamalpais Union High School distriict, said. "A great newspaper like the Independent-Journal is like a public figure, kind of fair game," he said.

Neumeier admitted he wouldn't have published the issue himself "because I think that kind of journalism is old fashioned, but it was intended as a joke and I hope the Independent-Journal will be big enough to see it that way."

Journalism adviser Richard P. Fregulia Jr., said he thought the edition was "great."

"I think the students learned a great deal about journalism putting out an issue like that which imitated and satirized," he said.

Fregulia said the 2,400 copies of the publication were distributed Friday.

was not disconnected until after Saturday's escape.

Shine said Corbelli was recaptured Thursday after escaping the previous weekend. Corbelli, Shepherd and Farmer have all escaped from the hall before, he said.

Shepherd and Watson were caught last week after Watson was stopped at the wheel of a stolen car, Shine said.

Green Chevrolet Reported Stolen

A green 1959 Chevrolet with license CXG937 owned by Diane E. Babbage of 571 Louis Street, Novato and parked in a lot in front of the Emporium at Northgage, was stolen Friday between 1 and 1:20 p.m., San Rafael police reported today.

Flower and vegetable seeds worth $300 were inside the car's trunk, police said.

Bonn Diplomat In Guatemala Slain

"The men who kidnaped Count Karl von Spreti last Tuesday carried out this horrible crime," a government announcement said, expressing its "deepest condolences" to the Bonn government.

The assassination, the first in the recent wave of kidnapings of foreign diplomats in South America, strained relations between West Germany and Guatemala almost to the breaking point.

COUNT VON SPRETI
Kidnaped on Tuesday

Over official protests from Bonn officials, Guatemala had refused to release 22 political prisoners and pay $700,000 ransom for Von Spreti.

"The government of Guatemala has shown itself unable to insure the necessary safety of the diplomats accredited to it," West German Chancellor Willy Brandt said in El Paso, Tex.

A peasant discovered the body 10 miles outside this capital in a deserted shack at the 6,000-foot level. Newsmen who arrived later said Von Spreti was shot several times in the head.

He was lying face down with his eyeglasses in hand. Officials said the 62-year-old diplomat had been murdered Sunday afternoon. Police set up roadblocks around the deserted shack.

The body was found about the same time the slain diplomat's wife, Countess Helene Sabine von Spreti, arrived in Guatemala from Lisbon. She had been on a sea cruise when he was kidnaped Tuesday.

Brandt blamed "internal political strife in Guatemala" for the kidnaping, the third in this nation since Feb. 27.

In the first two abductions, of Foreign Minister Alberte Fuentes on Feb. 27 and of American diplomat Sean Michael Holly on March 6, the government released a total of four prisoners to win their freedom.

In Bonn, a member of the West Berlin parliament colled on the government to reconsider its relations with Guatemala City in view of the murder.

"The question must be asked whether normal relations can be maintained with a government that by no means did all in its power to protect Von Spreti from deadly danger," Wolfgang Mischnick said.

Japan's Diet Hears Report On Skyjack

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese deputy transportation minister who agreed to replace 103 persons as hostages aboard a jet being hijacked to North Korea last week delivered a three-hour report of the Japanese Diet (parliament) today and received a white porcelain vase for his action.

The three crew members who flew the Japan Air Lines plane to Pyongyang Friday were given special letters of appreciation for their "coolness and composure" during the 122 hours of history's longest hijack.

PLANS UNKNOWN

No one knew what the North Koreans planned to do with the nine radical students who commandeered the Boeing 727 jet last Tuesday and ordered it to North Korea, where they said they planned to set up a center for world revolution.

The transportation ministry official, Shinjiro Yamamura, offered himself as a hostage after days of negotiations between officials and the hijackers while the plane was grounded at Seoul, South Korea, where it had been flown in an attempted ruse that failed.

The ultra-leftist student hijackers, armed with guns, samurai swords and explosives, finally agreed Friday to permit Yamamura to replace 99 passengers and four stewardesses.

The North Koreans let Yamamura and the crew return with the plane Sunday, but denounced the hijackers' aim of setting up a revolutionary base. A broadcast called reports of the students' plan "fantastic rumors" intended to justify "the hostile aggressive scheme of the Japanese militarist clique against our country."

ACTION SURPRISES

Yamamura said Sunday the radicals "were subdued when the plane landed. I was surprised by their reaction."

He and the hijackers were kept aboard the jet for 2½ hours after the crew were taken off, he added. Then he was taken away for questioning by an officer, who wanted to know why he had made the trip.

"I told him I had offered myself to obtain the release of the others aboard the plane," he said. "There was no other choice but to come."

Yamamura said the nine students were present while he was being interrogated, but were not asked any questions in his presence.

U.S. Consul Thwarts Brazilian Kidnap Try

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (AP) — The U.S. consul in Porto Alegre was recovering today from a slight wound suffered in thwarting a kidnap attempt. He used his car to run down one of his would-be kidnapers, and they let loose a hail of bullets as he escaped.

Curtis C. Cutter, a 41-year-old Karean War veteran, became the first diplomat in Latin America to personally defy a kidnap attempt since the wave of political abductions started last September. There have been eight previous kidnapings or attempted kidnapings in Latin American countries.

Cutter was driving home late Saturday night with his wife, Catherine, and a former State Department official, Hovey Clark, when a gang in a car intercepted them. Several men wearing dark glasses and carrying machine guns jumped out and headed toward Cutter's station wagon.

The consul stepped on the gas and pulled around the car blocking his path, hitting one of the men and dragging him on the bumper for several yards. The other kidnapers opened fire, wounding the consul slightly in the back, but he was able to drive to his home a few blocks away.

Police said the assailants were members of the leftist Armed Revolutionary Vanguard. They picked up their injured comrade and escaped.

Guards were put on Cutter's hospital room, his home and the homes of other diplomats.

Appeals were broadcast over radio stations in the area for all doctors to report any cases of auto injuries they treat. Police said they found the car used by the attackers. They said it had been stolen last month.

Cutter joined the foreign service in 1957. He served in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Lima, Peru, and Washington before coming to Porto Alegre last November. A native of California, he is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley and attended the Graduate Institute of International Affairs in Geneva. The Cutters have six children.

High Praise To Board's Ferry Work

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — High praise of the Golden Gate Bridge District for operating the strikebound commuter ferry was given today by the mayors of Tiburon and Belvedere at a luncheon in San Francisco.

The district's performance "should forever lay to rest any charges that governmental agencies are slow to get things done," the mayors said in a resolution presented to the district's transporation committee. The luncheon at the Sheraton Palace Hotel was hosted by Tiburon Mayor Branwell Fanning and Belvedere Mayor Thomas S. Price.

The district carried more than 150,000 passengers in almost five months. The charter ended yesterday with the end of the strike against Harbor Carriers, which has promised to continue the daily service for 45 days before deciding what changes or subsidy may be needed.

Mob Hits Coachella Police Station Over Two Arrests

COACHELLA, Calif. (UPI)—A mob of youths, incited by the arrests of two men described by police as members of the militant Brown Berets, stormed the police station here and attempted to burn down the mayor's home following a rally for farm workers' leader Cesar Chavez.

"All hell broke loose when the arrests were made," Police Chief Lester O'Neil said. "We would have lost the station without the assistance of the other law enforcement agencies."

A spokesman for the police department of this agricultural community said the mob, which at its peak numbered about 500, burned a patrol car and then stormed the station with a barrage of rocks and bottles.

Two policemen suffered minor injuries. Officers from two nearby cities were called in along with highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies from Riverside County.

O'Neil said the rally attended by Chavez, founder of the United Farm Workers organizing committee, was not related to the disturbance.

Officers used tear gas to repel the crowd from the station but it broke into small groups and broke windows in three schools and a post office.

O'Neil said a fire was started, probably by gasoline, at the home of Mayor Nick Abdelnour and it caused extensive damage. There were no injuries.

The chief said the violence erupted following the Chavez rally in the same park at a dance. He said a group of men believed to be Brown Berets from Los Angeles, a militant Mexican-American organization, took over the public address system of the dance and attempted to provoke the gathered youths.

Police moved in and arrested two of the men yelling into the microphone. The crowd, authorities said, then turned on the officers and throwing rocks and bottles attempted to free the two men from the nearby police station.

The two men were not identified.

Police said several other arrests were made but they did not have an exact figure. includes previous

Ecuadorean Consul Held

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Alfredo J. Giler, the Ecuadorean consul in Philadelphia, remained in the county detention center today after his embassy balked at posting $100,000 bail for his arrest on a narcotics charge.

Giler, 38, was arrested by U.S. Customs agents Saturday after he visited a ship at a South Philadelphia pier. Agents said they found a package containing seven pounds of pure cocaine worth an estimated $1 million in the trunk of his car.

The consul was arraigned before a U.S. commissioner who set bail. Ecuadorean Ambassador Carlos Mantilla-Ortega, contacted in Washington, said the bail was "out of the question." He said he was awaiting orders from his government.

MODEL U.N. SESSION

Peking Is Again Denied A Seat

By C. P. McCARTHY

A move to admit Red China to the United Nations was again defeated Saturday by the U. N. General Assembly.

The assembly also placed a trade embargo on South Africa and all nations which practice apartheid government.

But so well prepared were the seventh and eighth grade students participating, that if the U.N. had met Saturday and considered the admittance of Red China and South Africa's racially discriminating government, the results of the meeting probably would have been nearly identical to the students' actions.

Six schools participated in the session, which was sponsored by Redwood's Model United Nations Club: Adaline E. Kent, Ross, San Domenico, Sinaloa, Kennilworth of Petaluma and Presidio Junior High of San Francisco.

Faculty advisors were on hand, but unneeded. The students ran everything themselves. Members of the Redwood club served as U.N. officers.

Kirk Pessner, 17, a junior at Redwood, served as president of the General Assembly, and Joseph Franaszek, 16, also a Redwood junior, acted as secretary-general.

The aim of the meeting, Pessner said, was to develop speaking qualities.

But the five months of preparation also equipped the students with a knowledge of the U.N. and the countries they represented that would put many an adult to shame.

Since last November, when the Redwood club sent out invitations to the session, the junior high school students used U.N. publications and records for source material, as well as writing to their respective nations for more information.

Training sessions were conducted at Redwood by the Model U.N. Club for the Marin students who participated, and the Redwood students went to the Petaluma and San Francisco schools to conduct the training sessions there.

The debate on the resolutions Saturday could have been taken almost verbatim from a transcript of an actual U.N. meeting, as the western nations lined up against the communist bloc nations on the Red China question.

Whether the Soviet delegates to the actual U.N. wear red skirts with yellow hammer and sickles on them, as did the USSR representatives Saturday, is a matter of doubt.

But the tedious task of trying to get along with each other which goes on in the U.N.'s New York headquarters might be made a little easier by the addition of some of Redwood High's barefoot page girls.

Youngsters Hurt In Petaluma

Two Petaluma youngsters were struck by automobiles Friday in separate accidents.

Tammy Perry, 6, of 94 Thompson Lane, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for scrapes on her head and face suffered when she was hit by an auto at H and Eighth streets at about 2:30 p.m.

Donald LaPrelle, 9, of 1625 Anita Drive, Petaluma, was admitted to the hospital with scrapes and bruises suffered when he was hit by an auto at about 3:30 p.m. on Weaverly Drive. He was released Saturday, the hospital reported.

No further details of either accident were available.

Kirk Ignores High Court's School Plan

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk, directing pupils and teachers to ignore desegregation transfer approved by the U.S. Supreme Court, today personally assumed "custodial supervision" of the Manatee County public school system.

In an executive order Sunday, Kirk acted 14 hours before the desegregation plan was to be implemented in Manatee, a coastal county on the Gulf of Mexico 50 miles south of Tampa.

CLOSED CONFERENCE

On the scene before classes opened, Kirk huddled briefly behind closed doors with Lt. Gov. Ray Osborne and two assistant superintendents, Col. Philip Doyle and Dr. William Bashaw.

Then addressing some 150 administrative staff members, Kirk said: "We have exercised every legal opportunity possible with the Manatee County School Board. We will now exercise our rights as governor.

"Our job is to educate children."

He added that the federal judges who ordered desegregation were not concerned with this.

"There will be no changes," Kirk said. "I see no problems. I see a great staff."

"MAIN INTEREST"

"My main interest is in keeping the schools running and in keeping the children in school. The legal ramifications are secondary.

"We have come this way reluctantly. We have not been given our day in court. We imagine we will be given our day in court now."

Doyle said results of Kirk's action wouldn't be known until midmorning.

Asked if confusion was expected in the 17,000-pupil system, Doyle replied: "I hope not."

Outside the meeting room at the county school board offices, parents flooded telephones with questions about what their children were to do.

A secretary told them to send their children to the schools they attended last week.

Ross Valley Mayors Ask Pact On Creeks

Mayors in the Ross Valley meeting with Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. atthe Civic Center have decided to push on with a proposed ordinance that would make individual property owners responsible for keeping creeks behind their homes free of debris.

The decision was reached Friday despite a warning by William L. Hess, assistant director of county public works, that the ordinance, now in draft form, was too restrictive and would be too costly to administer.

The ordinance would rerquire property owners to keep their portion of the creek free of weeds, trees, debris, rubbish or any other obstruction that would impede the flow of water.

"This puts the burden on the property owner to make engineering judgments far beyond his capacity," said Hess. "For example, what would constitute an obstruction—a rock, a tree?" He warned that if every property owner began cutting out weeds and trees from the creek, it might lead to worse erosion problems than if the creek were left alone.

Furthermore, said Hess, property lines along creeks are so vague that it would be difficult to pin down just who was responsible for debris accumulation.

"You've been reading into this something we never intended," replied Mayor Neil R. Brixon of Larkspur. "No one ever thought of going in there and denuding the creek of all trees. We're referring to fallen trees and piles of debris that people throw into the creeks."

Mayor Woodrow Capurro of San Anselmo wanted all wood bulkheading outlawed in the creeks because of a tendency to break up. Capurro suggested all future bulkheading be concrete.

Hess replied that this flies in the face of objections raised in several cities to the use of concrete lining.

The mayors accepted Hess's suggestion that the type of bulkheading used by subject to engineering approval by either the county or the city public works departments.

Mayor Francis J. O'Connell of Fairfax suggested that enforcement of such an ordinance be conducted in this way: A county public works official and a public works man of the city involved could go through the creeks in June, noting the debris and logs that need clearing. They would then notify the property owners where the debris is located. In September, before the winter floods, another inspection would be made through the same creek to see if the problems have been corrected.

As for determining property lines, Brixon contended that most people know where their property lines are, and the ordinance should not be held up just because some boundary disputes arise.

The group will meet again at 3 p.m. Friday at the Civic Center to consider a new draft of the proposed ordinance.

Ferry Bus Aid Will Be Pondered

Should the Marin County Transit District continue to subsidize the Tiburon ferry bus shuttle, which is operated by a private firm based in Marin City?

That is one of the questions to be taken up tomorrow at a meeting of the district board at the Civic Center. The meeting will start at 8:30 a.m. in the board of supervisors chambers.

The private firm which operates the ferry shuttle is Marin County Transit Systems, headed by Theophus Barron Jr.

The district on Feb. 1 authorized a $12,000 subsidy for a three-month trial. That contract expires on May 1. Directors must decide whether a new contract should be signed, and if so, how much the subsidy should be.

Another major item on the agenda is staffing of the transit district office when Gen. Mgr. Seymour Kashin resigns on April 30 from his $23,712-per-year post. His departure will leave only one secretary on the staff.

South Carolina College was founded in 1805; it is now called the University of South Carolina.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Valerie M. Ansel Is Hub's Candidate

Valerie M. Ansel, retired from one career but still active in several other fields, is the nominee of the San Anselmo City Council and San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce for senior citizen of the year in Marin.

Miss Ansel may be personally known to more San Anselmans than any other person. She was teacher and principal at Wade Thomas School for 45 years, retiring in 1959. She took over as teacher-principal four years after she arrived in 1913, served in that role for 39 years, and then was a principal with no teaching duties her last four years.

A graduate of San Francisco Normal School, she taught one year in Tomales before coming to San Anselmo.

Today, Miss Ansel may be better known as chairman of the San Anselmo Library Board, a post she has held since 1932. She has been a library board member since 1923.

In addition, she is a member and former president of the Marin County Chapter of the National Foundation, a member of Guide Dogs for the Blind, and a trustee of the Robson-Harrington Park Association.

During her career and since her retirement, Miss Ansel, now 78, has kept in close touch with many of her former students, and sends birthday gifts to many of their children and grandchildren.

One of her most treasured possessions is an autographed picture from the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, with congratulations he wrote her on her retirement.

She was the sort of teacher students remember. On her retirement, one former pupil said that after eight years with Miss Ansel, Navy discipline was a snap.

Shows' Preview Set Tomorrow

An exhibit of mixed media works by San Rafael artist Ursula Johnson will be previewed tomorrow from 5:30 to 8 p.m. at the Fourth Floor Gallery, 315 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

The show will be open weekdays from noon to 5:30 p.m. through April 30.

A story in Saturday's Independent-Journal incorrectly stated that the preview was to be held yesterday.

Cause Of Hub Blaze Traced

A $25,000 fire in San Anselmo Saturday morning started in a curtain hung too close to a gas furnace, the San Anselmo Fire Department reported today.

Thomas Hardline, who used the furnace room as a bedroom in the basement apartment at 67 Ross Avenue, had hung the curtain to disguise the furnace.

Hardine told firemen he awoke at 6:04 a.m. Saturday to find the room in flames. He suffered minor burns.

Construction Ban Lifting To Be Eyed

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Some easing of a state ban on all new construction in San Francisco will be considered by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the supervisors' chambers in City Hall.

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto has requested immediate exemptions for $24 million worth of new construction, including a new school, hospital, telephone exchange and 24 business and apartment buildings.

The state ban by the State Water Resources Control Board was imposed to prevent any increase in the city's massive pollution of the bay. The ban is to remain in force until improvements in the city's sewage treatment are adequate to assure that the new construction will not increaes the net pollution.

Alioto has offered to order $60,000 in overtime to improve sewage treatment ona 24-hour basis.

Alioto threatened the state last Thursday with court action against the ban. He also suggested the city may "set up a civil disobedience" of the ban.

Alson onthe agenda is a staff request for more inspectors to enforce board actions. Without more men, new enforcement actions may have to be halted, according to the staff.

Hurt In Wreck

Drew Mahan, 19, of 4415 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for arm cuts suffered at 2:45 a.m. today when his car struck an embankment at 2590 Lakeville Highway, Petaluma.

Pollution Picture Put Into New Perspective

From time to time, we have called attention to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District's predilection for talking about tons of solid matter put into the atmosphere, rather than about the pollutants that cause eye, nose and throat irritation and probably contribute to both emphysema and lung cancer.

The Citizens Against Pollution, a San Jose group, has drummed on the same subject, referring disparagingly to what it calls the district's "little gray eyeball charts."

Last week, a Stanford University biologist called attention to the same failing, in more scientific fashion.

EDWARD GROWTH III, a graduate student in biological science at Stanford, told the smog board in a report:

"Tonnage is a poor indicator of the severity of pollution. Carbon monoxide, the greatest problem in terms of weight emitted (two-thirds of all pollution), is the smallest problem in terms of its effects. . .Particles may reduce visibility, while the most potentially toxic emissions are invisible."

The smog district's figures show that automobiles create 77.6 per cent of pollutants; backyard burning (prior to the Jan. 1 ban), 9 per cent; industry, 8.5 per cent; agricultural burning, 2.3 per cent.

When relative toxicity of the pollutants is considered, using toxicity standards set by the California Air Resources Board, the picture is quite different, Growth pointed out. With these, as well as the mere weight of particulates, considered, the relative importance of the same pollution sources looks like this:

Industry, 48.6 per cent; automobiles, 43.4 per cent; backyard burning (prior to Jan. 1), .3 of one per cent; agricultural burning, .1 of one per cent.

THE SMOG DISTRICT has cracked down on agricultural burning. In so doing, it has moved against the farmer's best method of cleaning his fields — not only of stubble, but also of weeds, weed seeds and insect pests (a method, incidentally, which does not involve spray that really poisons the atmosphere). Yet agricultural burning is responsible for only one one-thousandth of the air pollution.

The district has completely banned backyard burning. In so doing, it has saddled counties, cities and citizens with added costs, has increased fire hazards, has added to the defilement of the environment by litter — all to stop a practice responsible for three one-thousandths of the air pollution.

Meanwhile, until last week — after considerable pressure — the district had refused even to disclose which industries are the prime offenders among those producing 48.6 per cent of air pollution. Its use of its enforcement powers against industries has been marked by "all deliberate speed" even more deliberate than the desegregation of southern schools.

BIOLOGIST GROWTH deserves a vote of thanks from the smog district and all its citizens for putting the matter into perspective. The district needs to put its enforcement into the same perspective.

In other words, put first things first.

The Glorified Reptiles

On the evolutionary tree, the nearest relative to the birds are the reptiles. Though greatly modified, the bird's skeleton most closely resemble the reptilian type. Birds have scales on their legs and feet, and even their feathers are modified reptilian scales, both having even the same chemical composition.

Some contentious zoologists have said that birds are merely glorified reptiles. And the ornithologist replies, "Yes, but how wonderfully glorified!" For this is the reptile that flies, sings, brightens the landscape with a hundred different colors of plumage, and helps man in his struggle to control insects.

How wonderfully glorified indeed!

There Really Is 'Now Generation' And It Has Reasons For Being

By GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

Editor's Note: This column is by the son in the Drummond writing team. It attepmts to explain today's youth to today's adults. His father will write Wednesday's column attempting to explain adults to today's youth.)

WASHINGTON — There really is a NOW generation.

It's not just an advertising slogan.

Today's youth has a sense of urgency—a passionate conviction that things must be done NOW which few adults feel as keenly.

End pollution NOW. Out of Vietnam NOW. Black studies NOW.

There are reasons.

THIS GENERATION is the first ever to grow up in a world which can destroy mankind—instantly by the biggest bang ever or slowly by heedless overpopulation and overpollution.

Adults may live with this fatalistically and calmly. Many young people don't, and let's respect them for it.

And the dissatisfaction of youth is increased by the feeling--and the fact—that the "peace of nuclear peril" is not of their making nor under their control.

And the draft and Vietnam. How can you plan your life with the thought of young death facing you? Add that youth is in school longer now than ever, which makes them dependent members of society longer into their maturing years.

WE FEED their minds and frustrate their desire to exercise them in a way meaning something to their lives. They are taught what's wrong with the world and theories on how to right it, and they feel more ready to do something about it NOW.

Youth hasn't yet seen that it all can't be done overnight.

Other factors contribute to the feeling that NOW is paramount. Far-reaching changes in our technological society make the future more certain to be far different from the present. It will be more impersonal and more Big brother.

YOUTH WANTS at least a hand in the immediate forces that shape their lives. That's why they want more control of their schools and universities.

And there is a lot wrong with the way we run our lives, our government and our country. We believe our society can provide the good life for all. But it hasn't. Much youth feels society has failed miserably where it should succeed outstandingly. Youth says do it NOW and some say do it OR ELSE.

Youth is down on amassing material things, called affluence. Why? Young people didn't suffer through the depression of the '30s and didn't have to spend their lives just surviving. They didn't fight in a war which we all felt patriotic and right and necessary for national survival.

WHAT THEN is the NOW generation? It's a minority. It isn't what most kids are, but this column is about the kids we are all talking about.

NOW means that there is something better than affluence. NOW means that if the world may blow up tomorrow, what good is it to have a lot of things, possessions? Then what is good to have? Freedom, peace, a sense of who-I-am, control over my own life, a value system of people over property—partly because if all life may disappear in a world nuclear blast, what's of most value NOW?

Many young people can afford to look beyond affluence. They don't need to scratch for a living. If it's good enough for the dad why should it be good enough for the son? Why not better? Many of today's adults lived in fear. Much of what they have accomplished allows youth to live in hope.

THE MOST RADICAL of youth—a small minority—wants to destroy our society because it sees it as so bad as to merit destruction without even an idea of what to replace it with. Other youth wants IN—in on the decisions which shape their lives. In a world of increasing impersonality, they are fighting to preserve their own personalities and persons.

And much youth is pretty well satisfied, knows where it's going and is on its way.

All youth is entitled to understanding. Who knows? they may well be doing, saying, thinking something today that will prove to be very right tomorrow.

Cost To Hub City Of Planning Study

In the April 2 edition of the Independent-Journal there was a news article in regard to the "revolt slate" meeting which was held in the multi-purpose room at the Isabel Cook school on the evening of April 1. According to the news report one of the "revolt slate" candidates, in discussing the proposed "701 plan" for the city, stated that this plan will cost the city $40,000, etc.

In order to set the records straight for the citizens of our community, it should be pointed out that the cost to the city would be $30,002, and not $40,000. Actually, the cost as approved by the city council on Feb. 24, was $31,502, but $1,500 of this amount would be borne by the San Anselmo Elementary School District.

But Did The Dogs Ever Come Back?

This evening, I found myself in a rather uncomfortable position. My father left the back door open and our dachshund got out followed by a small white poodle that had never been out of the house before. Upon calling the Humane Society number in the phone book, I was informed that this was only an emergency number, and they could give me no information as concerned any dogs picked up during the day but if I had a dog, cat, etc., that was injured, they could take care of it. The police department could tell me no more. The sheriff's department, etc.

I know there must be someone on duty at all hours, or there should be. And information should be available to the general public, as regards the status of any animal. We spend a great deal of the taxpayers' money every day taking care of burns, but the people that yap taxes have little say about these expenditures. And when a community supported agency can't answer a question because of some lame excuse, we, the public, should either do away with the agency or straighten it out.

In the past few weeks, there have been many complaints as regards the way this humane (?) society is being run, and it's about time the silent majority becomes very loud. It should be either shape up or get out.

Another Case Of Office Affinity

I have another case of affinity between candidate and office.

We are fortunate in Marin County to have a man running for the Board of Equalization who is not only qualified, but a dedicated, honest, public servant.

He has had thirteen years in the public utilities engineering (C.P.U.C.) field, seven years industrial engineering (costs, etc.). He is a registered industrial and mechanical engineer, and a 1949 I.E. Berkeley graduate, so he is well versed in cost analysis and taxation.

He has twice been elected to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District board. He is a hard working grass roots Republican, who happens to be my husband.

Annual Session Of Legislature Fails To Prevent Log-Jams

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO, (CNS)—One of the arguments on behalf of regular annual session for the state legislature in 1966, when voters of the state approved Proposition 1A, was that the annual session would eliminate the "log-jam" encountered every year.

After nearly four years of the annual session, the "log-jams" have just become worse.

The legislature provided a period for the introduction of bills, which this year ended April 3, after which new bills may come before the legislature only on vote of three-quarters of each house agreeing.

Of course, the members always agree if a colleague wants to introduce a bill he may have forgotten during the introduction period, and the vote is easy to get. But this right is not exercised too often.

THE POINT, however, is that the members have three months in which to introduce bills before the cut-off date arrives.

And the fact is that almost as many bills are introduced during the last three days of this introduction period, as during the rest of the entire period!

While generally, the public does not appear to care whether the majority of the bills come in the last three or four days or not, there appear to be somewhat compelling reasons for avoiding the resultant "log-jam" and attempting to live up to the idea propunded in the constitutional amendment which authorized the annual session.

AMONG THE REASONS is the matter of economy. If legislators can waste nearly three months before they get down to serious business, why should the public foot the expense bill for having them in Sacramento during this period? At $25 a day, times 120 legislators, costs would be materially reduced were the legislators to stay home, mail their bills in for the legislative counsel to prepare, meet three months after the first of the year and dump the bills in the hopper all in a group.

Not much would be missed in any event, for according to the rules, no bill may be heard in committee until 30 days after it is introduced.

The practice of throwing so many bills in the legislature at the last moment could be a practice adopted to lengthen days of the session, at $25 per day, thereby increasing costs.

THE OTHER ANNUAL log-jam the legislature encounters is even more of its own making than the one at the close of the bill introduction period.

This is at the close of the session, when the files are thick with bills on which action should have been taken long before.

At both these log-jams, the public is deprived of information to which it entitled, or at least, which it could have had in the event there had been reasonably even introductions and considerations of bills.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A hen-pecked husband was futilely hunting for a parking space at the theater hour in New York when his wife shrilled out to him, as she prepared to amble to her seat without him, "Don't park it near any pigeons, you fool! Remember I had it washed just three days ago!"

The first time the famous old vaudeville team of Block and Sully played London's Palladium Theatre, Miss Sully suddenly discovered that her necklace was missing. "Don't worry," soothed Block. "There are no gangsters over here. All we have to do is summon Scotland Yard."

In due course, exactly the kind of character they were expecting turned up from the Yard—complete with walrus mustache, derby, rolled umbrella and black notebook. They heard nothing from him for 24 hours. Then Block was told he was calling. "What did I tell you?" he exulted. When he returned to the dressing room, Miss Sully demanded, "Has he recovered my necklace?"

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

No Mail, Paper, Subway —And Adults Did It All

(Vermont Royster in Wall Street Journal)

If you live in New York City, when you get up in the morning you never know whether you'll have a morning paper. Or whether the subways will run. Or whether there will be any school, garbage collection or snow removal. You can't be too sure whether there'll be anyone to take care of you if you go to the hsopital, or anyone to bury you if you're dead.

THINGS AREN'T much less exciting elsewhere.

If you live in Pittsburgh, for example, you are equally uncertain whether it is wise to get sick since the hospital employees may or may not show up for work. The same in Charleston, S.C.

If you live in Atlanta, it's not only the garbage but all city services. The same in Cincinnati. Or if you live in San Francisco you may find the whole city's transportation system shut down—ships in port, buses and even the venerable cable cars.

SO IT GOES. There are few cities of any size that have escaped one or more of such shutdowns within the past year or so, and even those which have so far escaped know that they are no longer immune. It could happen anywhere.

And of course no matter where you live you can't be sure the planes or trains will run, the telephones work or the mails get through.

There are several things common to these lively experiences. All involve not acts of God, or accidents, but strikes. With the possible exception of newspapers, they all involve essential public services, and at least you can say that without newspapers it's harder to keep track of what else isn't working. Many of them, moreover, are caused by strikes of public employes and are therefore not only inconvenient but illegal.

FINALLY, they are all caused by adults.

This last bit of commonality, which at first may strike you as laboring the obvious, is really worth pondering. We of the paternal generation spend a great deal of time berating our young for their resort to confrontations as a way of impressing their views upon society. We cry alarm at their disregard of the public order, their disdain for all authority, their lack of a sense of responsibility toward the community, whether in evading the draft or shutting down the college.

The question is, Who are we to complain?

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Congress is being asked to formally proclaim a national priority crusade to develop a cure for cancer by 1976 — as an epochal achievement to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Rep. John Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman of a house appropriations subcommittee, has introduced a "sense of the Congress" resolution calling for a "supreme effort in the next six years so that in 1976 we can commemorate the 200th anniversary of the independence of this country with the demise of cancer."

Citing the historic creation of the atomic bomb in World War II and recently the sending of two teams of astronauts to the moon, the veteran legislator asserted the development of a cure of cancer is equally possible.

"THERE ARE NO limits to what we can do as a nation," said Rooney, "if we have sufficient dedication and dispose all our talents and resources to a given goal."

The prospects for an early breakthrough in curing cancer are very real, Rooney declared, particularly in the fields of surgery, radiotherapy and chemotherapy. In the latter, he pointed out, " a great fund of knowledge in the treatment of advanced disseminated cancers has been developed."

"There is no reason why this nation with its medical minds and medical resources, backed up by federal funds in a total national effort, cannot solve the mystery of cancer, not only to cure every patient who gets the disease, but to prevent the disease as well and bring to an end its stupendous cost in money, suffereing and loss of life," maintained Rooney.

Noting that 25 years ago a cancer victim had only one chance in five to survive, today the prospects are two in five that he will live for more than five years.

"That is progress" said Rooney, "but it is not enough progress for a nation such as ours against a disease such as cancer. We must and can do a great deal more."

HE CITED the "enormous progress" made in recent years in overcoming leukemia. It is now possible, Rooney pointed out, to "gain complete though temporary remission in more than 90 per cent of the cases in one form of leukemia. And what has been learned in the treatment of cancer cells in leukemia is now being used against solid cancers."

Similarly there is great hope in the immediate future in viruses which are now known to cause cancer in animals.

"This year we are stepping up the research program in viruses," declared Rooney, "but there is urgent need to do a great deal more. We should have a vaccine and be able to prevent some types of cancer as we do smallpox, measles and poliomyelitis."

It's entirely a question of determination and the application of brains and resources, Rooney held. If we can develop an atomic bomb and send men to the moon, then we can evolve a cure for cancer.

"What I am proposing," said Rooney, "is that we do as much in cancer as we did in the nuclear and space fields."

Powerful Lot Of Sleepers In West Marin Master Plan

The now-famous West Marin Master Plan, which set density at 1.15 units per acre, had some complicated sleepers in it that are coming back to plague the county supervisors.

The first major "test case" came in the form of the 63-acre Tomales Bay Farm north of Marshall, where Herbert Angress wnats to put in a restaurant-lodge, youth hostel, camp grounds, and residences of all types.

Supervisors sat aghast as the plans unfolded.

THE MAIN TROUBLE was that under a loose interpretation of the West Marin Master Plan, the same land could be used twice—once to compute residential density and again to allow resort-commercial.

Angress's attorney, Gil Medeiros, argued that mathematically, the 63-acre Tomales Bay Farm would be eligible for 119 residences, plus the resort commercial (60-room lodge, 57 camping units, and 60-bed hostel), or a total of almost 300 living quarters both permanent and transient. That would be a density of 4.7 units per acre.

But instead of asking for the full 119 residences, they are willing to cut residences to 78, in addition to the hostel, campgrounds and lodge-restaurant, pier and boating facilities.

If the 1.15 density is not to become a complete farce, obviously something has to be done to change the master plan wording, tighten up drastically on interpretation, or at least set up a conversion formula whereby so many camping units or motel rooms or restaurant seats would be equivalent to one residential unit.

Otherwise, we're going to have a sea of roofs ringing the relatively flat areas of Tomales Bay shoreline.

SOMEWHERE IN THAT old San Rafael Courthouse is supposed to be a cornerstone where artifacts and documents from the 1800s are tucked away.

The county made sure, when it sold the courthouse square, that it retained rights to any such documents that may be unearthed from the cornerstone. The doughboy statue in front is also specifically marked for preservation and transfer to a new site at the Civic Center.

There's something intriguing and romantic about unearthing relics from a previous era. We always lament the fact that our forefathers didnt' have the foresight or the consideration to stash away documents, (or better yet, old coins and even dollar bills), for us to unearth a century or two later.

Next time you build an office or a home, might be a good idea to lay your own cornerstone so that in the year 2070 or 2170, your heirs can strike it rich when they find coins and bills which their great grandpappy had the foresight to put away back in 1970.

RESULTS OF a week-end traffic survey over the Golden Gate Bridge tosses out the notion that Marin gets all the benefit from the span and San Francisco very little.

On week days, it's true that Marin commuters stream across to work in the city. But week ends, the reverse occurs—San Franciscans stream across the bridge to soak in the sun and enjoy the water and air.

The charge that "you clutter up our streets with cars and buses", can be tossed in both directions.

Probation, Fine

Gerald Oliver Dewhirst, 43, of Berkeley, has been placed on six months probation and fined $302 in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested March 22 on Highway 101.

Plant Of A Revolutionary: 'Too Much Of Love; No Hate'

Some years ago in Cuba, in the days of Batista, I was at the Toledo Cafe in one of the back dining rooms, lunching on longostinos and crab with my friend, Jose Manolo Lopez, revolutionary (now dead).

"These are the bad times," I remember him saying, his mouth full of white crab meat. "These are the times we are coming in, when black is out and everything is made white. Hate is losing its importance in the affairs of men and love is being whipped to fill its place."

His dark eyes became darker. He was not one to be serious often. This was one of the seldom times. Born of rich parents, educated in the States, he could have settled for the easy existence but for that unholy rumbling within him, that great restlessness.

"IT IS TRUE," he continued, "there has been too much hate. But it should not be put down altogether. Look what happened to jealousy. Othello made it out of fashion. Now it is classed a disease, like alcoholism."

"It is no longer a sabre," I said, "but a foil. It is more civilized that way."

"Ah, it is so, amigo, es verdad."

He had come to Havana to spend a few days from the Isle of Pines where, in respect for his father who was favored by the Batista-ites, he had been exiled rather than executed.

MANOLO, being Manolo, and enjoying the pleasures of danger, could not stay long on that lonely, quiet island managing a branch of his father's bank. The work was too prosaic for his temper, the tranquil life too bland. So he had smuggled himself back to Havana for a few days "to see some lights", he said, but you knew better. You knew Manolo and you knew the bulge under his belt was a .45 automatic and he had come to push the revolution, the cause of his exile in the first place.

"Vengeance is not understood any more," he said. "It is an ancient feeling, a Homeric emotion, and it took a long time to die. Today, men recoil from it—bah!"

"IS THAT what you are after, vengeance?"

"No, amigo, it is hate that I have and I am not ashamed of it. I do not think a man should be ashamed of his hate, if his hate can stand up."

We ate, drank, talked and soon darkness came. Then the days passed and Manolo was killed in that part of old Havana, just off the Prado, not far from the Malecon, shot to death in the streets, a la Chicago.

THAT WAS NOT so long ago, a dozen years or so. And I think now of Manolo and I think, wondering how it all would have gone had he not been shot down, wondering what a difference there would have been if Manolo's revolution. . .

Yes, he was a revolutionary, that one. A revolutionary who knew of many things—of people, of ideas, of feelings, of hating and of loving too.

He knew that when there's a toleration for that which should be intolerable, there's a corruption. He knew that when there's hate where no hate should be, there's a sickness—just as he knew that when there's love where there's nothing worthy of love, that too, is a sickness.

"The important thing to remember," he told me then, "is the judgement. It is the judgement that counts."

Manolo was a revolutionary who had a good hate and a bad judgement and he was killed in the streets of Havana, a not-so-long-ago time.

Deadline Is Extended On Ecology Contest

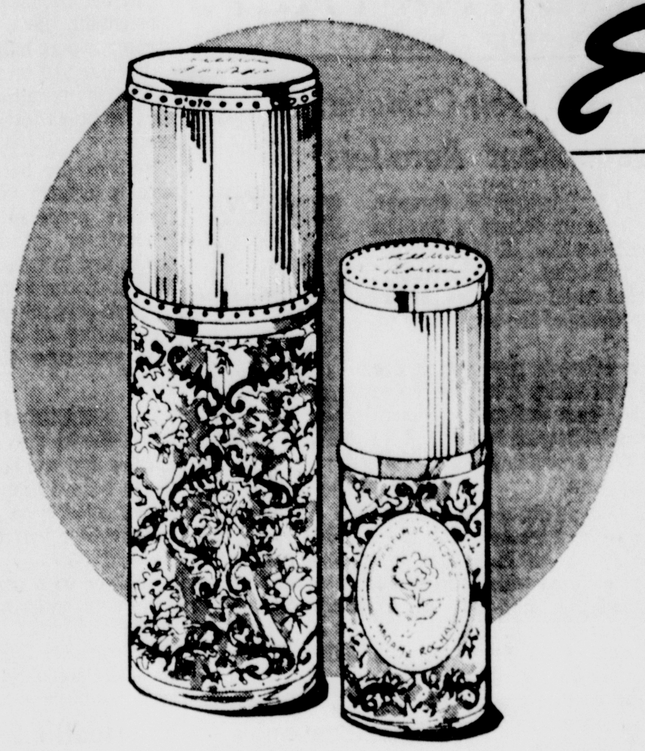

Deadline for entries in the "Let's Look at Mill Valley" contest, sponsored by the businessmen's committee of the chamber of commerce, has been extended one month, according to Christian R. Steindl, chamber member.

May 1 is the new deadline for the contest, which backers hope will spotlight "environmental deficiencies" and suggest ways of coping with them.

The contest, open to individuals or groups in the greater Mill Valley area, consists of written statements, use of the arts or both, dealing with ecology, pollution, litter, noise and odor, traffic, architecture, planning and other related topics. A plan for corrective measures must be included, Steindl said.

Entries must be submitted at the chamber office, 85 Throckmorton Avenue. Winners will be announced and awards presented at a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. May 8 at the Mill Valley Art Club. Reservations may be made through the chamber.

With rear section cut away, you see axle as it flexes with road.

"Mercedes-Benz cars have to cope with the roughest roads in Europe. That's why we build our axles this way—not as a rigid, one-piece beam."

EVER make the mistake of taking what you thought was a shortcut?

You chose a road that looked quicker on the map. But you were soon jolted into admitting your error. You had to fight to keep control as your car bottomed and bounced at every rut and bump.

That's because most cars are designed to provide a "boulevard ride." Provided you stay on boulevards and turnpikes.

Articulated rear axle tames rough roads.

Try that same shortcut with a Mercedes-Benz. You'll appreciate the feeling of control when you slam into that first unexpected chuckhole. And you'll notice less pitching and bouncing over bumps and railroad crossings. Even washboard surfaces and cobblestones won't produce that skitterish, you're-about-to-lose-it feeling.

Independent rear suspension

Our secret: An articulated rear axle. A sophisticated and tough combination of shafts and joints that allows each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other. Just as the front wheels do. To give you a smooth ride without compromising road-holding.

But the advantages of independent rear suspension aren't limited to rough going. On a turnpike the benefits are more subtle, but perhaps even more important.

Tracks like an arrow

When you aim a Mercedes-Benz down an expressway, you'll find it tracks like an arrow, without those tiny steering corrections you used to make for "road wander."

Slap it over tar strips. The suspension soaks them up with firm control. Not four or five reverberations.

And if you've ever been lulled by high-speed expressway driving into taking an exit just a bit too fast, you'll appreciate the adhesive cornering power of Mercedes-Benz' independent suspension. It gives you an extra margin of control that somehow keeps your palms a little drier and your brake foot a little less itchy.

Disc brakes on all four wheels

Automotive editors and engineers agree that disc brakes are superior to common drum brakes. So when it comes to brakes, our philosophy is simple. Use disc brakes. Not just on the front wheels. Not as optional extras. Use them on all four wheels. Offer no options.

The four disc brakes on a Mercedes-Benz will help you stop surer, smoother and reduce the chances of fade and lockup.

How to judge a car

Before you judge the character of a car, you should view it as a totality. Somewhat the way you judge the character of a person. So here are a few more points to help you judge a Mercedes-Benz.

1. Our overhead camshaft engines are precisely machined, balanced and bench tested to withstand the rigors of Germany's Autobahns. At American speed limits, a Mercedes-Benz is literally loafing.

2. Subtle characteristics of tires have profound effects on the overall performance of a car. Tires used on our cars are tuned to the movements of our suspension, so they'll work as integral parts of the total system.

3. All the engineering and automotive theory in the world isn't going to build a great car. The actual building is up to the craftsmen in the factory.

That's why we use skilled cabinetmakers to craft and fit the wood trim. Former dressmakers to sew the upholstery. And an assembly line that pokes along, always willing to switch off an imperfect car when one of our 2,000 or so inspectors says, "No that's not good enough."

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Problem of Non-Compliance By Independent Retailers

IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower, addressing the California Society of Certified Public Accountants on Nov. 13, 1969, in San Francisco, stated in effect, that independent retailers and other small companies present the most acute problem of non-compliance we have.

Many times a failure to pay taxes is due to inadvertence and comes from inadequate accounting, rather than dishonesty, "where records are poor, bookkeeping is poor and we frequently find that accounting for tax purposes is poor."

Thrower said, "We all recognize that this is an area where our assistance has to be increased." He sympathized with small business and their difficulties in finding accounting talent at a reasonable price. He would like to see coordinated efforts by state and local governments as well as federal agencies to reduce "the amount of paper work imposed on small businessmen."

IRS "YARDSTICK"

Thrower added that the IRS "yardstick" for judging any proposed IRS policy is whether it could contribute to voluntary compliance and minimize the need for "enforcement activities."

In other words, it looks like the IRS is going to increase their auditing of small business particularly those which have little or no records to audit, since these are probably the ones that, because of the lack of records, are not able to fully comply with the many rules governing their operation and to pay the many different taxes imposed on them.

Since January 1969, the IRS has been using a mathematical formula on individual returns with adjusted gross incomes under $10,000 to determine which returns should be audited.

This formula known as DIM mathematically selects returns to be audited according to basic percentages of various deductions claimed.

The taxpayer's deductions must be within a certain percentage of his adjusted gross income, otherwise the return will be selected for audit. The big question is what percentages can you deduct and still be safe. If you have a deduction that seems to you to be large in relation to your income, you should fully explain it on your tax return or on a sheet of paper and attach it to your tax return, and you should maintain documentary evidence to support the deduction in your tax file.

TAKE DEDUCTION

If you have a deduction, you should take it regardless of the amount, and since your taxes are self-assessed and since the burden of proof is on you, you should maintain adequate records to prove every item entered on you tax return.

You will probably file your 1970 returns, that is the ones due by April 15, 1971, at Fresno.

Under the current timetable, IRS expects the $30 million center which will employ some 4,000 persons during its peak operating periods to be ready for use by January 1971.

The IRS says the center is vitally important in the processing of federal income tax returns and has estimated the federal government stands to lose about a half-billion dollars in revenue during 1970 because of inadequate facilities.

This means that the IRS will be able to process our returns quicker and easier and more efficiently and also that they will be able to spot areas that require verification or returns that should be audited more readily and that we will be due for more auditing than ever before.

FULL RECORDS

This year should be the year in which you keep full, complete and detailed records of every transaction which could possibly affect your income tax return.

People lose deductions not because they are not entitled to them, but because they cannot substantiate them. Good record keeping is over half the battle.

How can you be sure that you will not be penalized for negligence in preparing your tax return?

Perhaps the best way to be sure is to have the tax return actually prepared by the accountant or attorney of your choice and to keep in your possession documentary evidence that you gave full information to the attorney or accountant and keep your copy of the tax return.

SELECT ADVISER

You should also be prepared to show that you had every reason to believe that the accountant or attorney of your choice was one who was competent in tax matters.

Reliance on a certified public accountant or an attorney or a public accountant holding a license from the State of California would probably suffice.

Crossing Safety Discussion Set

Steps to increase pedestrian safety at Sonoma Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will be discussed again when the San Anselmo School District board meets at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in an adjourned meeting at Hidden Valley school.

City plans for a safety barrier were criticized last month by the board.

The board also will hear reports on multi-ethnic education and the foreign language program, and will discuss an election July 21 to replace former board president Corneail B. Busse, who resigned last month.

Bolinas Station Contract Is Set

A $24,000 contract has been awarded to J. W. Higgins of Petaluma, lowest of seven bidders, to construct the Bolinas fire station, according to Hurford Sharon, acting board chairman.

The bids were opened Monday and the contract awarded Wednesday, Sharon said.

The fire board, Higgins and Don R. Hoffman, Novato architect of the building, were meeting today to determine the starting date of construction, Hoffman said.

Health Survey

Results of a survey of other social agencies on future needs and priorities in the mental health program will be discussed when the Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board meets at 8 p.m. April 15 in the coral room of Marin General Hospital.

Drive Against Secrets Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP) —Sen. William Proxmire introduced a bill today which would curb the use of secret foreign bank accounts, especially to buy U.S. stocks and bonds.

The Wisconsin Democrat's measure would require a broker to disclose the name of his client buying U.S. securities through accounts in such countries as Switzerland.

In 1968, foreign stock transactions on the New York Stock Exchange amounted to nearly $24 billion, up $18 billion from 1964, and accounting for eight per cent of the exchange's volume.

The bill's targets, Proxmire said, are income tax dodgers, illegal takeover of U.S. firms, stock manipulation and circumvention of margin requirements.

Tomales—Wayne R. Parks.

Greenbrae—Nancy L. Odell.

Marin City—Margaret A. Prather.

New Rules For Covering Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has imposed new restrictions on White House newsmen covering his activities.

The new rules make it harder to talk to the President personally on social occasions, a good time to get to know what the President is like and to get a story.

Reporters were barred Sunday from going through the receiving line with guests at the White House worship service. Saturday night the reporters were told not to approach the Nixons at parties such as the dinner that night for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

The rules were laid down by Constance Stuart, a press secretary for Mrs. Nixon, who said they came from the President himself.

FOR FOUR-year-old Brian Flahive the days pass quickly at Marin General Hospital, where he is a patient, because he has a play therapist, Janice Shobar, to help him with activities such as blowing up a balloon. There is a teen-age volunteer every day to talk with the children, help them eat, organize activities and supply them with toys and other play material. Brian's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flahive of Corte Madera.

Teens Cheer Tots In 'Pedi'

Marin Women

The lonely, sometimes frightening, and often uncomfortable hours that sick children spend as patients in Marin General Hospital are eased by the efforts of seven teen-age girls — pioneers in a volunteer program known at the hospital as play therapy.

The seven, who are Junior Pink Ladies in the Volunteer program at Marin General, include Mary Rayden of Greenbrae, Janet Walsh and Janice Shobar of Larkspur, Emily Homer and Terry Adkins of San Anselmo, Claire Fagley of Tiburon and Diane Pizzio of Mill Valley.

EMILY AND TERRY are students at Sir Francis Drake High School, Diane attends Tamalpais High School, and the other girls are from Redwood High School.

A former play therapist, Cathy Horowitz of Greenbrae, was graduated from Redwood High School in February and left last week to attend Colorado State University. Before leaving she discussed the program.

"We don't have any assigned tasks," said Cathy. "It's a completely creative job — and the object is to help fill those lonesome hours between visits from parents. The nurses obviously love the children just as we do, but they haven't time to stop and talk or help the kids with a puzzle. That's where we come in."

April marked the first anniversary of their commitment to offer play and companionship to the young patients of the Pediatric Department — a highly experimental program that has won the hearts of the girls and has earned the grateful praise of nurses, parents and the children themselves.

EACH OF THE girls gives one afternoon a week, talking with the children, helping them eat supper, organizing group activities where possible, supplying the bedfast with toys and play materials.

The play therapy program is sponsored by the Jack and Jill Branch of the MGH Volunteers, a branch formed specifically to offer service to the Pediatrics Department. When the Jack and Jill Branch was formed in 1966, the then president Mrs. Charles Allen of Kentfield invited a pediatrician on the hospital staff to outline ways in which the 35 women members could help.

He gave them three "assignments:"

1. To purchase toys and pediatrics equipment — and this the branch has done supplying everything from coloring books to play pens, stuffed animals to high chairs in the "toy" category, and such complex medical equipment as isolettes, infusion pumps and electric beds. Altogether — thanks to the branch's annual fund-raising parties — Jack and Jill has spent more than $10,000 for "pedi," as the department is known to insiders.

2. To conduct tours through the hospital, and particularly "pedi," for youngsters who will soon check into the hospital for elective surgery, such as removal of their tonsils. VIPP (Very Important Pediatric Patient) tours are scheduled every Friday, and serve to take the mystery, and hence much of the fright, out of hospital procedures.

3. To provide the services of a "special person" who could appear daily to provide activity for the sick youngsters.

"ORIGINALLY WE thought we'd hire a professional in the field of crafts," says Mrs. Allen. "Then we thought maybe art students at the College of Marin could help out. But then we hit on this."

As one pediatrician points out, "No one can relate to kids better than other kids."

Jack and Jill members invited a number of high school girls to participate in the program on an experimental basis. Many of those who signed up were experienced in hospital volunteer work or had been members of the hospital work experience program offered by the Tamalpais Union High School District.

"WE DIDN'T HAVE any special training," said Cathy. "We let the kids train us."

And so the program was a natural from the first.

Cathy outlined a typical Play Therapist's day: "First I check to see how many kids there are in "pedi," and I find out how sick they are and what ages they are, and then I go (to the toy cabinet) and fill my bag of tricks." Jack and Jill has purchased a cupboard of toys for "pedi;" many more toys bought specifically for the play therapy program are kept in the Volunteer Office.

The girls then go from room to room offering toys and helping the children get started on some activity. Sometimes they are down on hands and knees in the playroom playing jacks, sometimes encouraging youngsters to draw, sometimes just "rapping" with the older children who are delighted to talk to someone near their own age.

"WE'RE COMPLETELY independent of the nurses, and I think that's one reason they like to have us come — we know what to do, and we just do it," Cathy said.

The most important part of the day, Cathy feels, is late afternoon, just before working parents start drifting in for a visit, and just after new patients have been left alone for the first time.

"Actually, we're only supposed to stay until about 5:30, but I found myself there till 8 o'clock lots of times," she says. She often helped children eat their suppers and tried to get new patients feeling at home before she left them.

"They're terrific," says Mrs. Allen, whose job in Jack and Jill this year has been to initiate and administer the play therapy program. "They have an instinct for knowing what to do."

Mrs. Carol Horst, who is the head pediatric nurse during the afternoon and evening, praises the young women; "The youngsters need someone, and we nurses just don't have the time. It's really tremendously helpful to have them."

EVERY FEW MONTHS, the girls get together with Mrs. Allen to analyze what they're doing, to tackle special problems and to see what they can do better. Here girls make suggestions about toys the branch might buy to help the program along. They plan ways to help adult members of the branch in the holiday parties they give for the children.

Once assigned to duty as play therapists, the girls have been extremely faithful in their jobs, Mrs. Allen says. Several have had to resign because of school as Cathy did or job commitments, but there is always a waiting list to fill any openings.

"It was very hard to quit; I was so involved," said Cathy. "I used to meet my friend Colleen Fitzhenry, another former play therapist, before school at Redwood every day, so we could exchange information about how the kids were doing. When a child is in the hospital for several weeks, we all become very good friends. When one little girl went home, I volunteered to be her baby sitter."

The experience confirmed Cathy in her determination to be a pediatrician.

TOYS PURCHASED by the volunteers are kept in the Volunteer Office of the hospital because they require supervision by a play therapist. After finding out how many children are in pediatrics and their ages, Claire Fagley fills her "bag of tricks" and will return to pediatrics to offer toys to the children and help them get started on activities.

FORMER play therapist, Cathy Horowitz, discussed the program before leaving to attend college in Colorado.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Mrs. Walter C. Thomson Elected Sausalito Woman's Club Leader

Church and club work and education are among the major interests of Mrs. Walter C. Thomson, who has just been elected president of the Sausalito Woman's Club for 1970-71. She succeeds Mrs. Perry L. Brock, who has been president two years.

A member of the club 15 years, Martha Thomson served two years as a member of the club's board of directors and held various chairmanships of committees.

She has been involved many years in work for the Presbyterian Church from the local level as a member of the governing board of the Sausalito Presbyterian Church to the state level as a member of the ecumenical relations committee of the synod of the Golden Gate.

She is very much interested in education, having been a candidate for the Sausalito school board last year and at present is doing volunteer library work at Central School and volunteer tutoring of elementary school children.

MRS. WALTER THOMSON

Mrs. Thomson is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and before her marriage was employed as a chemical laboratory technician. She has lived in Marin since 1936, and her husband, a supervisorial engineer for the Military Sea Transportation Service in Oakland, has been a resident since 1932.

The Thomsons have four children. They are Carl Thomson of Santa Rosa; James Thomson, a captain with the 7th engineer battalion at Fort Carson, Colo.; Paul Thomson, a student at the College of Marin; and Martha Ann Thomson, who attends Central School in Sausalito.

Other new officers are Mmes. John B. Ehlen, first vice president; James E. Muldoon, second vice president; D. Power Booth, secretary; Francis A. Constable, treasurer; and Francis J. Griffin, financial secretary.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Giggling Teen-Age Girls Can Learn While They're Having Fun

DEAR HELEN:

My father! He's a pretty good guy, but he can't understand that teen-age girls just can't live without giggling.

I was doing my homework on the phone with my boy friend, and he said something that struck me funny. When Dad went by he heard me laughing and made me hang up because "That isn't homework!" Really, it was. My grades prove it.

Helen, can you make parents see that you can learn just as well when you're having fun at it?—FED UP SORTA

DEAR FUS's FATHER:

A teen-age girl without a giggle is like a mountain stream without its rifles. Rather than turn off the laughter, parents should hope their children always see the funny hide of life. —H.

(P.S. You're welcome, FUS!)

DEAR HELEN:

I am a popular high school ser a football, basketball and hockey star, so you can see I'm no square.

When the mini-skirts became popular a few years ago, the fellows and I were all crazy for them. Who were we to tell these stupid chicks that they give guys ideas? It didn't take us long to find out that the shorter a gal wore her skirt, the easier she was.

Well, here's my problem. My best buddy and I each have kid sisters who are wearing minis. We hear the guys talking about them and frankly I'm worried.

Don't girls know what fellows really think? I don't want a wife some day who has been the subject of discussion in the gym.—BIG BROTHER

DEAR B.B.:

Would you settle for skirts three inches above the knee—or are you a con man for Woman's Wear Daily, which is heading up a campaign to bring on the mid-is? Sorry, friend, I'm not in your camp.—H.

NOTE TO READERS: Keep those mini-votes coming! If you're against the mid-calf skirt, send me your postcard, and I'll forward them to POOFF (Preservation of our Femininity and Finances), opposition headquarters.—H

DEAR HELEN:

Girls write in a lot and ask you for addresses of overseas servicemen. They need letters, true, but how about those fellows in veterans' hospitals over here?

These men are badly wounded, sometimes face long months of pain, and they can be awfully lonely.

Why don't some of the girls who want to help, find a veterans' hospital and either visit or write the fellows there? I'll bet they could be of use as volunteer helpers too. Okay?—SARAH

DEAR SARAH:

Fine idea. Wounded veterans need all the cheering they can get. And hospitals are located in almost every state. Find 'em, girls!—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

NANCY BENNETT

Engagement Announced In Larkspur

Nancy Bennett's engagement to Stephen Rasmussen of Larkspur has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bennett of Kentfield.

Nancy will be graduated from Redwood High School in June and plans to attend Bay Cities College in San Francisco. She is the sister of Mrs. Douglas Davis of Fairfax, Richard, Allison and Clifford Bennett of Kentfield. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Morse and Mrs. Leon Bennett, all of Kentfield, are her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rasmussen of Larkspur are Stephen's parents. He is the brother of Michael Rasmussen of San Rafael and John and Sharon Rasmussen of Larkspur. He was graduated from Redwood High School and is serving with the Navy in San Diego.

Family Solves Phone Problems

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—A San Antonio family with five daughters have found their own answer to the use of a telephone and its privacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Rowe renovated an old telephone booth and placed it in the hall of their home. They equipped it with a yellow wall phone to provide exclusive use for their five daughters, three of whom are teen-agers.

"With five daughters needing a phone and privacy to use it a phone booth seemed ideal," said Mrs. Rowe. "I contacted the local telephone company and they told me how to get an old booth."

After sanding the booth and repainting it silver, orange and mustard, the Rowes placed it in a hallway of the house, centrally located to their daughters' bedrooms.

The girls—Janet, 17; Karen, 15; Donna, 13; Angie, 11; and Mindy, 9—agree the booth provides the privacy they want.

"It's become quite a conversation piece," said Mrs. Rowe. "With five daughters you know it gets plenty of use."

What Was Deleted From Pill Warning

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON—A few weeks ago, Food Administration chief Charles Edwards disclosed a 600-word warning about birth control pill hazards. He told a Senate hearing that the FDA wanted to have the statement inserted in all pill packages going to women users.

Then, the statement was cut to only 94 words, according to a drug newsletter which had obtained a later draft. What had happened in the meantime?

Representatives of the American Medical Association, the Planned Parenthood Association and other doctors' associations pleaded with top FDA and other government officials to tone down the warning. As a result, the original statement may never be circulated widely although it is now a public document as part of the Senate hearing records.

What finally comes out of the badgered FDA may not say much more than that oral contraceptives are effective but may cause harmful side effects such as bloood clotting.

Wording dropped from the original statement at the request of doctors said: "Your doctor has taken your medical history and has given you a careful physical examination." Left in the draft statement was a suggestion for users to have periodic examinations and report any changes in their health.

Among the wording left out of the original statement was the following section describing the hazards of blood clotting:

"There is a definite association between blood-clotting disorders and the use of oral contraceptives. The risk of this complication is six times higher for users than for non-users. The majority of blood-clotting disorders are not fatal. . .

"Women who have or who have had blood clots in the legs, lung, or brain should not take this drug. You should stop taking it and call your doctor immediately if you develop severe leg or chest pain, if you cough up blood, if you experience sudden and severe headaches, or if you cannot see clearly."

Other wording omitted included:

"If you have heart or kidney disease, asthma, high blood pressure, diabetes, epilepsy, fibroids of the uterus, migraine headaches, or if you have had any problems with mental depression, your doctor has indicated you need special supervision while taking oral contraceptives."

Among "serious" reactions in addition to blood clotting and mental depression cited by the earlier document were:

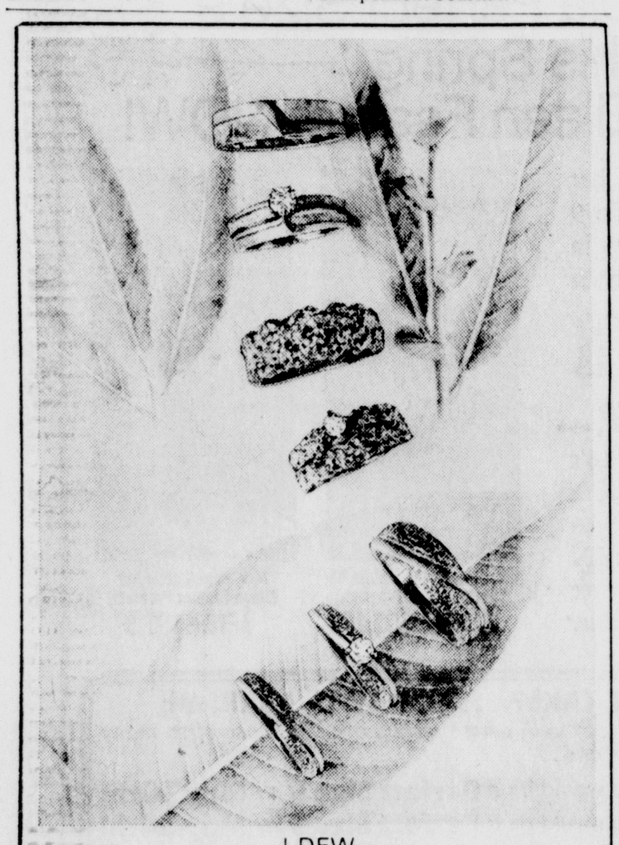

"Swelling, skin rash, jaundice or yellow pigment in your eyes, increase in blood pressure and increase in the sugar content of your blood similar to that seen in diabetes.

"Women taking the pill have reported headaches, nervousness, dizziness, fatigue and backache, changes in appetite . . ."

For the complete 600-word statement, send 20 cents in coins or stamps and a stamped and addressed return envelope to Dept. P, Consumer News Inc., 1023 National Press Building, Washington, D.C., 20004.

ON THE AGENDA

Wine Tasting Party On Friday Victorian Setting For Guild's

The Mill Valley Guild of the Boyd Marin Museum of Science will have its annual wine tasting party for members and guests on Friday at 8 p.m.

The Lyman Emerson's Victorian carriage house on Miller Avenue, Mill Valley will again be the setting for the party, which is a kick-off for the guild's fund-raising rummage and bake sale on April 18. Party co-chairmen are Mmes. Frederick Baker and John R. Simpson III.

The sale, under the direction of fund-raising chairman Mrs. Edward Kuykendall, will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Brown's hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

SPRING FOLK Dance Frolic and Potluck Dinner will be held by the Belveron Homeowners Association on Friday evening at the Corinthian Yacht Club in Belvedere. Reservations chairman is Mrs. Lawrence Bogel of Tiburon. Cocktails start at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m., followed by entertainment by internationally-known folk-dancers. The audience may participate in some folk dances and regular dancing will follow. A special table for teen-agers is planned. The dance will benefit the association's beautification project.

THE MARIN Chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW) will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in room 255 of the Hall of Justice at Marin Civic Center. Organizers of the new chapter of the national civil rights group say that men are also invited to the meeting.

A GALA party on Saturday is being planned by Mr. and Mrs. James Potts, new social chairmen for the Mill Valley Tennis Club, to celebrate the first event to be held since remodeling was completed on the clubhouse.

They have named the Lee Gammills and Thomas Kearneys as chairmen for the catered dinner at 7 p.m., which will be followed by dancing to music by the dance band. Spring will be the theme of decor.

For entertainment the Kearneys will present a skit in which other club members will participate. Mrs. Potts and Mrs. Gammill are reservations chairmen.

Also planned by the social chairmen are scheduled monthly potluck dinners on Sundays. Members will play tennis in the afternoon preceding cocktails from 4 to 7 p.m., followed by dinner. The dinners will start with the beginning of daylight saving time and continue through the summer until it ends.

WOMEN WILL compete for prizes for spring bonnets they will create for the Saturday meeting of the American Association of Retired Persons at the First Methodist Church in San Rafael. Awards will go to the most original, the funniest and most old fashioned hat.

Also on the 1:30 p.m. program will be "The Story of the Bible," by John Hinkson.

ON THURSDAY the Sisterhood of Congregation Rodef Sholom of San Rafael will have a desert meeting, the desserts for which will be the entries in the Passover dessert contest. Prizes will be awarded and a collection of the recipes entered in the competition will be distributed at the meeting, which begins at 12:30 p.m. at Temple Rodef Sholom.

Rabbi Morton Hoffman will discuss the religious background of the Passover holiday in the temple sanctuary at 11:45 a.m. preceding the meeting.

THE MADRIGAL Singers of Domonican College under the direction of Winifred Baker, assistant professor of music at the college and director of the Winifred Baker Chorale, Children's Chorus and the San Francisco Civic Chorale, will present a program for the Thursday noon luncheon meeting of the United Presbyterian Women at Canoles Hall in San Rafael. Mrs. Neville Donovan, chairman for the day, will present the program. Mrs. Robert E. Burton's Circle is in charge of the luncheon.

THE MARIN Home Economists in Homemaking will meet with the county's home advisor, Miss Elizabeth Sanlin, tomorrow at 10 a.m., room 400, Marin Civic Center. Mrs. Herbert McCall is hostess.

THE NOVATO Chapter 609, order of Eastern Star, will hold a past matrons and past patrons meeting at 8 p.m., Thursday at the Druids Hall in Novato.

Chairman is Mrs. Leo Cunningham assisted by Mmes. Wallace Campbell, Carroll Cruz, H. H. Wehrer, George Roth, William McWilliams, William J. Smith, M. L. Meredith and Mr. Jerry Henderson.

THE DRAMA-Literary Section of the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club will have a program on "Origin and History of Perfume" by Mrs. Margaret Williams on Friday at noon at the clubhouse in Kentfield. Mmes. Thomas P. Cusick and Andrew M. Komora are co-chairmen.

MARIN COUNTY Legal Secretaries will meet Wednesday for dinner at La Casa Italian restaurant in San Rafael at 6:30 p.m. New officers will be elected and committee reports made. Earlier that day members will donate blood at the groups' account at the Marin Blood Center in San Rafael.

ST. JOHN'S Episcopal Church in Ross was the setting for the wedding of Jana Lee McPherson to Carlyle H. Black II of Kentfield. The reception followed at the Lagunitas Club in Ross. The couple will live in Oakland. Jana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. McPherson of Cupertino, formerly Greenbrae residents. (Golden Gate photo)

Order Catalogue Forecast To Replace Supermarkets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—An America without supermarkets?

Research done at Battelle Memorial Institute here, indicates that American supermarkets—which currently receive most of the nation's food dollars—may be extinct by the end of the century.

They probably will be replaced within 30 years by home delivery services, small neighborhood specialty stores and prepared food outlets, according to this look into the future.

"Housewives' shopping patterns are changing," Gerald Collings, a research economist at Battelle, told UPI. "They want more convenient, quicker shopping to give them more leisure time."

Collings said a preliminary study of consumer food shopping habits by Battelle showed a definite trend away from supermarket buying. Conversely, the study showed an increase in catalog sales, telephone ordering and home deliveries.

The supermarket came into being to give the housewife a vast array of goods from which to choose, he said, but this no longer is necessary.

The acceptance in recent years of proven-quality brand names and labels makes home delivery workable, not only of staple goods, but meats, vegetables, pastries and other groceries as well, he said.

"If she knows the canned soup, cube steak, or cream pie she orders this time will be the same as the one she bought a week ago, the housewife doesn't need to see it before she buys it," Collings said.

When home delivery becomes the chief method for consumers to obtain food, small neighborhood specialty food shops and prepared food outlets will appear in great numbers, Collings believes.

You are invited to attend the annual preview and luncheon of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council on April 14. Preview Cinema I, 10:00 a.m. Luncheon nearby Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. For tickets, $4.25, call Mrs. Joseph Diodati, 453-5506 before April 9.

Michael C. Wigell Weds In San Mateo

The Episcopal Church of St. Matthew in San Mateo was the setting for the wedding of Judith Gayle Gritsch of Hillsborough to Michael Carter Wigell of San Francisco.

Judith was attended by Beatrice Gracey as maid of honor and Mrs. Thomas Palma of San Jose and the bride's sister, Kathleen Gritsch of San Ramon, as the bridesmaids.

Charles Evans Jr. of San Francisco was the best man. The bride's brother, Ronald Gritsch of San Ramon, and James Leathers of San Francisco seated the guests.

The home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Gritsch of Hillsborough, was the setting for the reception afterward.

The couple will live in San Francisco upon their return from a wedding trip to Kauai.

Judy attended Crystal Springs School in Santa Cruz and was graduated from Burlingame High School. She also studied at Willamette University in Salem, Ore., and the University of Vienna. She is employed with Wells Fargo Bank as a business services specialist in San Francisco.

Judy is the sister of Gerald Gritsch of Portland, Ore., and Joseph R. Gritsch of Sacramento.

Michael's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Wigell of Kentfield and he is the brother of Jill Wigell. A graduate of Redwood High School and the University of Oregon, he is employed with Foremost-McKesson as assistant manager for marketing services in San Francisco.

Susan Clark Engaged To Warren Heringer

The engagement of Susan Jean Clark of Larkspur to Warren F. Heringer of Clarksburg has been announced by Susan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Clark of Larkspur.

Susan is the sister of Mrs. Michael Daly of San Francico and Cynthia Clark of Larkspur. She is a graduate of Redwood High School and is a junior at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Ore., where her sorority is Delta Phi Gamma.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Heringer of Clarksburg. Warren is the brother of James and Ralph Heringer, Mrs. Jack Mello and Donna Heringer. Mrs. Wilhelmine Yoakum of Oakland is his grandmother.

Warren was graduated from Clarksburg High School and from Lewis and Clark College. He is now taking graduate studies at the University of Southern California.

Young West Germans Find Woman Shartage

MUNICH, GERMANY (GF) — Almost half of West German men between 25 and 30 will be unable to marry women of the same age. Findings published by the Kiel Institute for Demoscopy show that for roughly one million men in this category, there are only about 420,000 marriage partners available.

The reason, according to the institute, is that many women in this age bracket prefer older men.

The situation is not much better for younger men, either. For 3.5 million single males under 25 there are only 2.8 million women.

Marriage prospects improve with age in Germany. Some 400,000 men aged 30 to 35 can select mates from 300,000 eligible women.

Life really begins with 40, at least for the men. Mainly because of the high death rate among men during World War II, there are only 200,000 single males. They can choose from 900,000 unmarried women.

CRA Reluctantly Backs Flournoy

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's oldest Republican organization today united behind the candidacies of six conservatives and, reluctantly, Controller Houston I. Flournoy.

One of the conservatives is Compton School board member Wendell T. Handy, the first Negro ever to be endorsed by the California Republican Assembly. He is running for secretary of state.

Amid the tumult of symphony music and light failures, the CRA concluded its annual convention Sunday by endorsing candidates for the June primary election, adopting several resolutions and choosing new officers.

The 391 delegates overruled their official endorsing committee and backed Flournoy on a split vote.

"I think we've made our point and I think it was a point we needed to make," the delegates were told by Richard Darling of Riverside, chairman of a "fact finding" committee which Friday night had found Flournoy too liberal to endorse.

Darling—a longtime CRA leader—told newsmen, "The point was we weren't too happy to be backing Flournoy. The California Republican Assembly is a conservative organization and we would rather back conservative candidates but we did not have one."

The incumbent's only Republican primary opponent, James Ware of Los Angeles, was judged "unqualified" by Darling's committee. Flournoy supporters lobbied delegates with the argument his official campaign sponsors included, among other people, Gov. Ronald Reagan.

With the volunteer group's endorsement normally comes grassroots campaign help and financial support. The organization claims more than 10,000 members.

In choosing Handy, the convention passed over two candidates generally regarded as the frontrunners for the GOP nomination.—Mrs. Alberta Jordan, widow of the late secretary of state Frank M. Jordan; and Assemblyman George W. Milias of Gilroy.

Endorsed for attorney general was Sen. John L. Harmer of Glendale. The CRA said his "political philosophy closely parallels" its own.

The convention rejected a proposal to endorse all four Republican attorney general candidates—including Sen. George Deukmejian of Long Beach, Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger of Los Angeles and former state welfare secretary Spencer Williams.

The organization also:

Elected as its new president, Dave Gater, 37, of Anaheim.

Adopted resolution urging passage of legislation to mandate the death penalty for any persons who kills a policeman, asking the legislature to place a constitutional amendment on the ballot to prohibit mandatory busing of school children to achieve a racial balance, supporting Prop. 7 to raise from 5 to 7 per cent the maximum interest rate on government bonds, and asking the Nixon Administration to provide Israel with adequate military aid to defeat the Communist-backed Arabs.

Killed a resolution urging more liberalized abortion laws.

Francesco Trio Performs Magically In Series Finale

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The Francesco Trio—composed of ideally matched musicians—closed an unusually fine 10th season of five candlelight concerts last night at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley.

Marin music lovers owe much gratitude to the sponsoring Homestead Valley Community Association for making these outstanding concerts available over such a long perold.

Composed of violinist David Abel, cellist Bonnie Hampton and pianist Nathan Schwartz, the trio made its reputation in the Bay Area before becoming the current artists-in-residence at Grinnel College in Iowa. I had, therefore, heard them a number of times before but had never heard them play so well.

This may be explained possibly by their additional years of building the ensemble and by the fact that the program they chose was eminently suited to their volatile, romantic style. Bonnie Hampton was perhaps a bit more controlled than she used to be, but Abel and Schwartz were more exuberant than ever.

Each of the three works programmed—Beethoven's Trio in C Minor, Opus 1, No. 3; Ives's Trio and Mendelssohn's Trio in D Minor, Opus 49, No. 1—was given a strong reading performed with complete faithfulness to the style of the composer and the particular composition.

Miss Hampton's tone was warm and glowing with unusual depth and opulence in the low register, and Abel's violin was pure magic. Both had perfect intonation and in the andantes of the Beethoven and Mendelssohn trios had such lyrical power that they were reminiscent of the human voice in its lowest and highest range.

Special credit must go to Schwartz for his crisp, crystaline touch in a steady flow of technically demanding passages that formed the solid foundation for the total tonal fabric and provided the impetus for the rhythmic strength that was a highlight of the entire performance.

The Beethoven trio was a strong reading conveying that composer's robust vigor even though the musicians had not yet warned to the pinnacle of their capacities.

Nothing more Ivesian could have been imagined than his trio that the group performed with dazzling effect. Though discordant, the first movement had rich sonority. The middle movement called TSIAJ, an acronym for "this scherzo is a joke," to me was more a tantalizing game of detecting familiar folk tunes and hymns, all played in wild cross-current rhythms, frequently off key as in the unexpected end to the otherwise traditional "Rock of Ages."

The Mendelssohn trio, played with sparkling grace and brilliance, was the highlight of the evening for me.

Poster Contest Is Announced

A poster contest, an open house and rides on fire engines will mark the Tiburon Volunteer Fire Department's commemoration of Fire Service Recognition Day May 9.

The fire station at 1679 Tiburon Boulevard will be open from 1 to 4 p.m., according to Lt. Lawrence J. Bogel, chairman.

The fire prevention poster contest is open to local school children. Prizes for grades 6-8 will be a $50 savings bond for first place and $15 cash for second. Prizes for grades 1-5 will be $15 and $5.

Application forms are available in Reed District schools.

Novato High Activity Day Slated Saturday

"Our Own Thing", the story of Novato High School's activities, will be presented for the second year from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the school.

The Parent-Faculty Club and the school have cooperated to make this an all-day exhibit at the school to raise funds for more bleachers for the football field.

The club will sell food all day in the cafeteria, have a cake sale there and hold a flea market at the tennis court. It will climax the day with cocktails and dancing from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Wild Horse Valley Club.

Athletic events of the day include baseball between Novato High School and Sir Francis Drake High School at 11 a.m. A lacrosse game will be played at 2 p.m. between the Novato Parks and Recreation team and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints of Novato. A synchronized swimming exhibition will be presented from 1:30

Special booths will demonstrate various subjects taught in the school: science, family life, drafting, mathematics, ecology, science fiction, yearbook, anthropology, electricity and aerospace science.

Demonstrations will be put on by the business department, home economics department, art department and language department. A new book display will be shown in the library.

The girls will demonstrate modern dancing at 11:30 a.m. in the girls gymnasium. This will be followed by gymnastics at noon and a Russian skit at 12:30 p.m. The drill team will perform at 2:30 p.m. and a vocal and orchestra concert will be held there at 3 p.m.

Other activities in the patio from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. will be a fair by the English department; engine assembly by the auto shop; easel painting by the art department and projects by the woodshop for sale.

Ross Hospital Drug Center Is Approved

The state Board of Medical Examiners has approved Ross General Hospital and Marin General Hospital for the treatment of drug addiction.

This means that the hospitals can accept drug addicts for treatment of withdrawal symptoms when they are referred from the courts, law enforcement officers or private patients referred by doctors.

At Ross General Hospital the treatment will be handled in a new, larger psychiatric unit, in what was formerly the rehabilitation center, with Dr. Bernard Bradman, psychiatrist in charge of the unit.

Patients or, in the case of minors, their parents, would be billed for the services, and medi-Cal can be applied. At Marin General Hospital if the patient were indigent, Marin County would be billed, and the Community Mental Health Services agency would be billed by Ross.

MARIN MUSIC CENTRE
Great-Sounding Phonograph.
Where is it?
KLH designed the Model Eleven-W stereo phonograph to produce a maximum of music with a minimum of visible equipment.
You will have to look hard to spot the Model Eleven-W in a room. Its control center is just a bit bigger than the records it plays, and the speakers are the size of shoeboxes.
But you don't have to search for the sound. It's as big as all indoors—the kind of sound produced only by massive and expensive audio systems.
The secret of the Model Eleven-W is a quality of engineering that no one ever thought of lavishing on something so small and unpretentious. KLH designed unique miniature speakers that can move more air (for really deep bass) than far larger console speakers, plus complementary electronic circuitry that provides exactly the proportion of power the speakers need at different frequencies.

As for what you can see, there is a custom built Garrard record changer with a Pickering magnetic cartridge and diamond stylus. And the cabinetry, what little there is of it, is of genuine walnut veneers, not plastic or the kind of wood that might as well be plastic.
Come in and search out the KLH* Model Eleven-W. You will find its sound out of all proportion to its size and cost.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

OVERPASS TAKES FORM

Wooden forms are lifted into place by crane at the southern end of the new San Rafael Overpass on Highway 101, as workmen ready steel reinforcement rods for the forms. Scheduled for completion during the summer of 1971, the $2.7 million project will provide three northbound and three southbound lanes through San Rafael. This photo, taken today, looks north over the southern section at Second Street.

Bruce To Give Supervisors A Gloomy Report On Reserve Funds

County Administrator Alan Bruce will report to the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow that county reserve funds are almost exhausted because of continued demands.

The county medical department will report a $45,000 deficiency in the fund for hospital care of the medically indigent. Much of this deficiency is caused by state rejection of payments, said Timothy M. Jackson, senior administrative analyst.

Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell will report a $14,000 deficiency in the fund to care for court wards in institutions and foster homes.

The board will get a late start tomorrow because they will meet as members of the Marin County Transit District until about 10 or 10:30 o'clock. They will then meet behind closed doors to instruct the county team that is negotiating with employee representatives on 1970-71 contracts.

The regular supervisors' agenda is set for 11 a.m.

Among items on the morning agenda are these:

The county's religious leaders will ask for the appointment of an impartial citizens committee to delve into the labor dispute between San Francisco Typographical Union 21 and the Independent-Journal.

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council will submit its proposal for a county manpower commission to coordinate the work of all agencies involved in training and placing the unemployed.

In the afternoon, the supervisors will discuss a six-year capital improvement program recommended by the county administrator. The proposal calls for an expenditure of $3,798,000 in the 1970-71 fiscal year, largely for roads.

Second Cluster School To Be For 'Expressive Arts'

The second in a series of new cluster schools will open at Sonoma State College in the fall, designed to teach the "expressive arts."

Offering a bachelors degree in liberal studies, the school will be headed by Dr. William E. McCreary, chairman of the division of psychology, education, health sciences and physical education.

The school will offer an advanced curriculum and students will have completed all or nearly all of the general education requirements at Sonoma State.

The cluster plan of Sonoma State to develop a series of small, specialized schools was approved last fall by the state college Board of Trustees. The first cluster school, the Robert Maynard Hutchins School of Liberal Studies, opened last fall with 100 students.

"The new program is conceived of as being unconventional and experimental," Dr. McCreary said. "It will provide a highly personalized structure where the student will be required to accept the major responsibility for his own education."

During the first semester at the expressive arts cluster, the student will participate in laboratories in psychology and the expressive arts, art and the self, creative writing and personal exploration in the theatre arts.

In following semesters, the work will be tailored to independent study.

The faculty will not function in the traditional fashion, but will be considered "in residence."

Marin Museum Civic Center Gallery Open

About 50 persons gathered on the first floor of the Civic Center for a preview of "Marin: Yesterday", an exhibit of historic art and artifacts dating back to the days of the Miwok Indians.

John F. McInnis, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, opened the exhibit gallery at 9:30 a.m.

Among those present were museum association president, Richard E. Dakin, Diane Bagley, chairman of the exhibit; Mrs. Edward Hayden, first president of the association; Mrs. Melville Owen and Mrs. Paul Haerle, who helped Mrs. Hayden launch the art appreciation program in Marin schools; Mrs. Jay Crotty, current chairman of the art appreciation program; Mrs. Thomas McWatters, who supervises all exhibits for the museum association; Inez Storer, director of today's exhibit, and Robert Mahoney, designer.

The "Marin: Yesterday" show will be on display through May 16. It includes such items as Indian relics, deeds of marriage certificates from the 1860s, an original land grant map of 1860, the first typewriter used in the county courthouse and photographs of old Marin landmarks.

Businesses Report More Windows Out

Windows in three more San Rafael businesses were smashed during the weekend, possibly in connection with the San Francisco Typographical Union 21 strike against the Independent-Journal, San Rafael police reported today.

Metal nuts fired with a sling shot or similar instrument Saturday before 8:25 a.m. caused two holes in a showroom window at Marin Bay Lincoln Mercury at Third Street and Lincoln Avenue, police reported. One steel nut was recovered, according to police, from the showroom floor.

The firm has suffered twice before from strike-related vandalism with four windows costing a total of $550 being smashed with steel nuts on March 25 and two windows broken on Feb. 17.

Window smashing with such nuts has been characteristic of strike-related vandalism throughout Marin.

A front window at Marin Piano and Organ Co. at 117 Jacoby Street was smashed with a steel nut fired by a sling shot around 9:30 p.m. Friday, police reported today. The nut was also recovered inside the building, police said.

The Bourbon Shop at 373 Third Street reported steel nuts were used Saturday to smash a front window, a door pane and louvred windows, police said. An aluminum window frame was also damaged by a steel nut, police added.

Today's report of violence brings to four the stores attacked during the weekend. An attack on Cox's TV and Sound Center in Northgate Shopping Center on Friday was reported previously in the Independent-Journal.

Corte Madera's Dog Show Influx Due Another Round

Is Corte Madera going to the dogs, and if so, how far?

That was the subject discussed by the Corte Madera Town Council, Parks and Recreation Commission and representatives of dog groups throughout the Bay Area at a special meeting Sautrday morning.

The upshot of that meeting was the calling of a special meeting of the parks and recreation commission for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday to consider an application by the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club for a June 14 show at the park.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said that Corte Madera is becoming the mecca for dog shows.

"At first it was one or two, but now it is five shows that want to use the park" he said.

The council asked the parks and recreation commission to set a policy if they will allow dog shows, how many and set dates when they can be held, if allowed, Colthurst said.

No date has been set for the policy discussion, Town Mgr. Ronald B. Usher said today.

Tot Tumbles Into Pool; Is Critical

A 2-year-old San Rafael girl was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital after nearly drowning yesterday in the swimming pool at her apartment house home.

Kimberly Rountree of 555 Canal Street was discovered in the pool by her father, Michael A. Rountree, shortly after 11 a.m. police said.

The child had been riding her tricycle near the pool when she apparently toppled in, police said.

She was given first aid by her father before being taken to the hospital, police reported.

Inverness Driver Hurt In Accident

An Inverness man was treated yesterday for injuries received in a one-car accident on Pierce Point Road on the Point Reyes Peninsula, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Ralph A. Groves, 54, of Box 324 Inverness, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a fractured collarbone suffered in the accident at 5:15 p.m. His car was westbound on the road when it rolled over, the patrol reported. No other details were available.

Priorities For Teacher Pay To Be Studied

Priorities for teacher salaries will be discussed at 8 p.m. today by the Novato Unified School District board in the multipurpose room at Marion School.

Donald White, president of the Novato Teachers Association, will present the teachers' stand on the policy set up last year by the board in which teacher salaries were to receive top priorities in the budget.

The report on the school food program will be presented to the board. Earlier this year a citizens committee studied the cafeterias and proposed that they they be made self-supporting. At that time it was reported that the district was losing approximately $12,000 per year on its food program. Tonight's report will be by the school staff.

Other items to come before the board include an ecological program at Pleasant Valley School, courses for study next school year and school boundaries and transfer policies.

Deputies Nab Two Youths In Drug Probe

Two Novato youths, reportedly acting erratically, were arrested on suspicion of narcotics violation Friday afternoon at Point Reyes-Petaluma and Platform Bridge roads, north of Tocaloma.

Deputies said John Paul Emerson, 20, of 1001 Eighth Street, and Timothy R. Stratford, 21, of 1536 Buchanan Street, attracted their attention at the west end of the bridge at the intersection at 4:55 p.m.

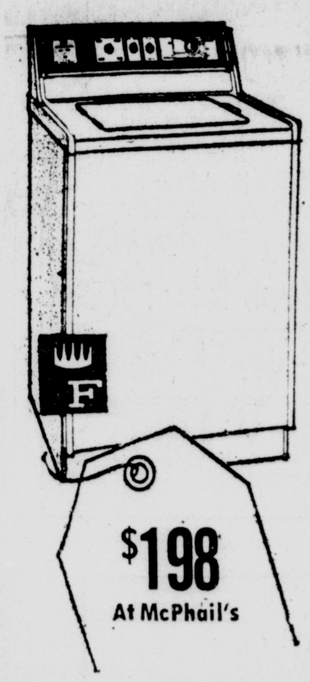

Emerson was on his knees looking at the sky and Stratford "was staring as if in a trance," deputies reported.

A search revealed a packet of what appeared to be marijuana in the glove compartment of their car, remnants of a marijuana cigarette under a seat and a box of white tablets in the car.

Both were booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana, possession of a dangerous drug and being under the influence of a narcotic. Each posted $500 bail and was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Today is Monday, April 6, the 96th day of 1970 with 269 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1830 Joseph Smith organized the Church of the Latter Day Saints, more commonly known as the Mormons, in Fayette, N.Y.

In 1957 the last New York trolley car completed its run.

In 1968 the federal government sent 5,000 troops to Chicago to put down a riot.

A thought for the day: American writer David Thoreau said, "Rather than love, than money, give me truth."

Belvedere Council To Meet Today

The Belvedere City Council will meet today at 8 p.m. in the community hall to consider a request by Fire Chief L. T. Mersereau to survey the fire main system to determine if it is adequate.

The council also will hear a request by Marin Transit Systems for a subsidy. The company has asked Tiburon for a subsidy as well.

A closed session is scheduled to discuss hiring and firing of personnel.

Campaign Aide

Mrs. C. Roger Reichert of 87 Laura Lane, Fairfax, has been named county precinct chairman for Ernest C. Zunino's campaign for judge of Marin Municipal Court in the June 2 election. She will organize campaign volunteers at precinct levels.

How Nine Of Diamonds Got Its 'Curse Of Scotland'

"Why is the nine of diamonds known as The Curse of Scotland?" a reader asks. "The encyclopedias give conflicting answers, but I'm sure you know the answer." And how right that reader is! I was present when the card got its nickname.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

UTTERS A MOAN

South, a gent by the name of Sandy McTavish, won the first trick with the ace of clubs, drew a round of trumps with the ace, cashed the ace of diamonds and then led the ten of diamonds.

West took the king of diamonds and led the jack of clubs to force out dummy's king. Now McTavish led the jack of diamonds from dummy, expecting East to produce the queen. But East discarded the seven of hearts, and poor McTavish uttered a Hibernian moan.

ON RIGHT TRACK

South was on the right track up to this point. If he discarded the losing club on dummy's jack of diamonds, he would give West an extra diamond trick but would not lose a club. This play would therefore cost nothing; and South would later discard his losing heart on dummy's nine of diamonds.

But McTavish had been sipping some very strong tea, or it may have been coffee, and he overlooked dummy's nine of diamonds. He ruffed the jack of diamonds and then had to lose one trick in each suit. Down one.

REFUSE TO BELIEVE

There are people who refuse to believe that an infuriated nine of diamonds leaped out of the deck and bit McTavish, but how else did poor Sandy contract the case of rabies that carried him off two weeks later? The tea didn't hurt McTavish, for I was sipping the same stuff and the nine of diamonds didn't do me a bit of harm.

ANSWER, Pass.

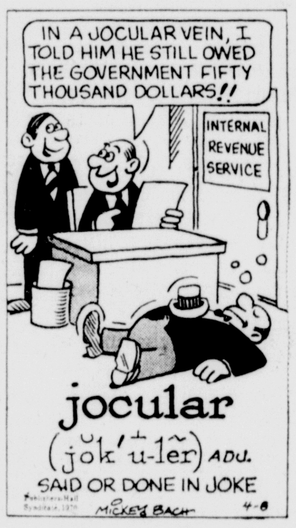

Despite the 12 points in high cards, this hand is not even nearly worth an opening bid. Don't consider a borderline opening bid when you have only one of the eight aces and kings.

Execution Dates Set For Four In Quentin

Four condemned inmates at San Quentin Prison have received death dates, although it is likely the executions will be stayed as long as the Supreme Court considers challenges against the death penalty.

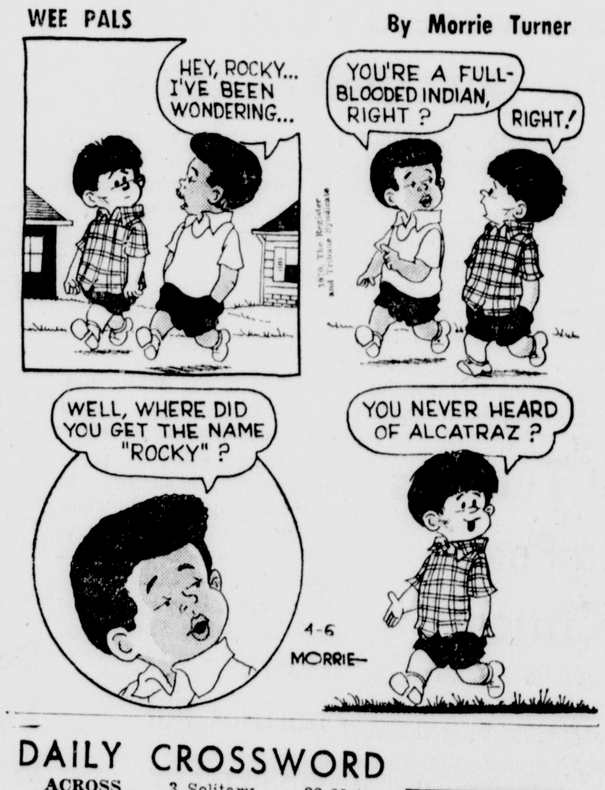

The four are Johnny Milton, 24, and Barry Floyd, 23, both convicted of the first degree murder and robbery in the 1967 killing of a Los Angeles bus driver, who are set to die May 27; Ronald W. King, 37, convicted killer of a Los Angeles liquor store clerk, scheduled for execution May 13, and Daniel A. Roberts, 46, convicted of strangling his San Francisco landlady, whose execution was set for May 21.

ATTENTION
SMALL INVESTOR
Evidence of achievement by U.I.I. Distributors can be seen from Coast-to-Coast!

A business revolution has taken place, proving the "Little Fellow" can emerge a "Mighty Giant" in the U.I.I. money-making route system.

The Questions: Do you have a serviceable car? 6-10 hours free time a week? $1,500 to invest which, according to an authoritative source, triples in value the day you start in the vending business? Can grow to $1,000 a month income with this small cash start. Success isn't automatic . . . you have to work for it!

When you do this with U.I.I you'll never suffer from competition. No selling or soliciting . . . just a service function.

'69 BUICK SKYLARKS $2795

We've just made a special purchase from Buick Motor Dvision's San Francisco zone headquarters to buy back seven almost-new 1969 Buick Skylark Custom 2-Dr. hardtops that are so close-to-new that we couldn't pass them up.

These cars had a sticker price in excess of $3900 yet we're offering these clean Skylarks at $2795.

Example—Silver color with black custom vinyl top and black custom notch back vinyl seats with armrest. Automatic radio, heater, power steering, tinted glass, w/w tires, wheel covers, V-8 engine and all the Skylark extras. Just over 7,000 miles on this close-to-new Skylark coupe and we transfor the GM new car warranty which will have 43,000 miles and 4-years left to cover the car. 9Z113355.

TV REVIEW

Some Ads Incensing Women

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a minority of women in this country who would like to slap a sticker onto every television set saying: "This commercial unfair to women."

The ladies of the women's liberation movement are incensed about commercials that extol the virtues of housewifery or cast them as sex symbols.

Donna Keck, writing in "Women, a Journal of Liberation," says, "The dual image of women is projected by television ads. The 'housewife-drudge' is urged to buy detergent, floor wax, furniture polish, food products and other items to make household tasks easier.

"The 'sexmate' on the other hand needs feminine deodorant soap and spray, hair coloring, cosmetics, padded bras and girdles."

Miss Keck's conclusion is that the whole thing is designed to keep women in an inferior position—and to entice them into buying more products.

Some of the commercials are glaringly inane. Even a male is aware that women don't stand around admiring a whiter wash and that there is more to finding happiness than using the mouthwash for lovers.

Incidentally, many commercials have become quite hip, setting standards for the movies and the rest of television .But the detergent commercials still plod along as they did 20 years ago.

One commercial these women say is antifeminine is that for Silva Thin cigarettes. The guy is always grabbing his cigarette package away from an admiring girl and shoving her into a cable car or a taxi. Once he dumped her out in the middle of nowhere.

Admitted one advertising representative: "I think that would upset me if I were a lady. It's not at all chivalrous."

Lately, however, the guy has shown a little manners.

When I first saw the new commercial for Tab without cyclamates I thought it was a great take-off on the "Guys and Dolls" type Broadway review.

But one feminist demanded, "What do they mean, 'Tab is good enough for guys now?' " we've come a long way for? To have our own cigarette?"

Besides the commercials, Miss Keck complains about the image of woman that is perpetuated in the entertainment programs. She is a housewife. She is beautiful. She is not very smart; or she is clever and manipulates her husband. In the meantime, the feminists also are very mad.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Unusual on television tonight:

KTVU (2), 7:30 p.m.—"Giants in Japan" is a one-hour documentary featuring the differences in Japanese baseball, Japanese fans and customs, and their reactions to the San Francisco Giants.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 7:30 p.m.—"This Land is Mine" is an hour-long special about what is beautiful in America and introduces some of the people who live with and care for that beauty. Robert Culp narrates.

KRON (4), 9 p.m.—Harry Guardino, Bradford Dillman, Hope Lange, Pat Hingle, Diana Hyland and Victor Jory star in the mystery movie, "Jigsaw."

KQED (9), 9 p.m.—"NET Journal" presents "Face to Face with China," an examination of the economic and political state of Taiwan and Thailand, two countries confronted with the Chinese Communist problem.

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 10 p.m.—Bing Crosby, Ella Fitzgerald, Dan Rowan and Dick Martin join Carol Burnett in a music-and-comedy salute to Paramount Pictures, the movie studio associated with Crosby's career.

Trustees Will View Salaries

Employee salaries and the 1970-71 budget will be discussed by the Fairfax School District board at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

At its March 24 meeting, the board asked Supt. H. Reginald Hammond to prepare cost estimates and alternate proposals to pay increases requested.

Both the teaching and non-teaching staffs have asked for increases averaging 8 per cent.

Other items to come before the board include a proposal to correct White Hill Creek, damaged in last winter's rains; the annual audit and setting the school calendar for next year.

Regulations On Park Due Study

Regulations on use of the city park will come up again before the Fairfax Parks and Recreation Commission at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Women's Club.

The regulations, drawn up by the comismsion, were sent to the council Jan. 26, but returned for further clarification.

Other items to come before the commission include a report from the budget committee, the estimated cost for two additional basketball nets and backboards and use of tennis courts and tennis instruction.

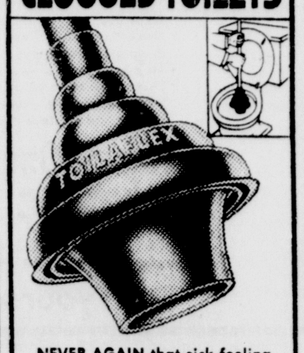

Jenner Tour Set Sunday

The conservation committee of the San Francisco Bay Chapter of the Sierra Club will sponsor a public tour Sunday at the mouth of the Russian River at Jenner where a controversial dredging project is proposed.

A bus, leaving from San Francisco, will stop at the Greyhound Bus Depot in San Rafael at 9 a.m. to pick up Marin passengers.

Northern California Aggregates has asked for a permit to dredge from the mouth of the river five miles upstream, destroying Penny Island Wildlife Refuge. A naturalist from the area will discuss the ecology of the wildlife refuge.

Chest X-Rays Set April 16

Free chest X-rays, intended primarily for spanish-speaking residents of Marin, will be given on April 16 at 918 C Street in San Rafael.

The special testing is sponsored by the Marin Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association and the Marin Economic Opportunity Council. A mobile testing unit will be parked in the rear of the building from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Joseph W. Burba, Jr., executive director of the TB association, said the testing is primarily for Spanish-speaking residents, but anyone wishing a free X-ray is welcome. No pregnant women or children under 15 will be X-rayed.

French Ties Please Shriver

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S.-French relations are at their best of anytime in the last decade, says Sargent Shriver, who recently resigned as ambassador to that country.

As examples Shriver gave the expressed French willingness to accept Great Britain into the Common Market and changing French attitudes toward the international monetary fund.

Asked about the sale of warplanes to Libya, Shriver said, "The French government doesn't have any requirement that they have to talk to us before they do anything."

Shriver was interviewed Sunday on the NBC program "Meet the Press."

P-TA Will Sponsor Day Of Dialogue

The Redwood High School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a "dialogue day" April 11 at the school for discussion on varied subjects.

Subjects to be aired during the session at the Little Theater starting at 9:30 a.m. are drugs, discipline, college planning, youth and the establishment, counseling, limit setting and discipline at home, social responsibility, dress and grooming, human relations, sex education, relevant curriculum and innovations in education.

Leading discussions will be Paul V. Bosque, dean of boys at Redwood High School; John Brewer, Marin County's chief probation officer; Alfred L. Brokes, school psychologist, and Mrs. H. James Compton, past president of the Redwood High School P-TA.

Also, Rudolph R. Genetti, science supervisor; Richard V. Godino, assistant Marin County counsel; Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court; Charles Greenley, head counselor; Dr. Jerson Jacobs, parent and physician; and James Kilty, representative of Catholic Social Services of Marin County.

Vaughn Marker, engineer and parent; Duncan McSwain, social studies teacher; Carol Neumeier, counselor on leave; Robert A. Piro, science teacher; Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court, and Emma Jean Wulzen, dean of girls.

DEEP STEAM wall-to-wall carpet cleaning offers you:

GENTLE CLEANING ACTION . . . no brushes or scrubbing action is used to wear or distort the carpet pile.
LIKE-NEW RESTORATION of original color, texture, and matted pile without use of chemicals.
MOISTURE CONTROL which insures fast drying and avoids carpet shrinkage.
SAFE PROCESS . . . guaranteed to be completely safe for all fabrics, and under any condition.
GREATER ECONOMY because the Deep Steam cleaning process Soil Retards and Mothproofs your carpet. This minimizes the need for frequent professional cleaning.
LONGER CARPET LIFE since deeply imbedded soil is safely extracted from both the pile and back of your carpet.

The Old Method

The conventional shampoo scrubbing method uses preliminary vacuuming to remove some loose soil. The shampoo equipment, with harsh brushes, utilizing different types of liquid detergents or powders, scrubs the remaining soil DEEPER into the carpet . . . and even with the help of a wet vacuum fails to remove most of the soil or residue. This residue which is left in the carpet then works its way to the surface and attracts more soil. Soon your carpet may appear more soiled than before!

HOW DEEP STEAM SOIL EXTRACTION WORKS
Deep Steam Soil Extraction equipment applies wet steam with a professional formula and soil retardant under pressure deep into the carpet fibers. The two cleaning agents combine to break down soil and the static electric charge, which holds the soil deep in the pile of the carpet, and brings this soil into suspension. Then, instantly, the moisture and soil are removed by the powerful continuous extraction process into a separate stainless steel container. During this cleaning operation every fiber is coated with SOIL RETARDANT and MOTHPROOFING to keep your carpet cleaner and protected longer.

GURNEY'S 150-MILE RIDE TO SEARS POINT VICTORY

JIM GILMARTIN

A Great Day At Sears Point

Dan Gurney, the All-American boy and everybody's hero in road racing, won the 150-mile road race for Indianapolis cars at Sears Point Saturday; little Mario Andretti of Indy fame made a beautiful race out of it; international star John Cannon displayed some magnificent driving while his car held up; there were enough injury-free spinouts to satisfy the $8. per ticket holders, gorgeous Sonoma County weather bathed the crowd spread over the hillsides to a shade of pink, yet, after it was over, Sears Point officials scratched their heads and wondered where everybody was.

A track official announced the crowd at 38,212 but it looked to me as if about 10,000 of them may have been disguised as ghosts or wildflowers. Anyway, Dick St. Johns, president of Filmways, which owns Sears Point Raceway, said: "It was a wonderful day and a great show, but, where were all the people?"

First Prize Of $14,975

Perhaps he was looking at the nearly empty grandstand where tickets cost $12. It was hoped more people would show up for the Indy cars northern California debut.

While St. Johns may have been worried about the budget with a $50,000 purse to distribute, Gurney was all smiles as he collected $14,975 for his hot 150-mile ride, 60 times around the winding, hilly, 2.5-mile course His Ford-powered Gurney Eagle made it in 1 hour, 44 minutes, 26 seconds at an average speed of 87 mph.

A second row starter, the 6-foot, 3-inch, blond Gurney saw pole winner Mark Donohue drop out with engine failure on the first lap, then dashing Dan overtook wee paisano Andretti and Al Unser to take the lead for keeps after the first two laps.

Gurney, runnerup to Andretti in the Indy 500 May, beat Mario by 1.2 seconds while Unser and his Johnny Lightning Special finished third, just seven seconds back.

'Couldn't Relax For Second'

"I was going as fast as I could all the way," the 38-year-old Gurney smiled afterwards. "Boy, I couldn't relax for a second. Mario was right on my tail all the way. Funny thing, the car was getting harder to handle as the fuel load got lighter. It was very jittery near the end."

Gurney, whose All-American Racers firm of Costa Mesa builds the Eagle race cars he drives, will be racing his products in an all-out bid for the Indy and Ontario 500-mile races this year in addition to driving a Plymouth Barracuda in the Trans-American sedan series.

Andretti and Cannon staged the most thrilling duel of the day, drawing cheers from the crowd estimated (by me) of 28,000. Running fourth early in the going, the London-born Cannon passed both Unser and Andretti and pushed Gurney and his blue-streak to a lap clocking of 1:37.0, a Sears Point record. Then, slowed to a crawl by the pace car under a yellow flag, Cannon developed fuel injection problems, lost his place and eventually had to drop out.

The former RAF pilot was cheered by the crowd for his beautiful driving while the official driving the pace car was roundly booed.

All The Way A Bad Clutch

Andretti won plaudits for going the distance with a defective clutch which caused him to start late, although he caught up with the field of 26 starters be-

Seals Prep For NHL Playoffs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For the Oakland Seals, it's as if the National Hockey League season were just starting. As far as the Los Angeles Kings are concerned, it ended 76 games too late.

The Kings won three of their last five games including Saturday night's finale, a 4-1 pasting of the Seals, but their last-gasp success was hardly noticed by the rest of the NHL.

Los Angeles might have been the "spoiler," wrecking the hopes of Oakland or Minnesota as they battled for the West Division's fourth and final play-off berth. The Kings did, in fact manage to split home-and-home series' with the Seals and North Stars.

But that only served to let both of them make the play-offs by nosing out Philadelphia. The Seals, finishing fourth with a 22-40-14 record for 58 points, two less than Minnesota, began postseason playing Wednesday night in Pittsburgh against the second-place Penguins.

Larry Cahan, a former Oakland defenseman, wrecked the Seals' bid for third place and sent 9,128 Kings fans home happy Saturday nights, whipping home two goals to pace the Los Angeles attack.

Ted Hampson put the Seals on top in the first period before Cahan, Matt Ravlich and Dick Duff went to work to put Los Angeles' final record at 14-52-10.

Marin Nine Loses 8th Straight

College of Marin Tars ran into the three-hit pitching of Santa Rosa's Chuck Leone Saturday, dropping their eighth straight game, 3 to 1, in Kentfield.

The Tars, winless on the season, scored in the first inning on a double steal, with Gary Welch coming home and Steve Trono going to second. Both got on base via walks.

Santa Rosa came back with two unearned runs in the second and coasted the rest of the way behind the eight strikeout effort of Leone.

Marin's Jim Peters, who lost his third game in as many starts, pitched creditably despite the lack of support, allowing only one earned run.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Army's Glen Davis set a record in 1945 that probably will never come close to being matched when he averaged 11.51 yards per carry during the season. He ran with the ball 82 times.

HE'S READY

The 'Little Man' Eyes Masters

'THRILLED'

"I feel I have it going well.

"I'm thrilled to get this form, to win so soon after coming over to this country. I've only been over four weeks. It's a nice surprise. I usually don't play quite this well this early.

"Those first two rounds I played, 70 and 63, I can't remember ever playing two consecutive rounds that well. I can't remember ever hitting so many irons right at the flag, anything from a two to a six I was right on it.

Player, who won the Masters in 1961, left for Augusta, Ga., only a couple of hours after holing out. He said he would play a practice round Monday in preparation for the Masters, which opens Thursday.

13 UNDER

Player, who has only been in this country for five weeks on his current tour, finished with a 271, 13 under par on the rolling Sedgefield Country Club Course.

He held a two-stroke advantage over Miller Barber, who closed with a 68 and took second at 273. He was followed by R. H. Sikes, 69 for 274, Steve Spray 67 for 275 with Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino and Tommy Aaron tied at 276.

Trevino, the season's leading money winner, closed with a 68, Aaron had a 71 and Palmer, who led the first two days of the rain-delayed tournament, also had a 71.

ARNIE OUT

Palmer simply never got it going. He took a fat 74 on the first of two 18 hole rounds on the last day and dropped back to a four-way tie for the top with Aaron, Sikes and Barber. Player was another stroke back after a 73 at that time.

The little South African, the subject of some threats because of his nation's aparthheid policies, was guarded by a sprinkling of plainsclothes policemen with the huge gallery that followed him and his playing partnert, Palmer and Aaron.

Player called it the biggest gallery he has ever seen.

He started his charge, when he made up five strokes on par in a stretch of six holes, with a magnificent blast from the sand on the par 5 sixth.

"I put my second shot in a bunker to the right of the green," he said.

"I thought I had to do something pretty soon so I told me caddy, 'I'm going for it—go get the flag.' And the ball went right in the cup.

"That kind of got me started," he said.

BIRDIED

He birdied the eight from 15 feet, chipped to within five feet on the next and made the putt, and ran in a 10-footer on the 11th that put him out in front to stay. And he canned an unnecessary 15-foot birdie putt on the final hole after hitting a tree limb with his tee shot.

The $36,000 first place check was his biggest payday ever and boosted his earnings to more than $43,000 in only four starts.

Softball Team In 8-0 Victory

San Rafael's Ron Reagan and Nolan Wilson each homered and carried Paul Koss Supply to an 8-0 win over Nite Life in San Francisco City Softball League action Saturday.

In Golden Gate Traveling League action Sunday, Koss Supply split a doubleheader with Hayward, winning the opener 7-3 and losing the nightcap 5-0.

Terra Linda Baseballers Divide A Pair

Soctt Seefelt and Dewey Forry combined for a three hitter Saturday to lead Terra Linda High School to a 3-1 win over Berkeley High in a non-league baseball game at Albert Field.

The Trojans scored first in the third when Jim Codington opened with a triiple and came home on Bill Berry's sacrifice fly. The winning run came in the fourth when Rick Payne singled home Forry, who had singled and stolen second.

Seefelt, who worked the first five innings struck out four and allowed the only Berkeley run. Forry shut them out from there.

In a game played the previous evening at Albert Field, Terra Linda dropped a badly played affair to Galileo of San Francisco, 9-8. The Trojans downfall came in the second when Galileo scored eight runs as a result of three errors.

OPENING GAMES

It's Baseball Time

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baseball attention shifted from the courtroom to the ball field today as the problem-plagued sport began its second century with traditional openers at Washington and Cincinnati while the champion New York Mets and transplanted Milwaukee Brewers waited to be trumpeted onstage.

The American League began play at Washington with the Detroit Tigers, sans the suspended Denny McLain, sending lefthander Mickey Lolich against the Senators' Dick Bosman after young David Eisenhower threw out the first ball as a stand-in for President Nixon.

At Cincinnati, meanwhile, the usual holiday atmosphere prevailed as the National League got underway with the Montreal Expos sending oJe Sparma out to pitch against Jim Merritt of the Reds in the last opening day at ancient Crosley Field.

Monday's opening program, however, was overshadowed by the potential in Tuesday's 11 game schedule in which the Mets will begin defense of their world championship at Pittsburgh and the Brewers will provide Milwaukee with a home team to root for against the California Angels.

In the National League, Chicago is at Pittsburgh, Cincinnati at Los Angeles, Atlanta at San Diego and Houston at San Francisco in addition to the New York-Pittsburg curtain raiser. The St. Louis Cardinals move into action for the first time Wednesday in a game at Montreal.

A's Open Tomorrow In K.C.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Oakland A's will start trying to live up to the goal the oddsmakers have set for them when they open the American League baseball season here Tuesday against the Kansas City Royals.

The A's flew here Sunday night after winding up the preseason schedule with a 14-15 mark by beating the San Diego Padres 6-2 in Albuquerque, N.M.

ODOM

John Odom, 15-6 last year when he was slowed by an arm ailment after a fast start, will start for the A's, who are favored by Las Vegas oddsmakers to win the West Division, where they finished second last season to Minnesota.

Jim Hunter, 12-15 last year, will start Wednesday, and Chuck Dobson, 15-13 last year, will open on the mound Thursday.

The A's lineup will feature more than a few new faces this year.

TRADES

Trades have brought a new first string catcher, Frank Fernandez, a new first baseman in Don Mincher, and a new left fielder in Felipe Alou.

The rest of the starters against Kansas City will be Dick Green at second, Sal Bando at third, Rick Monday in center, and Reggie Jackson in right field. Shortshotp Bert Campaneris was ailing with a bad back but was expected to start.

NEW GUYS

The newcomers figured prominently in the victory over San Diego. Mincher had two hits, including a double, Fernandez hit a run-scoring double, and Alou got three hits.

Oakland broke open the game in the sixth with three runs, aided by three San Diego errors, including a dropped flyball by Ollie Brown, who accounted for both San Diego runs with a homer in the third inning.

Perry To Pitch Giants' Opener

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, trying to forget a dismal Japanese trip and a lacklustre Cactus League performance, were home today awaiting Tuesday's National League opener here against the Houston Astros.

The Giants, 3-6 on the Japan tour and 9-7 in Arizona after Sunday's 8-2 victory in Phoenix over the Atlanta Braves, will take the field behind Gaylord Perry, 19-14 last year.

EAR INFECTION

Juan Marichal, who posted a 21-11 mark last year, will miss his usual opening day start because of an ear infection, the Giants announced Sunday night. The ear problem was caused by a cold, doctors said.

In other changes, rookie Alan Gallagher, former Santa Clara star up from Amarillo of the Texas League, was announced as the starter at third base, and Tito Fuentes will take over at second for Ron Hunt.

The Giants cut their roster to 27 players during the weekend by sending pitcher Bob Garibaldi and outfielder Jim Gosger to Phoenix. A Saturday addition was catcher Russ Gibson, picked up on waivers from the Boston Red Sox. The Giants must cut two more players by opening day.

Fuentes and Willie McCovey paced the Giants' victory over Atlanta. Fuentes singled twice and legged out an inside-the-park home run, and McCovey homered, tripled and singled, driving in two runs.

McCovey's inflamed right eye is nearly back to normal, but the big first baseman says he still is bothered by arthritis in the knee.

While Mariachal's cold might put him out of the starting rotation for the first week, Frank Reberger could move in as a starter. The big right hander, obtained during the winter as a possible middle-inning reliever, hurled the first seven innings, giving up one run on eight hits, striking out two and walking two.

San Marin Wins Over S.F. Foe

Novato's San Marin Mustangs outslugged Woodrow Wilson High of San Francisco 9-7 Saturday in a non-league high school baseball game at Balboa Park iin San Francisco.

The Mustangs, whose record now stands at six wins and seven losses, shelled three Wilson pitchers for 12 hits, including four doubles.

Ken Gnoss got two doubles and a single, for the Mustangs and knocked in two runs. Jim Thompson was two for four with three RBIs, and Marty Larsen collected a pair of hits and scored three runs.

fore they got the green flag. "I was just grinding it into gear the whole race," said Andretti later when he collected $8,750.

Said the fabled Andy Granatelli, owner of Andretti's car: "This is the toughest course in the nation as far as a driver is concerned. This was undoubtedly one of Mario's most demanding performances."

Concurred Mario: "No doubt about it, there isn't a second to rest here. It's so busy, no straightway!"

Gurney, America's premier road racer who will reach his 39th birthday on April 13, likened Sears Point to the Grand Prix at Monte Carlo course in toughness. "It's so tight it was the longest 150 miles I ever ran," he said. It also was his first major victory in Northern California.

Cannon Very Disappointed

Cannon said he was extremely disappointed when his car's fuel system started acting up for he thought he had a good shot at Gurney after he moved past Andretti into second place. "My crew was happy just because I passed Mario; I guess I'm the only one disappointed." Cannon, who won the Continental Series at Sears Point last June, will return for the Formula A can race in June and again for the Canadian American Challenge Cup in November.

Three-time Indianapolis winner A. J. Foyt cancelled out of Saturday's race at the last minute when he heard that his teen daughter, injured when she fell off a horse in Houston last week, took a turn for the worse.

The only local car in the field, the No. 76 Webster Racing Enterprises Special of Mill Valley driven by Australian Kevin Bartlett, dropped out after 26 laps with shaft trouble. Owner Marvin Webster plans to enter the car in the Indy 500.

Sears Point officials and the California Highway Patrol are to be commended for the vastly improved traffic control before and after the race. Unlike last year, most traffic was moved without major jams.

Sears Point Order Of Finish

Following is the order of finish for Saturday's Golden Gate 150-mile (60-lap) road race for Indianapolis cars sanctioned by the United States Auto Cub at Sears Point International Raceway (including name of car, USAC points awarded, prize money):

TV Plans In College Football

CHICAGO (AP) — Texas and Penn State, a pair of undefeated teams who finished one-two nationally last season, each will make two appearances on the 1970 collegiate football television schedule this fall.

The 35-game schedule begins a new two-year, $12 million-per season contract between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the American Broadcasting Company.

The schedule, which includes 11 national telecasts and 24 regional shows, opens Saturday night, Sept. 12, with the Stanford-Arkansas game at Little Rock and winds up Dec. 5 with Arkansas at Texas in a nationally televised day game with four regional telecasts slated that night.

The program, reportedly paying $205,000 to each team in a nationally televised game and $152,000 to each team in a regional game, was announced Sunday by Roone Arledge, president and executive producer of ABC sports, at the convention of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Three other national night games include Alabama vs. Mississippi at Jackson, Miss., Oct. 3; Southern Cal vs. UCLA at Los Angeles, Nov. 21, and Houston vs. Florida State at Tampa, Fla., on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26.

ABC has an option to select one extra "wild card" game to telecast, based on interest as the season progresses. The game will be selected late in November and any game or games originally scheduled also will be televised that same day.

Australians Advance In Davis Cup

By Associated Press

Australia, seeking to bounce back from one of its rare Davis Cup early elimination, completed a 5-0 rout of The Philippines Sunday in Eastern Zone play.

In other matches Sunday, Colombia took an insurmountable 3-0 lead over Ecuador and Brazil forged ahead of Chile 2-1.

The final two Australia-Philippines singles matches were meaningless after the Aussies took a 3-0 lead in Saturday's doubles. John Alexander won the first match Sunday by crushing Eddie Cruz 8-6, 6-3, 6-3 and Ray Ruffels trounced 44-year-old Raymundo Deyro 6-1, 6-0, 6-2.

Colombia clinched its match with Ecuador when Jairo Velasco and Ivan Molina scored a 6-2, 7-5, 1-6, 9-7 doubles victory over Miguel Olvera and Francisco Guzman.

The winner of the Brazil-Chile best-of-5 series will be determined Monday when the final two singles are contested.

Murphy Signs With NBA; A New Home For Patriots

Calvin Murphy, who averaged 33 points a game during three All-America years at Niagra, signed a contract Saturday with the San Diego Rockets for an estimated $300,000.

Murphy, who stands 5-10, will be the shortest player in the National Basketball Association next season.

The nomadic Boston Patriots may finally have found a home in Foxboro. The 17,000 resident town, about 30 miles southwest of Boston, was the choice of the Patriots' board of directors for a new 57,000 seat stadium.

The registered voters of Foxboro will hold a special town meeting April 13 to vote on final approval for the move.

The Pats still have no definite place to play this year, but have contacted Harvard University in regard to using its stadium.

V.D. can be prevented
An epidemic is ravaging America—needlessly. The U.S. Public Health Service estimates there were almost 1.8 million new cases of venereal disease last year, well exceeding the medical definition of an epidemic. More Americans caught gonorrhea last year than caught the measles. And half of all new V.D. cases are in the 15 to 24 year old age group. Tragically, V.D.'s strongest ally is simple ignorance. A few basic methods of prevention will effectively combat both syphilis and gonorrhea. The necessary information is available from physicians, clinics and public health groups. And your local Pharmacist is a professional source for medically recognized products to aid in the prevention of V.D.

Lakers Get Stay Of Execution

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Bulls reached the end of the line, the Los Angeles Lakers received a stay of execution and either the New York Knicks or Baltimore Bullets are about to walk the last mile.

That's how the National Basketball Association playoffs shaped up after Sunday's action in which the Atlanta Hawks wiped out Chicago 113-107, Los Angeles drubbed the Phoenix Suns 138-121 and Baltimore outshot New York 96-87.

The Hawks eliminated Chicago four games to one and gained a spot in the Western Division finals. In the other Western semifinal, the Suns lead Los Angeles 3-2 with game six Tuesday night in Phoenix. The Suns won Saturday night 112-102.

The Knicks and Bullets, tied at 3-3, will settle their Eastern semi tonight in New York, with the winner opposing the Milwaukee Bucks, 4-1 winners over Philadelphia.

A 12-point flurry by Walt Hazzard in the third period sparked Atlanta to an 85-73 spread over Chicago and the Hawks held off a late rally. The Bulls pulled to within 109-107 with 1:16 left but two free throws by Lou Hudson and one each by Jim Davis and Walt Bellamy sewed it up.

Joe Caldwell topped the winners with 24 points and Hazzard and Hudson each scored 23. Clem Haskins led Chicago with 24.

Despite the triumph, Coach Richie Guerin of the Hawks called it "the worst playoff game we've won. We didn't look sharp at all. I am concerned over defensive breakdowns we've had in the past two games and we've got to put this thing back together before our next series."

Jerry West and Wilt Chamberlain kept Los Angeles alive against Phoenix. Each had 36 points and West fed off for 18 assists while big Wilt grabbed 14 rebounds.

Mel Counts, the Lakers' other 7-footer, chipped in with 18 points and 16 rebounds while Connie Hawkins and Gail Goodrich paced the Suns with 28 and 23 points, respectively.

The Baltimore Bullets weren't a one-man team Sunday. Two-man was more like it. Gus Johnson and Earl Monroe scored 28 of the Bullets' 30 points in the third period and 40 of 55 in the second half as they sent the series back to New York for a seventh game.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

4-6

The aim of every bowler should be to roll the ball, rather than skid it. It is the rolling motion of the ball when it hits the pins that causes them to scatter against each other. To make the ball roll, it is important to release it at a low angle to the floor and avoid any sudden snap of your hand as you let it go.

Hectic Hockey Scramble

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs get under way Wednesday with games at Chicago, Boston, St. Louis and Pittsburgh but it wasn't until late Sunday night that it was determined just who would be playing whom.

The closest race in NHL history finally was decided Sunday with Chicago clinching first place in the East on the basis of five more victories than Boston even though the teams ended tied in points, and New York edging Montreal for fourth, clinching the berth on the basis of two more goals scored—only the second time in history that category has decided playoff position.

The Rangers will be in Boston and Detroit at Chicago Wednesday and Thursday in the first two east Division playoff games. The sites shift for games 3 and 4 Saturday and Sunday.

In the West Division, Minnesota nailed down third place with a last-night victory and will be in St. Louis for the first two games Wednesday and Thursday while Oakland plays at Pittsburgh.

Former Lady Sailor Mrs. Iselin Dies

AIKEN, S.C. (AP) — Mrs. Hope Goddard Iselin, who twice sailed in America's Cup yacht races, died Sunday at the age of 103.

Mrs. Iselin sailed aboard the Columbia in 1899 and 1901 when it beat Sir Thomas Lipton in the challenge races. The Columbia was one of four yachts prepared by a syndicate of which her late husband was a member.

Bud Winter To Retire

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Bud Winter, who coached many world record holders and several Olympic champions at San Jose State, is retiring.

Winter, 59, who has been at San Jose for 29 years, will leave the school June 1.

"I want to quit now while I'm still young enough to enjoy retirement and do some of the things I've always wanted to do," he said Thursday.

Winter coached the Spartans to the NCAA championship last year and developed such world record holders as Tommie Smith, Lee Evans, John Carlos, Ray Norton and Ronnie Ray Smith.

No successor was named immediately but speculation centered around Winter's assistant, Ernie Bullard.

Win In Swim Meet

Bob Placak and Kimi Fox of San Rafael Swim Club each scored a first place and posted AA time over the weekend in a Class A swimming meet at Concord. Other San Rafael swimmers who posted AA times were Peter Kamler, Mike Keck, Moira McSweeney and Erica Sutherland.

Easy Win For Novato

The Novato Parks and Recreation Dpepartment defeated the San Rafael Park and Recreation Department, 13-2 Saturday in a Nortnern California Lacrosse Association game at San Rafael. Ron Budde scored three goals for the winners.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Participation In Federal Debt Issues

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—We like the safety of Treasury obligations but have limited funds to invest. Our available capital is $1,000 now plus smaller additions every few months. Is there any choice other than savings bonds for our purposes?—F.P.

A—There are two methods, of which I am aware, that allow people in your circumstances to acquire government issues.

Since you are located near New York City you may prefer the first alternative. The Amalgamated Bank of New York is offering participation certificates in pools of government securities. The USave certificates carry 7 per cent interest, are available in denominations as low as $500 and have one to three-year maturities.

Your second option is a no-load mutual fund managed and distributed by Federated Investors of Pittsburgh, Pa. Founded in mid-1969 the Mutual Fund for Investing in U.S. Government Securities has grown rapidly to a total asset value at present of $7 million. Shares are trading at about $10 and yield currently slightly more than 7 per cent. The initial investment required is $250, which gives the holder a stake in obligations of two government agencies and various Treasury bills.

Q—A relative who is employed by Charles Pfizer Co. has urged me to purchase shares in this firm. She has explained that the shares will split three-for-one soon and then trade at around 35. I have $1,000 free to invest. What is your opinion?—H.C.

A—Holders will vote later this month on the proposed split.

An increase in the 40 cents quarterly dividend equal to 45 cents on the old shares will be paid on the split shares. Dividends, which have been liberalized frequently over the years, will have been increased twice in the most recent 12-month period. Earnings have moved ahead annually with a 10 per cent gain reported in 1969 on an 11% increase in oVlume.

A newly developed drug, Sinequan, used to treat anxiety and depressive neuroses, is thought to have a substantial market potential. Any share price correction to below 100 would provide an excellent buying opportunity for long-term commitments.

Sheffield Watch Sets Dividend

NEW YORK (UPI)—Directors of Sheffield Watch Corp. has declared a 5 per cent stock dividend, payable June 18 to holders of record May 25.

The board said the stock dividend, payable June 18 to holders of record May 25.

The board said the stock dividend is expected to replace cash dividends for the balance of 1970. The company's last payment was a quarterly dividend of 12½ cents on March 19.

The company said the new dividend policy would help Sheffield maintain in the current year the momentum achieved in the fiscal year ended Jan. 31.

Uranium Rights

TORONTO (UPI)—Consolidated Morrison Explorations, Ltd., has granted Mobil Oil Corp. the right to earn a 51 per cent interest in 35,000 acres of uranium prospecting lands in the Powder River Basin of Wyoming in return for exploratory drilling.

Buys Jewelry Firm

WEST PITTSTON, Pa. (UPI)—Suburban Publishers, Inc., has agreed to buy S. A. Peck Co. of Chicago, one of the largest quality jewelry mail order marketers in the country with sales of more than $3 million a year, for cash and stock.

Glamor Stocks Hit In Light Turnover

With about 45 minutes remaining, the UPI Market Indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a loss of 0.71 per cent on 1,528 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 861 declined, 390 advanced.

A four-hour turnover of 6,890,000 shares compared with 7,630,000 shares at a comparable period Friday.

Harry Laubscher, analyst for Walston & Co., said many glamor stocks were reacting to prospects of disappointing corporate earnings for the first quarter.

Among the day's most active issues were Xerox, Computer Sciences and Transamerican Corp.

Boosts Dividend

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—Directors of Beecham Inc. has boosted the quarterly dividend by 2½ cents to 20 cents per share, beginning with a payout June 1 to holders of record May 14.

Aircraft Lease

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Itel Corp. has said its equipment leasing division has arranged to lease two 747-131 aircraft costing approixmately $44 million to Trans World Airlines.

Xerox traded an early block of 175,000 shares at 85 off 2. Salaomon Brothers & Hutzler handled the big trade for institutions on both sides.

Computer Sciences said it is scrapping Computicket Corp., a subsidiary that sells theater and sports tickets throughout computer terminals.

Polaroid was under selling pressure in heavy turnover. Eastman Kodak, which traded narrowly, is preparing to challenge Polaroid in the instant camera field, according to an article in a business publication.
